PERFECT DAY FOR SAILING TO WORK

Ferries made a triumphant return to Tiburon today, resuming commuter service to San Francisco for the first time since interrupted by a strike June 3. Here, the Harbor Carriers vessel takes 96 commuters on the 8:30 a.m. run across the bay. The 7 a.m. ferry carried 259 passengers. En route under shining skies, they made the most of the coffee and doughnuts and the newspapers provided for the run. The first sailing came exactly seven hours after a new state law went into effect, permitting the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to operate ferries. On hand to cheer the resumption of service were city officials of Tiburon and Belvedere. (Independent-Journal photo)

Rockefeller Urges Latin Nations Pact

Security Idea In Special Report On South America

WASHINGTON (P) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller proposed to President Richard M. Nixon the creation of a Western Hemisphere Security Council to cope with the "forces of subversion" that operate throughout nations of the Inter-American Alliance.

Rockefeller also urged reversing the recent downward trend in U.S. grants for assisting the training of security forces in other western hemisphere countries.

The recommendations were included in Rockefeller's Latin American report to Nixon which had been kept secret since it was delivered to the President last Sept. 3. It was made public today by the White House.

The security recommendations were ignored by Nixon in his Oct. 31 Latin America policy statement. However, virtually all of the other proposals included in Nixon's statement were based on proposals by Rockefeller, who made a series of trips to the region in behalf of the President earlier this year.

"The purpose of the council would be to help the hemisphere countries work together in creating and preserving the kind of orderly envirionment, free from terror and violence, in which each citizen of each country can build a better life for himself and his family," Rockefeller said.

He urged that the council have its headquarters outside the United States. Of his recommendation for increasing security grants for Americans hemispheric neighbors Rockefeller said in the report:

"In view of the growing subversion against hemisphere governments, the mounting terrorism and violence against citizens, and the rapidly expanding population, it is essential that the training program which brings military and police personnel from other hemisphere nations to the United States and to training centers in Panama to be continued and strengthened."

Rockefeller said that Latin American military leaders had told him they were puzzled by the reduction of U.S. military assistance grants in view of the "growing intensity of the subversive activities they face."

He attributed the problem, in part, to Cuba's Fidel Castro.

"Castro's recent restatement of his policy indicates no change in objectives," Rockefeller said. "Rather he reaffirms his revolutionary concept and establishes a new set of priorities and conditions under which Cuban supports for revolutionaries will be given."

Rockefeller also urged that the United States respond to:

Requests for assistance of the police and security forces of the hemisphere nations by providing them with essential tools to do their job. Reasonable requests for truck jeeps, helicopters and like equipment should be met, he said.

Requests for military and technical training missions. He urged however that the United States eliminate the permanent military missions in Latin America which he said too often have "constituted too large and too visible the United States presence.

Requests for aircraft, ships and other military equipment. He urged that amendments prohibiting such sales under certain conditions be modified, saying they should be allowed for the more developed nations of the hemisphere to meet internal security needs.

Nixon Gets 'Excellent' Health Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon had a complete physical check-up today and his doctor, Walter R. Tkach reported that: "The President is in excellent physical condtion."

Nixon flew from the White House to the Naval Hospital in suburban Bethesda, Md. by helicopter and stayed for nearly two hours.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said that it was the usual annual physical examination and Nixon was given all the tests normally given to individuals undergoing such an examination.

It was Ziegler who relayed Tkach's quote that Nixon was in excellent shape.

Nixon's last physical was on Jan. 2 and another will be slated about a year from now.

Dr. Tkach supervised today's examination. Ziegler said tests included blood pressure, blood analysis and heart check. Ziegler added the tests interpreted were found to be in normal limits and Tkach expects the others to be.

"It was just a routine physical with a routine result," the President commented to newsmen as he left the hospital.

The President returned to the White House late yesterday after a long weekend in Florida and the Bahamas. From all accounuts, Nixon kept official business to a minimum during the holiday that began Thursday evening.

Three key cabinet members —Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell—spent the weekend at a hotel near Nixon's waterfront bungalow in Key Biscayne, Fla.

Agnew Continues War On Protesters

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew described Vietnam protest demonstrations today as a pointless "carnival in the streets" which proves nothing.

Agnew spoke out as both critics and backers of President Richard M. Nixon's policy began a week of demonstrations in the controversy over America's Vietnam War involvement.

Groups backing the President highlight their activities with Veterans Day ceremonies in Washington tomorrow. Critics plan a massive march and anti-war rally in Washington Saturday.

Agnew said, "The mob, the mobilization, the moratorium have become somewhat fashionable forms of citizen expression. They are negative in content, disruptive in effect. They inflame emotions rather than stimulate solutions."

Agnew called for recognition of "a silent young majority who go to school, and to work and to war if necessary."

He said they have been "overshadowed by the strident minority who arrogate unto themselves voice, virtue and power out of proportion to their numbers, and even more out of proportion to their abilities."

His speech was prepared for the National Municipal League, meeting in Philadelphia.

While a Republican and a Democratic senator became the first to announce they will participate in Saturday's mass rally to protest the war, Agnew urged Americans to "raise our voices in spirited defense of the most successful society the world has yet known.

Sens. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., and Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., announced they will address a Vietnam protest Saturday, breaking with a general hands-off attitude in the Senate.

The two war-policy critics issued a joint statement saying they will participate in the rally planned by the New Mobilization Committee.

The committee is still negotiating with the Justice Department for a parade permit covering the route of a mass march to that rally. Protest leaders had sought to parade down Pennsylvania Avenue past the White House, but the department refused to approve that route and said it would be blocked with force if necessary.

Senate critics of the war who had embraced the Oct. 15 Vietnam moratorium have generally declined involvement in the November protests.

On another front, several thousand troops across the country have been alerted to be ready for possible air-lifting to Washington in case violence erupts during this week's scheduled moratorium activities in the nation's capital.

The Pentagon acknowledged that the word to be ready had gone out, but declined to say which units or how many are involved.

Among troops outside Washington that could be made available in addition to a total of about 28,000 military personnel stationed in the city's area, it was known, are elements of the 82nd air borne division at Fort Brag, N.C.

Jerry Friedheim, Pentagon spokesman, acknowledged that forces outside a 100 mile radius of Washington were informed that they might be summoned to Washington.

100 Marin Youths Help Chart Future

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke called on delegates to a governor's youth conference today to decide the quality of life they want when they are adults.

Reinecke opened the two-day conference, one of two being held in the state, by noting that California's 20 million population is going to double in the next 30 years.

"We must double all the facilities of the state of California," he said.

Recommendations of youths proposed during the meeting, and one in Anaheim, will be put together to formulate California's presentation to the 1970 White House Conference on Children and Youth.

About 100 Marin County youth were among those on hand in Sacramento's Memorial Auditorium as Reinecke opened the meeting.

The invocation was given by Rev. John J. O'Connor, director of Roman Catholic Social Services in Marin County, who said, "Help us to build bridges between generations."

Jewell Barrow, Marin City, a young adult worker with Project Breakthrough in the Tamalpais School District, was asked what she thought would come from the conference.

"Nothing really is going to come out of it," she said, adding she was in Sacramento to see what government has to say about education, welfare and the like.

A total of 75 workshop sessions will be held including some "rap sessions" between the youngsters and legislators. Among the legislators on hand for the opening were Sens. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco and Lewis F. Sherman, R-Berkeley.

The keynote speaker was Daniel J. Ransohoff, community director of family services in Cincinnati.

14-Year-Old Is Foiled In Try To Hijack Plane In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 14-year-old Norwood, Ohio, boy threatened to hijack a Chicago-bound Delta Airlines passenger plane at the Greater Cincinnati Airport today but failed.

He was taken into custody before the plane left the ground.

An airport statement, issued after FBI agents arrived on the scene, identified the youth as David Lawrence Booth.

The girl he threatened was identified as Gloria Jean House, 18, of Milford, Ohio.

The airport statement said the youth approached Miss House at Delta Gate 5 and drew a butcher knife.

George East, the manager at the Delta station, said he talked with the boy and asked him where he wanted to go. He said the youth couldn't make up his mind.

Later, he said he wanted to go to Sweden.

East said the boy was told that the plane did not have enough fuel for the flight and that a DC9 would not make such a trip.

The boy then said he wanted to go to Mexico.

Delta officials said that to make a showing after the boy and his hostage boarded the plane, they taxied it to the runway, but it had been boarded by Byron Dickey, airport general manager, and Byron Kinman, airport police chief.

They walked in the front door as passengers were boarding.

Out on the runway, Kinman approached Booth and persuaded him to give up his hostage and the knife.

The plane then was brought back to the boarding gate.

The airport statement said "with fast, decisive action by Delta, the hijacking was averted."

There was no immediate word as to whether Miss House was waiting to board the plane or whether she merely had been standing at the gate.

Officers said the youth also had a bottle of ink with a wick in it and Miss House said he claimed it was a bomb.

Miss House had gone to the airport to see her grandmother, Mrs. Eulalia Armstrong of Cincinnati, off on a flight to Mexico City. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. House.

Asked if she knew why Booth happened to pick on her as a hostage, she said, "I don't know, maybe just because I was closest to him."

Booth was taken by FBI agents to the airport firehouse for questioning. Through a window, he could be seen weeping.

Price Of Gold Plunges Again

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold on the London free market plunged to its lowest level in 18 months today and dealers predicted further falls.

The price was fixed at $37.50 a fine ounce. This was 95 cents less than Friday's price and compares with a peak of $42.825 reached on March 10 this year at the height of the frenzied gold rush reflecting widespread loss of confidence in paper money.

Dealers said the slump in the metal was due to a rapidly growing confidence in paper money.

Closed Session On Herkenhoff

The Marin Junior College District board will sit in closed session with acting Supt.-President Louis H. Herkenhoff at 7:30 p.m. today in Herkenhoff's office to discuss his dismissal as superintendent - president when John A. Grasham assumes that post.

The meeting was called at Herkenhoff's request, according to Earlene Jones, public information officer at College of Marin.

The board last week announced Grasham's appointment as superintendent-president to end a nine-month search.

Herkenhoff, whose contract runs until June 30, 1970, has been acting superintendent-president since May 1968, after the resignation of William K. Ramstad from the post.

State Employees' Pay Hike Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Salary hikes of 5 to 10 per cent were proposed for state employees today by the State Personnel Board. The cost would be $37 million.

The recommendation is tentative. It came from a series of hearings the board held last week in Sacramento.

The board suggested a five per cent hike for about 80 per cent of the state's more than 100,000 workers and a 10 per cent hike for the rest.

"It is based on estimates of a lag in state salaries behind those in private industry and other governmental agencies by spring 1970," the board said in a press statement.

The 111,000-member California State Employes Association submitted a proposal last week for pay hikes totaling $191.5 million, ranging from 6 per cent to 22 per cent.

Bomb-Carrying Plane Crashes

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — A bombs plunged into the Mediterranean off the Sicilian coast today, an Italian Air Force general reported.

The U.S. 6th Fleet in Naples confirmed that a plane was down but declined to comment on the report about the bombs.

"We still don't know what kind of aircraft it was," said Gen. Enzo Giovanni, but he added the plane was armed with some kind of bombs.

Whether the bombs were nuclear was not reported.

Dolwig Will Seek Senate Reelection

SAN MATEO (UPI)—Republican Sen. Richard J. Dolwig of Atherton announced today he well seek reelection to his fifth straight term in the state Senate.

Dolwig, fifth in Senate seniority and chairman of the governmental efficiency committee, was first elected to the Senate in 1956. Previously, he was an assemblyman for 10 years.

Helicopter Pitch In Cutting Crime Rate

A proposal to fight crime from the air — more cheaply, more efficiently, more effectively than from the ground — was outlined today for Marin law enforcement officers in a meeting at the Civic Center.

The plan for instituting helicopter patrols was discussed by Richard P. Turley, regional sales manager for Hughes Helicopter of San Jose, currently the only kind being used for police patrol work.

Calling it "the first major breakthrough in law enforcement," Turley reported statistics from some of the 25 California cities now using helicopters with a resulting drop in the crime rate.

For example, in Lakewood near Los Angeles, there was an 8.8 per cent drop in the crime rate in an 18-month period, according to Turley, while a nearby city which did not use the helicopter had a 25.2 per cent increase during the same period.

Turley said the chopper is effective in deterring crimes such as car theft, burglaries, car clouts, vandalism and most everything else except homicide.

The drop in vandalism alone, he said, is covering the cost of the helicopter in some cities. In Lakewood, for example, there was a 67 per cent reduction in vandalism at schools in the first year of helicopter patrols.

He said Marin schools currently have $270,000 in vandalism annually and reducing that by a third would pay for operating the chopper.

The helicopter can also be used for traffic control, crowd control, rescues (it can land on the water) and for other city officials such as the building inspector.

It carries a crew of two and is usually in the air as an "eye in the sky" but it can land on a city street or in a back yard if necessary.

The helicopter costs $41,000 with floats for water landings and the firm guarantees an operating cost of $23.50 an hour, he said.

However, the chopper can patrol 35 square miles in five hours while a patrol can cover only one square mile.

Answering questions for the law enforcement officers and others attending, Turley said the chopper can be used in heavily wooded areas effectively but it cannot do well in fog, just as a patrol car has problems with fog.

Demos Unite In Bid To Oust Reagan, But For How Long?

FRESNO (AP) — California Democrats came away from a weekend conference today united by their desire to oust Gov. Ronald Reagan and Sen. George Murphy from office in the 1970 election.

They set out the issues at the conference with which to confront the Republicans.

But there was an uneasy feeling on the part of many of the leaders that all this harmony would come unglued in typical California Democratic fashion between now and voting day.

What could do it would be bitter primary fights over the nominations for governor and senator.

San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto and Assembly Democratic Leader Jesse M. Unruh are opening bidding for support for the gubernatorial nomination in the June 2 primary, even though months will elapse before the filing deadline. Each kept dropping hints that the other would — or should — drop out in the interests of party unity.

One man who believes Unruh and Alioto can go through a primary contest without wrecking the party's hopes of ousting Republicans Reagan and Murphy is Leon Cooper of Los Angeles, Southern California Democratic chairman and chairman of the weekend "Project 70" issues conference.

"A contested primary need not destroy our chances," Cooper said. "Reagan won a contested primary and we can too."

And he said the official party machinery would not be used in an effort to persaude either potential candidate to step aside for the other.

"No deals will be made," he said.

There are three open potential contenders for Murphy's seat— U. S. Reps. Phillip Burton of San Francisco, George Brown of Los Angeles and John V. Tunney of Riverside. A three-way race could put all three in jeopardy.

Most of the major noncandidates held open house throughout the weekend at hospitality suites. They shook hands and greeted conference delegates whole aides passed out campaign brochures and campaign buttons.

Appearing side-by-side during a panel discussion, Unruh and Alioto were in basic agreement on a varity of issues — from dealing with campus dissidents to tax reform.

They posed together for photographers.

But there was on open crossfire when Unruh's men distributed results of an opinion poll which they said showed Unruh was the clear choice of Democrats to tackle Reagan.

Alioto called the poll tactic "a power play" and said it was obviously the result of "a nervous stomach" on Unruh's part.

Haynsworth Draws 39th Senate Foe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., announced today he will vote against confirmation of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. as a Supreme Court justice, while Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., declared his support of the embattled nominee.

McIntyre's announcement brought to 39 the number of votes against Haynsworth in an Associated Press survey. Another 10 senators were counted as leaning against confirmation.

Including Dole, 36 senators are declared supporters of President Nixon's nominee.

"There has been an abundance of unjust criticism and unless there is some valid revelation not hertofore made, when the roll is called, I shall vote aye," Dole said in a statement.

But McIntyre said he felt the nomination of Judge Haynsworth "has proved to be most unfortunate." He said Haynsworth's record does not meet the "very high standards" required of a Supreme Court nominee.

Cong Document Backs Moratorium

SAIGON (AP) — A Viet Cong document found 30 miles east of Saigon calls for intensive attacks in that region this weekend to support the antiwar protest march on Washington Saturday, official sources said today.

The sources said the document was taken last Tuesday from the body of either a courier or a liaison officer who was killed in a firefight with Australian forces.

The directive, believed to have been issued by the Viet Cong's local headquarters at Vung Tau, was dated Oct. 27.

It said: "In support of the upcoming struggle of the American people for peace of South Vietnam and the withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Vietnam, we are to launch intensive attacks in all aspects on the enemy on Nov. 14-15."

The directive called on Viet Cong forces to kill officials representing the Saigon government in hamlets and villages "to gradually break loose the administrative grip and to accelerate the annihilation movement in support of the struggle campaign for peace which will be initiated by the American people on Nov. 15."

The allied sources said the directive may have been issued only for propaganda and psychological purposes to boost the morale of the Viet Cong and that the attacks may not be made.

Meanwhile, North Vietnamese troops kept up their pressure in the Mekong Delta and in the Central Highlands. In the delta they ambushed a South Vietnamese convoy and mauled a platoon of militiamen. In the highlands they attacked an American airfield.

Nine militiamen were killed and seven wounded when a North Vietnamese force overran an outpost manned by 35 men near the district town of Tri Ton in the Seven Mountains region. There was no word of enemy casualties.

The North Vietnamese at the same time shelled Tri Ton and another militia position nearby, wounding 11 civilians and three militiamen.

Freed GI Tells Of Good Red Treatment

SAIGON (AP) — One of the three GIs released by the Viet Cong last week says he would hesitate to fight them again because they treated him well, and the other two say the South Vietnamese army should take over the bulk of the fighting.

"I'd have to think twice" before fighting Viet Cong again, Pfc. Coy R. Tinsley of Cleveland, Tenn., said yesterday. "I was wounded. They took real good care of me."

But under questioning by newsmen, Tinsley said his attitude toward the war had not changed: "Our government thinks it's right—I think it's right."

Tinsley, Sp./4 Willie A. Watkins of Sumter, S.C., and Sp./4 James H. Strickland of Dunn, S.C., left Saigon Sunday for Japan. After spending the night at Yokota Air Base, the three 22-year-olds will arrive in the United States tomorrow.

In a news conference before leaving, the trio said they were given Viet Cong propaganda pamphlets to read and were allowed to listen to Radio Hanoi.

But Watkins, who was captured with Strickland in January 1968, said the Viet Cong "very seldom" tried to convince them the U.S. involvement in the war was wrong. He said the three spent a lot of time "talking and playing games of cards, checkers and chess."

Asked how he felt about the war, Watkins said the South Vietnamese army "should carry more responsibility than the American troops. I feel we just should give the ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) support. This is the way I thought all the time."

"I think that if the people here want to have a free government, they should fight for it," said Strickland. "My own opinion is that we've had too much to do with it. A lot of GIs have died here. It's time for the ARVNs to take over the war and fight it themselves."

Watkins said he "never did hate" the enemy.

"Due to the circumstances that we have two political forms of government altogether different, I consider them my enemies," he explained.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Denies Charge

ROME (AP) — Marvin Mitchelson, the California lawyer who is in Italy to look after the interests of plane hijacker Raphael Minichiello, denied today that he is here "as an agent of the American government."

He refused to say who had accused him of being an agent, but he asserted: "I have not been contacted by the State Department, the CIA or any other government body. I am not here to get him extradited to America."

He would not say, however, whether he would oppose a formal extradition request if one were received.

Mitchelson said he was asked to look out for the 20-year-old Marine corporal by Minichielli's mother and sister in Seattle, Wash., by his father in Italy, and by the defendant himself.

Estate Shrinks

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward (Daddy) Browning's estate, shrunken from $20 million when he died in 1934 to $684,000 has finally been settled.

Browning and Frances (Peaches) Heenan made headlines with their marriage in 1936, when he was 51 and she was 16, and a subsequent divorce with a spicy testimony.

Browning's will left his estate to a benevolent foundation, which will now receive what remains under a plan approved by a surrogate.

The will had been contested by a Browning ward, Dorothy Sunshine Browning, who received $2.6 million from the estate before her death in 1968.

Furniture Haul

CHICAGO (AP) — Burglars carted an estimated $500,000 worth of imported furniture out of a Chicago wholesale showroom yesterday.

A janitor, Allen Clover, 66, walked in on the thieves during the burglary and was bound and gagged as the robbers finished clearing the John Strauss showroom.

John Strauss, 50, the proprietor, set his loss at "at least $500,000" and said, "The showroom is bare." He added that many of the pieces required three or four men to lift and estimated that the thieves took six truckloads of furniture.

JAKARTA, Idonesia (AP) — President Suharto today named the commander of the Indonesian army as his top military leader and changed every other major military command.

Gen. Maradean Panggabean, a Christian from Sumatra, was named the new deputy commander of the armed forces and chairman of the new joint chiefs of staff. Suharto also appointed staff chiefs for the army, navy and air force and trimmed the military's many overlapping territorial commands to six.

Suharto himself is commander in chief of the armed forces and defense minister.

Wounded Policeman Reported Improved

Petaluma police officer Vilho Ahola, who was shot in the neck Friday, was reported as improved and in fair condition today with the extent of paralyzation still unknown.

Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital officials said Ahola, 42, had improved rapidly since umdergoing surgery to remove a bullet lodged next to the spinal cord. Police Chief Larry D. Higgins said it will be several days until the extent of paralyzation can be determined.

Ahola's accused assailant, Walter Lee Hale, 51, of 718 I Street, Petaluma, was scheduled for arraignment at 1:30 p.m. today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court. Police said he would be charged with assault with intent to commit murder on a police officer.

Ahola was shot Friday shortly before 11 a.m. when he was at the Hale home assisting Helen Hale in the removal of presonal items. The couple had had an argument the night before and Mrs. Hale said she was moving out of the home for her own protection.

Police said the officer was shot with a .25-caliber German made revolver in the living room of the home.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Royal Hunt' Shines As Brilliant As Sun

By KARL BARRON

"The Royal Hunt of the Sun," now being presented by the College of Marin Department of Drama at the College Theater, is the story of one of man's most incredible and infamous achievements. It is the conquest of 20 million Peruvian Indians by Francisco Pizzaro and his band of 167 men during the 16th Century.

Peter Shaffer's study of greed and Pizzaro's search for the meaning of life sets out to be an unbiased work, but as it progresses, tends to become weighted for the Peruvians and against the Spaniards, who conquer with the words of their own priests — "kill in the name of Christ" — goading them on.

Director James Dunn has given us one of his usual striking productions, with superb costuming by Alonso D. Gonzalez, and the role of Pizzaro enacted with commanding brilliance by professional guest actor David Ogden Stiers.

After slaughtering 3,000 Indians, Pizzaro holds as hostage Atahuallpa, sovereign Inca of Peru (Mark Rasmussen), and as ransom demands that a room 22 by 17 by 9 feet be filled with the "sweat of the sun" — gold. As they wait for the precious metal to accumulate, Pizzaro and Atahuallpa, "son of the Sun," become closely knit in one of the play's finest scenes. Rasmuseen performs a ritual dance with flawless ease, then commands Pizzaro to dance. The grizzled, lame, 63-year-old warrior attempts a fling and ends up prone, while both laugh helplessly.

Rasmussen gives his best performance to date as the Indian prince, managing to project regality without becoming stuffy, and achieving the sense of speaking another language without sounding like a TV redskin.

Shaffer says he saw the encounter as a conflict between "two immense and joyless powers. The Spaniard suspected joy as being unworthy of Christ. The Peruvian could hardly know it, since in his wholly organized world he was forbidden despair . . . both in a deep sense denied man-Europe, because of her comparative sense of "freedom" the more unforgivably.

Pizzaro, illegitimate son of a pig-herder, seeks the antidote for time, and ultimately finds that the Peruvian belief in the sun as the giver of life holds far more credibility than the god of his own priests. One of the play's highly amusing scenes has Atahuallpa derisively describing the Spaniards — "They eat their God!"

The play's climax comes as Pizzaro, persuaded that Atahuallpa may actually be reincarnated by the sun, is forced to keep the conqueror's advantage by having the Inca executed. With the dead Atahuallpa before him, Pizzaro realizes that time has once again beaten him, for he cannot hold "even a moment" of it.

Shaffer tends to hammer home his point, and "Royal Hunt" in less competent hands could become boring. Under Dunn's expert handling, his huge cast rips through mass slaughters, choreographed with consumate good taste, violent fights among Pizzaro's men, and ritual corn plantings, danced beautifully by a group of girls.

Lending fine support to Stiers and Rasmussen are Bruce Wittine, the narrator as a youth, Robert Deckelman as the old narrator, and many actors in minor roles. Thomas Littlefield's Fray Vincente is frenetic rather than fanatic, and Abe Kalish as the King's man is good, but at times unintelligible.

Technical director Edward K. Schoon deserves mention for the mechanical magnificence of the multi-petalled "sun" which dominates the stage and opens like a flower at the play's beginning.

"Royal Hunt" in its first production in the Bay Area, will be presented again Wednesday through Saturday nights at 8:30.

Philip Talks Of Money Pinch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, says the British royal family has had to tighten its belt because of the cost of living.

In a television interview yesterday, Philip noted that the royal family allowance of $1,100,000 a year has not been increased in 18 years and commented:

"We have a small yacht which we have had to sell, and I shall probably have to give up polo fairly soon, and things like that."

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Pedestrians Who Get Hit

Long ago walkers had a right equal to that of any vehicle to travel anywhere upon a public highway. When autos took over the roads, lawmakers sought rules for pedestrians and drivers, to cut down injuries and to use the roads efficiently.

Since 1929 the law requires pedestrians walking outside a business or residential area to keep to the left edge of the highway, facing oncoming traffic. Otherwise, if injured, he cannot recover damages out of his own negligence.

Once he is properly on the left side of the road, no law requires him to look back. But he ought to look anyway, for his own safety.

Walking from his home to a night band practice at his school, Bobby Boots wore a dark uniform. Since he had shined his marching shoes, he walked on the paved left side to keep them clean.

Going in the same way, a motorist passed another car just where Bobby was walking. Too late, he saw Bobby and hit him. Bobby sued the motorist. The driver claimed that had Bobby been on the shoulder the accident would not have happened.

The court ruled for Bobby. He had been on the left side of the road. Although he still must use due care, he had a right to expect motorists to see him and not hit him.

No walkers are allowed on freeways on pain of a fine or a jail sentence.

Pedestrians must also use tunnels or overhead crossings when they can.

It is unlawful for hitchhikers to stand on the roadway to solicit a ride, and the motorist who stops and blocks traffic by picking up a hitchhiker may be cited for impeding traffic.

Pedestrians cause needless injuries when they leave the curb suddenly or jaywalk, run in a rainstorm, or just don't look where they are going. In such cases their own negligence usually bars any financial recovery from a motorist who hits them.

Woman Is Held At Gunpoint For Nearly 24 Hours

A Sausalito woman was released unharmed Saturday night near Marin City, after being held at gunpoint for nearly 24 hours by a man who forced her into his car in San Francisco Friday night.

Vicki A. Schultz, of Gate 5, told sheriff's deputies the man, described as 35 to 40 years of age, six feet tall with reddish hair, forced her into his auto, a Mustang, as she walked on California Street.

The woman said he held a gun on her and drove over the Golden Gate Bridge to Marin County, where they spent Friday night driving around San Rafael and Sausalito.

Miss Schultz said the man appeared to know the area well.

About 4 a.m. Saturday, the man took her to her houseboat home, where he held her captive until 7 p.m. then drove her to an area near Marin City and released her unharmed.

Miss Schultz called sheriff's deputies in Marin City.

Clausen Asks Nixon's Help Over Firing

WASHINGTON — Rep. Don H. Clausen R-First District, today asked President Richard M. Nixon to intercede in the firing of A. Ernest Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald recently testified before congressional committees on the "cost overrun" of the proposed C-5 aircraft. The Defense Department dismissed Fitzgerald on Nov. 4 in what it called an "economy move". Clausen believes, however, that more than likely the firing of Fitzgerald was a "punitive measure taken because he refused to try to rationalize the waste, inefficiency, and bureaucratic bungling he came across in the Pentagon."

The President and the cabinet members finally talked during the flight back to Washington aboard Air Force One.

Mrs. Nixon made the Florida trip with her husband but kept her own schedule.

Two Youths Sentenced On Robbery

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Two youths who robbed the United California Bank in San Rafael on Aug. 13 have received prison sentences in U.S. District Court.

Driver Bruised, Avoiding Auto

RALPH CAIN

Ralph Cain, 53, a former resident of San Rafael, died yesterday at his home in Willows, Butte County, after a long illness.

Cain, who lived in Marin for more than 20 years, was one of the original owners of Trailorboat, Engineering Co., San Rafael.

He sold his interest in the firm in 1966 when he moved to Willows. Since then he had operated a small marine repair shop and had maintained his interest in a real estate firm.

A native of Jay County, Indiana, he attended Indiana schools and the University of Dayton, Ohio. He was a veteran of World War II.

He had been a member of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Survivors are his wife, Shirley Cain, and a daughter, Candice Cain, both of the home.

Discoverer Of Pluto Dies At 93

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (UPI)—Dr. Vesto Melvin Slipher, an internationally known astronomer who supervised a search which led to the discovery of the planet Pluto, is dead at the age of 93.

Slipher, who headed Lowell Observatory here when Pluto was discovered, died Saturday at a nursing home here.

Extensive investigation by Dr. Slipher in 1930 resulted in the determination of the rotation periods of the planet and its discovery—the only planet discovered in the 20th Century.

He also was credited with the discovery of the permanent aurora-like radiations of the night sky, their nocturnal intensity changes and the existence of interstellar material such as sodium and calcium scattered through space.

He also discovered molecular bands in the planetary spectrum and ultimately identified the atmospheric composition of the bands as methane and ammonia.

Dr. Slipher came here in 1901 to begin an association with Percival Lowell. Following Lowell's death in 1916 he was named director of the Lowell Observatory, a post he held until 1954.

A native of Mulberry, Ind., Dr. Slipher was graduated from Indiana University in 1901.

He was presented the Lalande Prize and Gold Medal of the Paris Academy of Sciences in 1919; the Henry Draper Medal of the National Academy of Sciences in 1932; the Gold Medal of the Royal Astronomical Society of London in 1933; and the Bruce Gold Medal of the Astronomical Society of the Pacific in 1935.

Funeral services will be held here Wednesday, burial will follow at Citizens Cemetery.

Police Will Wear American Flags

SPARKS, Nev. (AP) — American flags will become part of city policemen's uniforms here, Chief Robert Galli said Friday.

Galli said three-by five-inch cloth flags will be sewn to the uniforms, probably over the right breast pocket.

Palomar Observers Find New Clusters

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists at the California Institute of Technology have found new star clusters they say may be a missing link in the evolution of the universe.

In some ways, the objects resemble the mysterious star-like bodies called quasars, said Dr. J.B. Oke, staff astronomer at Palomar and Mt. Wilson observatories.

Quasars are the brightest, fastest moving and most distant objects known to man. The new galaxies, like quasars, emit powerful radio signals and have brilliant cores, Oke said yesterday.

But unlike quasars, he said, the new bodies seem to have spiral arms, like our own Milky Way galaxy. A Caltech spokesman said it was possible the spiral arms represent an early stage in the development of quasars.

The spokesman added, however, that scientists are still not certain of the exact relationship between the newly discovered clusters and quasars.

"The extreme brightness (of the new galaxies) seems to come not from a denser concentration of stars in the center of the galaxy but from some violent explosion involving the entire nucleus," Oke said.

Evidence of the existence of the objects was gathered by a $250,000 instrument called a photoelectric spectrometer attached to the 200-inch telescope atop Palomar Mountain in San Diego County.

Halt In Vietnam Spending Urged

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Nobel prize winner Dr. Linus Pauling said today the United States must stop "wasting its human and physical resources" on military establishments.

While the people of the world have outgrown war, Dr. Pauling said, "our leaders have not." In a speech prepared for delivery at the annual convention of the Geological Society of America, Pauling said heads of state must understand that war can serve no useful function.

"They must respond to the desires and needs of the world's citizens," he said.

The government must be made to use the $30 billion spent per year on the Vietnam War for improving the well-being of the poor, Dr. Pauling said.

CTA Will Lead Drive For Funds

LOS ANGjELES (UPI)—The California Teachers Association plans to lead a drive to place a state constitutional initiative on the June 1970 ballot which would force the state to provide 50 per cent of the financial support for local schools.

The CTA's State Council of Education voted the resolution Saturday, pledging to take the leadership in circulating petitions for the measure.

Jack D. Rees, executive secretary for the 170,000-member organization, said the initiative would allow California voters to examine the present priority assigned to education. The state now ranks 42nd in the percentage of its income alloted to education, he said.

Los Angeles County Leads Agency Count

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Alpine County, with fewer residents than any other county, shares one distinction with the state's most densely populated area, San Francisco County:

Each has fewer special governing districts — four — than any other California county.

That fact emerged yesterday from a report by State Controller Houston I. Flournoy on the special local districts which provide services such as mosquito abatement or cemetery operation.

It covered the year ending June 30, 1968. Flournoy said Los Angeles County led the state with 342 special districts, followed by San Joaquin County with 165.

He noted there now are 51 types of special districts, for a total of 3,811, a rise of 138 for fiscal 1967-68, the biggest jump in 13 years.

The revenue they collected for that year came to $1.58 billion, and expenditures to $1.48 billion.

Tiburon Citizens To Host Veterans Lunch Tomorrow

Wounded Vietnam veterans from Hamilton Air Force Base, Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland and Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco will be treated to a wild duck and pheasant Veterans' Day luncheon tomorrow at the Corinthian Yacht Club in Tiburon by a group of Tiburon Peninsule residents.

The civic project, organized by Tiburon Sheriff's Lt. William Johansen, Clarence English and Fred Mantegani, Tiburon merchants, will begin at 11 a.m. when more than 60 wounded veterans will arrive at the yacht club by bus.

Residents will greet the veterans and participate in a reception held inside the club. Each veteran will be sponsored by one member of the community, according to Johansen.

Entertainment, guest sports celebrities and demonstrations by army helicopters, a Coast Guard cutter and possibly a San Francisco fire-boat will be part of the day's festivities.

Everyone in the community is invited to join in the Veteran's Day celebration, Johansen said, but only the vets will get to eat the luncheon.

No dimes were minted in 1932.

Israel Will Be Model For Group

Israel will be represented this year by the students of Sir Francis Drake High School at the Model United Nations conference in February in Berkeley.

The students will study the people, culture and politics of the country before the conference, according to Annette Lareau, chairman of Drake's delegation

Others in the Drake delegation will be Daniel Schwab, Myk Herndon and Richmond Young, seniors; Debbie Celle, Robert Morgan, Channing May and Larry Gold, juniors, and Leanna Herndon and Margo Van Riper, sophomores. Duane Miller, history teacher, is advisor to the group.

Angela Davis Clears The Air

NEW YORK (UPI)—Angela Davis, the philosophy teacher whom UCLA tried to dismiss because she is a Communist, said yesterday she actually was under fire as a supporter of black revolutionary causes.

Miss Davis, 25, said she favored Marxist techniques in the Black Panther Party's campaign for black revolution. She complained that, during the controversy between her and the Califonria Board of Regents, her case was misrepresented simply as a Communist issue.

"If my job gets in the way of me doing my thing to liberate my people, I will have to give it up," she said at a news conference.

Park-Rec Commission To Decide On Senior Program

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission is scheduled to decide Wednesday whether to continue financial aid to senior citizen programs in various municipalities.

The county had said it would provide aid only for the first three years of the programs, but now will decide whether to continue the assistance. Many of the programs are in their third year.

Other items before the commission, which will meet at 2 p.m. in the Civic Center, include a report on the formation of the county youth commission, preservation of marine life at Duxbury Reef and Agate Beach and reports on Bolinas Lagoon and its transfer from the jurisdiction of the Bolinas Harbor District to the county.

North America has some 700 different kinds of butterflies.

The White House is the oldest public building in Washington.

Reading Tests Report Is Due

A report on reading tests in the primary grades will be given to the San Rafael Board of Education at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the administration building.

Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, has announced that statewide tests have shown that California students are reading better.

The board also will consider reassigning Wayne Boone, assistant principal at San Rafael High School, to assistant superintendent of instructional services at a salary of $20,000 per year.

The board will also hear a report on book purchasing procedures.

Discussion Set On New Building

A use permit for an office building overlooking the Civic Center will be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at city hall.

American Life Insurance Co. of California seeks to build a five-story, 90,000 square-foot building with 380 parking spaces north of the Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

The commission also will consider architectural approval for a two-story, 24,200-square-foot building with 80 off street parking spaces for Western Travelers Life Insurance Co. at 525 Northgate Drive.

The commission will also discuss possible revisions in the fence height standards and the pending Civic Center annexation.

TV Set Stolen

A portable television set valued at $68 was reported stolen Friday from the display window of the Sewing, Vacuum and Television Center, 113 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma, police reported today.

A TOUCH OF OLD ENGLAND

Flanked by foxhounds, members of the Los Altos Hunt Club (above), ride along a road near Nicasio on yesterday's hunt. Hunt member Niels Schultz Jr. (left) of Greenbrae rides to the hounds fully attired in top hat, scarlet coat and riding boots. The club rode drag hunts Saturday and yesterday, the hounds following a fox scent laid down in advance. While Nicasio is thick with foxes, the club does not hunt them because of barbed wire fences which horses can't see to jump. Instead, member William McDevitt said, the club follows a drag trail which leads to sections of wood fence which the horses can jump. Some 30 riders, led by hunt master Eugene Rettig of Woodside, followed the pack of 24 hounds. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

Nixon Asked To Restore Cancer Fund

Parents of Marin County children afflicted with leukemia have asked President Richard M. Nixon's aid in restoring nearly $5 million recommended to be cut from the administration's cancer research appropriation.

In a letter to Nixon, the parents, who have organized themselves into a group known as the Candlelighters, note that the Nixon administration recommended for cancer research is more than $4 million lower than that appropriated by the federal government over the past three years.

The National Cancer Institute asked for a $245 million appropriation for 1970-71, the same amount it has requested for the past three years, the parents said in the letter, for the past three years an annual allocation of $185 million has been approved for cancer research but this year the administration's recommendation cut that amount to $180,750,000, the parents said.

If the cuts are approved, the parents said, 19, research centers will be closed.

Tam Students Oppose Vietnam War In Poll

Sixty-nine per cent of Tamalpais High School students "strongly protest" the war in Vietnam while 7 per cent "strongly support" it, a poll taken by the Tamalpais High School news bureau has shown.

In addition, 91 per cent of the 900 students polled — which is half of the student body — favor some form of American withdrawal from the war. The poll showed 57 per cent backing immediate withdrawal while 34 per cent said they think the war should be de-escalated in a series of withdrawals.

Of teachers polled, the news bureau reported 20 felt the U.S. should immediately withdraw while 22 favored a phased withdrawal. Three teachers strongly supported the war while 32 opposed it.

There was sharp disagreement on whether the school should close for Friday's moratorium activities, which also is the school's homecoming eve. The bureau said 65 per cent of the students polled thought the school should close while 31 per cent opposed it. Four per cent didn't answer.

The moratorium drew considerable support with 83 per cent of the students saying the school should have some official observation of the moratorium while 13 per cent opposed any school observance.

The news bureau reported confusion and disagreement among the students about the purpose and effectiveness of the Oct. 15 moratorium with 45 per cent of those polled saying it was effective and 36 per cent saying it was not. Almost two-thirds of those polled said they participated in the Oct. 15 moratorium activities.

Novato Man Is Booked In Probe Of Marijuana

A Novato man, whose house was being searched for evidence in a safe burglary, was arrested at 1:15 a.m. today on suspicion of possession of marijuana, Novato police reported.

Booked into Marin County Jail was Gregg Ernest Bartolomei, 23, of 1418 Buchanan Street. He was to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Bartolomei's house was being searched for evidence in connection with the burglary of a safe and theft of contents valued at $922 from Shamrock Materials Inc. at 7552 Redwood Highway sometime between 5:30 p.m. Thursday and 6:30 a.m. Friday, police reported. Police found a plastic bag containing vegetable matter thought to be marijuana in Bartolomei's pants pocket, according to reports.

Thousands Pay BART A Visit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Thousands of people responded to an invitation from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District yesterday and walked several hundred feet into the new underwater tube linking San Francisco and Oakland.

The 3.6-mile shaft is scheduled to become a central part of the BART system of speeding trains when other construction is completed in 1971 or 1972.

A head-count was not available, but the visitors formed block-long lines and waited more than an hour before portals were opened to the public for the first time.

Parking Policies Will Be Discussed

A discussion of parking policies in Larkspur is planned for the Thursday meeting if the city planning commission, set for 8 p.m. in city hall.

The planners will also consider a landscaping plan for the Bayside Convalescent Hospital on South Eliseo Drive.

Shriver Held Bidding For Senator Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Sargent Shriver, long seeking an opportunity to run for elective office, is making a serious bid for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Illinois, according to sources close to the diplomat.

And they say the U.S. ambassador to France is receiving help from organization Democrats who oppose the candidacy of Adlai E. Stevenson III.

The sources say Shriver, who visited Chicago recently as part of a four-state speaking trip, has been approached by Democratic officials not only in Illinois, but in Maryland where he is a possible candidate for governor.

He reportedly is awaiting more concrete evidence of interest.

One thing that could keep him out of the Illinois contest is Stevenson's threat to force a primary fight.

While in Chicago, Shriver had lunch with two top lieutenants of Mayor Richard J. Daley, Rep. Daniel Rostenkowski, D-Ill., and Circuit Court Clerk Matt Danaher.

"I had an interesting meeting with an interested party," said Rostenkowski, who is chairman of the Illinois slate makers who will choose the organization candidate for the Senate later this month.

"He is a very outstanding citizen and could possibly be considered as a candidate for the presidency in two years," the Chicago congressman told a reporter.

Rostenkowski said he considers Shriver, brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy and former head of the Chicago school board, as an Illinois resident.

Tribunal To Review Conflict Over Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review a conflict between California law and federal regulations over how to take account of a stepfather's income when figuring aid to dependent children.

The court will hear arguments later this term on a case brought by women with children against various welfare officials of San Francisco, Alameda and San Mateo counties. A written opinion will follow.

A special three-judge federal court in San Francisco on Dec. 23, 1968, upheld the state law and found the federal regulations unconstitutional.

The Social Security Act provides that a state shall, in determining children's need, take into account any other income available for their support. Regulations issued under the statute by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) permit consideration of the income of a man assuming the role of spouse only if there is "proof of actual contribution."

California law, on the other hand, requires an adult male assuming the role of spouse to support the children in the home if he is able.

UPHOLDS POLICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the power of university police to arrest students for displaying "disruptive" antiwar signs during silent protests of the Vietnam War.

The court took this step by refusing to review the conviction of Robert K. Zwicker, a student at the University of Wisconsin who held up a picture of a napalmed boy outside a university placement office. The vote was 7 to 1.

Zwicker was sentenced in Dane County Circuit Court in 1967 to a fine of $100 or 30 days in jail. His appeal claimed the state's disorderly conduct law was too vague to be constitutional and that it had been used to suppress his freedom of speech.

TOPLESS RULE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected today the appeal of a topless dancer who claimed bare-breasted performances are protected by the U.S. Constitution from criminal prosecution.

The dancer, Carol Derrington, 24, was convicted in Portland, Ore., in 1966 of violating a city ordinance aimed at topless entertainers. She was fined $200.

The court made no comment in turning its back on her appeal.

FREEDOMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected today a bid by a number of Louisiana school districts to legalize the freedom of choice system of school desegregation.

The school districts had asked the Supreme Court to review a decision of the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans which held that the freedom of choice plans were unacceptable after they had been approved by two district courts.

The ruling was issued without comment.

The appeal was filed by Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion on behalf of 36 Louisiana parish scoool districts and two city school systems, which had been threatened with loss of federal funds unless they filed acceptable plans with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The school districts argued that forced integration to achieve racial balance violated the spirit of the court's 1954 school desegregation decision and would prove traumatic to the local communities.

The Supreme Court ruled last year that freedom of choice plans are not acceptable if they fail to achieve adequate desegregation of schools.

POSTAL PAY

WASHINGTON (AP-) — Some 450,000 Post Office workers won a victory today in the Supreme Court when the justices let stand a ruling that liberalizes overtime pay.

The ruling, given last February by an appeals court here, was challenged by the government as a misinterpretation of federal pay law. In seeking a hearing the government contended the ruling would cost the Treasury more than $100 million through this year.

But the high court, which is generally inclined to review decisions of lower courts that went against the government, decided in this instance to reject the government's appeal.

Four Hurt In Novato Car Crashes

One person was hospitalized and three others treated for injuries in two separate accidents in Novato over the weekend.

Laurence C. Thomas, 36, of 460 Corte Escuela, Novato, was in good condition today with injuries to his head, according to Novato General Hospital.

He was injured when his car hit the approach to the Novato Creek Bridge as he was southbound on Highway 101 at 12:39 a.m. yesterday, police reported.

Arthur J. Tracy, 78, of Long Beach, was treated for a bruised knee at Novato General Hospital.

The Tracy car, northbound on Highway 101 south of Diablo Avenue, had motor trouble and stalled at 10:58 p.m., Saturday, police reported. It was hit in the rear by one driven by Charles F. Hall, 40, of Santa Rosa, according to police.

Hall was treated for bruises to his face and chest at Novato General Hospital. His wife, Betty Hall, 40, was treated for bruises to her arms and body, according to the hospital records.

Burglars Enter Parked Autos At School Lot

Thieves burglarized four cars parked in the San Rafael High School parking lot Saturday during the football game, police reported today.

A stereographic tape deck and eight tapes valued at $205 were stolen from the car of Jeffrey C. Watson, 18, of 288 Orris Terrace, Santa Venetia and a stereo tape deck and tapes calued at $150 were taken from the car of Michael J. Morgon, 16, of 331 Arias Street, San Rafael.

Leather gloves valued at $15 were taken from the car of Dr. Frank M. Demby by a thief who broke the right wing window and stereophonic equipment valued at $319 and a $15 jacket were removed from the car of William J. Clinch Jr., 18, of 50 Cornell Avenue, Larkspur.

New Law Held Curtailing Aid To Needy Students

By ALAN KORNFELD
(I-J Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO — State college chancellor Glenn Dumke and a new California statute is threatening the special admissions program for underprivileged students at San Francisco State College, claims program director Reginald Majors.

The Educational Opportunity Program, according to Majors, will be severely curtailed tomorrow when a law authorted by Sen. John Harmer, R-Glendale, and passed last July, becomes effective.

Under the new law, EOP students will have to be nominated by their high school principals and selected by the board of trustees of the state college system.

According to Dumke's interpretation the law covers not only future EOP students, but retroactively all students now in the two-year-old program.

Majors argued that the trustees may use their new power to eliminate political enemies on campus. Most of the 150 EOP students at San Francisco Majors explained, supported last year's student strike and now may face dismissal from the program for their political beliefs.

"Nominations by high school principals in a state where most high schools are lily white," Majors added "will tend to shift the emphasis of the program away from minority students."

"All EOP students accepted in September will now have to qualify, according to a set of standards that did not exist at the time they enrolled," said Majors.

He termed the new restrictions "racist," insofar as primarily Third World students are affected.

EOP students at San Francisco State, meanwhile, who have been promised financial aid when they first came to college, are waiting in limbo for endorsements from former high school principals and acceptance by the trustees.

"You have just been required to attempt to succeed in college without additional money for instruction, without knowing whether or not you are in or out of EOP," Majors told the students in a letter.

A freshman girl outside Majors' office bitterly complained, "The only way I thought of college was EOP. It was a stairway."

Seven black students, unable to get their EOP subsidy, have been served eviction notices from dormitories for inability to pay rent.

Students in EOP receive between $200 and $700 a year in financial aid and are enrolled in special tutorial classes. Administration of the program at San Francisco State is partly handled by the Sausalito Teacher Education Project.

Majors and Donald Garrity, the colleges' vice president in charge of academic affairs, expect to meet soon with Dumke in an attempt to persuade the chancellor to alter his views on the Harmer bill.

New Officers Are Announced

W. Bruce Shafer of Sausalito has been elected president of the Marin County Real Estate Board for 1970.

William J. Bush if San Rafael was elected vice president, Donald Beacock of Corte Madera, secretary, and Ezilda Torre of San Anselmo treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were Harold Strouss of San Rafael, Robert Dolman, Corte Madera; Stephen Kramer, San Rafael; William M. Nelson Jr. Tiburon, and Joe Wright of Novato.

Burton's Group Backs Moratorium

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblyman John Burton announced today the full support of the California Democratic Council, which he heads, for this month's Vietnam Moratorium observance.

Burton, D-San Francisco, also told a news conference he expects the Nixon administration to escalate "repression of the peace movement."

He accused Vice President Spiro T. Agnew of "stirring the pot of the right wing and the kooks and the yahoos" so President Richard M. Nixon will have support in case he decides to escalate the fighting in Vietnam.

The California Democratic Council long has been an opponent of the war. Burton said he would address a Vietnam moratorium rally in San Diego Saturday.

Donations Set By Bridge Unit

Marin Unit of the American Contract Bridge League will contribute to five charities this year, president Kenner Foote announced today.

The bridge group will donate $110 to each of the following: Cerebral Palsy, California Association for Handicapped Children, Marin Association for Retarded Children and the Lutheran Home of the Good Shepherd.

Sunny Hills in San Anselmo will receive proceeds from the annual Christmas party scheduled for 7 p.m. Dec. 14 at the Crossley Bridge Club, 714 C Street, San Rafael.

On Nov. 28, the Marin unit will participate in a nationwide charity game at the San Rafael Bridge Studio, 215 West End Avenue, San Rafael. This game will start at 8:15 p.m.

Pickets Burn Guard's Car In Plant Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Union pickets burned a guard's car, stoned two sheriff's cars and a fire truck and smashed windows at a Westinghouse Corp. plant today in a local walkout over a contract dispute, the sheriff's office said.

The pickets surrounded a car attempting to enter the plant at daybreak and began rocking it but six police cruisers arrived and broke up the disturbance. The car was driven away from the plant.

No injuries were reported.

Patrolman Dale Clark of the Franklin Township Police Department said most of the windows in the front of the building were broken.

Firemen were called after a telephone pole was set ablaze and one of the fire trucks was stoned, the sheriffs office said.

About 4,000 workers at the plant went on strike at midnight while national union officials recommended that Westinghouse workers across the country were to continue working on a day-to-day basis during negotiations for a new contract.

James Humphreys, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers Local 746, said the midnight walkout was authorized, because the national negotiations do not apply to local issues.

Negotiations on these issues, including job transfers and the use of salaried personnel of production jobs, broke off Friday.

Unionized employees at the Westinghouse plant in Bellefontaine, 75 miles northwest of Columbus, also struck at midnight. A plant spokesman said the strike was "very peaceful and quiet."

Bellefontaine's strikers are members of IUEW Local 1167. The plant has more than 300 employees and makes laundry equipment.

Recreation Center Action Scheduled

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation commission is scheduled to act on the proposed community recreation center building plans at a meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at city hall.

The plans will be reviewed by Architect Robert W. F. Severin. The proposal is to build a recreation center adjacent to Albert Park Field, a plan which is expected to require a bond issue.

Feud Sends Two Men To Court

Two feuding Tiburon neighbors were booked into Marin County Jail yesterday afternoon on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon after a fight about a property line.

Nathaniel Marans, 51, of 2312 Spanish Trail Road was released on his own recognizance and ordered to appear in Marin Municipal Court today. James L. Green, 49, of 2300 Vista Delmar Lane was freed on $1,250 bail and also ordered to appear in court today.

Sheriff's deputies said the men placed each other under citizen's arrest and called authorities after the fight, in which Green allegedly used a fence post and Marans allegedly wielded garden clippers.

Discussion Slated On Russian River

A discussion session on the Russian River water project will be held at the meeting of Marin Municipal Water District directors at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the district office.

The project is a multimillion dollar plan to import additional water supplies to Marin for projected needs. A bond issue is expected to be the major method of financing.

Black Point Master Plan On Agenda

The Black Point planned community master plan will be up for adoption by the Novato Planning Commission at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

John E. Kenney has submitted plans for the development which will have 200 single-family homes, 300 apartments and 1,800 mobile home sites as well as a shopping center and a 75 acre lake on 710 acres west of Black Point and south of Highway 37.

The commission held a public hearing on it on Oct. 7 at which time the majority of homeowners associations and the audience were against the mobile homes, at that hearing, the commission announced that it would not adopt the plan until Kenney had made changes requested by the city staff.

Other items to come before the commission include use permits requested by William Wentworth for a car wash on the east side of Highway 101 north of Vallejo Avenue and Dr. John R. Glassmaker for a veterinary clinic on Highway 101 south of Olive Avenue.

The commission will receive the opinion of City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. on the retention of zone classifications when an area is annexed to the city from the county.

Concessions Closed

Tour train and bicycle rental facilities at Angel Island State Park have been closed for the winter, according to the state Department of Parks and recreation. The park will remain open for boating, picnicking, sightseeing and hiking, however.

Do Something Group To Fix 14 Tricycles

A major project of the Do Something group at Sir Francis Drake High School will be repairing and painting of 14 tricycles for children all day tomorrow, according to publicity chairman Steven Gneri.

The group will spend next Saturday doing clean-up work at the Audubon Ranch near Bolinas.

Other projects which the group have planned for the month are the tutoring of a Fairfax boy who cannot read by James Phelps, a juniro, and a concert at the Ross General Hospital psychiatric ward.

In the past six weeks the group has raised more than $110 from the slave auction of senior football players and selling cakes. This money will be sent to the school's sister school in Mexico, Gneri said.

HELPING TO meet part of the transportation needs, volunteer driver Gail Wallace picks up passenger Mike Borruso in San Rafael to drive him to a medical appointment in Terra Linda. Car and driver are provided each Monday by the Pacific Telephone Co.

Volunteers With Wheels Can Make Things Happen In Marin

By BARBARA HOSMER

It's a truism that to go anywhere in Marin you have to jump into the car and drive there.

But what if you are ill and can't jump? Or what if the budget doesn't allow a car?

The urgent need for volunteers to drive crippled, elderly or chronically ill persons to medical appointments, recreation programs, therapy and clinics has been the cause for a bevy of Marin agencies to despair about serving many persons who need aid.

They've had to turn people away who require rides to make use of available and needed health and recreation services in Marin. Crippled and post-stroke persons require transportation to special recreation programs; the aged need rides for shopping, medical appointments and senior programs; cancer and emphysema patients need to attend medical clinics and treatment centers; children of low income homes need rides for dental and health appointments, Head Start and child care programs; retarded persons need assistance to attend the MARC Training Center.

Buses run infrequently and may not stop near enough to the hospital, clinic or recreation center. A crippled, elderly or ill person may be unable to climb aboard a bus and often cannot walk to and from the bus stop.

Taxis are simply too costly for regular use.

REPRESENTATIVES OF many Marin agencies in need of volunteer drivers have formed a committee, meeting at the Volunteer Bureau of Marin in San Rafael, to discuss their common problem. Of the group only the Cancer Society reported that it has almost enough drivers, some 140 volunteers to drive patients to medical appointments and therapy.

Mrs. James P. Costello of the Cancer Society said that the volunteers are organized on a local basis by town chairmen and are largely persons who have had some contact with the disease of cancer through family or friends. More drivers are needed, however, to transport patients to San Francisco for cobalt treatments, she said.

Often Marin General Hospital arranges patient appointments so that several patients can ride there in a single car, Mrs. Costello said.

Agencies with their own vehicles, such as the Red Cross Chapter, are in need of drivers also. Red Cross volunteers provide transportation for patients to medical appointments upon referral from physicians or Marin agencies, but the need is greater than the chapter can supply. By careful scheduling the Red Cross vehicles have been putting in some 295 hours a month.

Marin General Hospital's station wagon, given by a Marin merchant with the stipulation that it be used only to transport patients to and from the hospital, averages 2,000 miles a month, reports Mary Miller, hospital director of Volunteers. Mrs. Miller said that all drivers are members of the hospital Volunteers. Currently, she said, more women are needed to drive during evening hours.

The Senior Coordinating Council uses its bus and paid driver, funded by the Economic Opportunity Council, to transport senior citizens, mainly to shopping centers. It must serve an area from Novato to Marin City, with the needs greater than it can meet. The MARC Training Center has a station wagon to assist its program and has used volunteer drivers.

OFTEN A close friendship develops between the driver volunteers and their regular passengers, the agencies reported. The drivers begin to take a personal interest and in some cases they develop a new understanding of the needs of a patient with emphysema or a handicap.

The agencies are currently attempting to see if they can pool some of their resources or combine scheduling in certain instances to provide rides to common areas.

"Scheduling alone takes hours and hours," says Marion Kelley executive director of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin. The bureau meets part of its transportation needs with the Monday car and driver provided each week by the Pacific Telephone Company. Volunteer Sue Hicks, who schedules use of the car, has agreed to look into possible combined agency scheduling.

Mrs. Kelley said that currently the Volunteer Bureau car transports some 10 to 12 persons each Monday to appointments, by riding several at once through a carefully drawn schedule.

"But we're turning away more ride requests than we are taking. We get two or three calls a day we can't handle," she said.

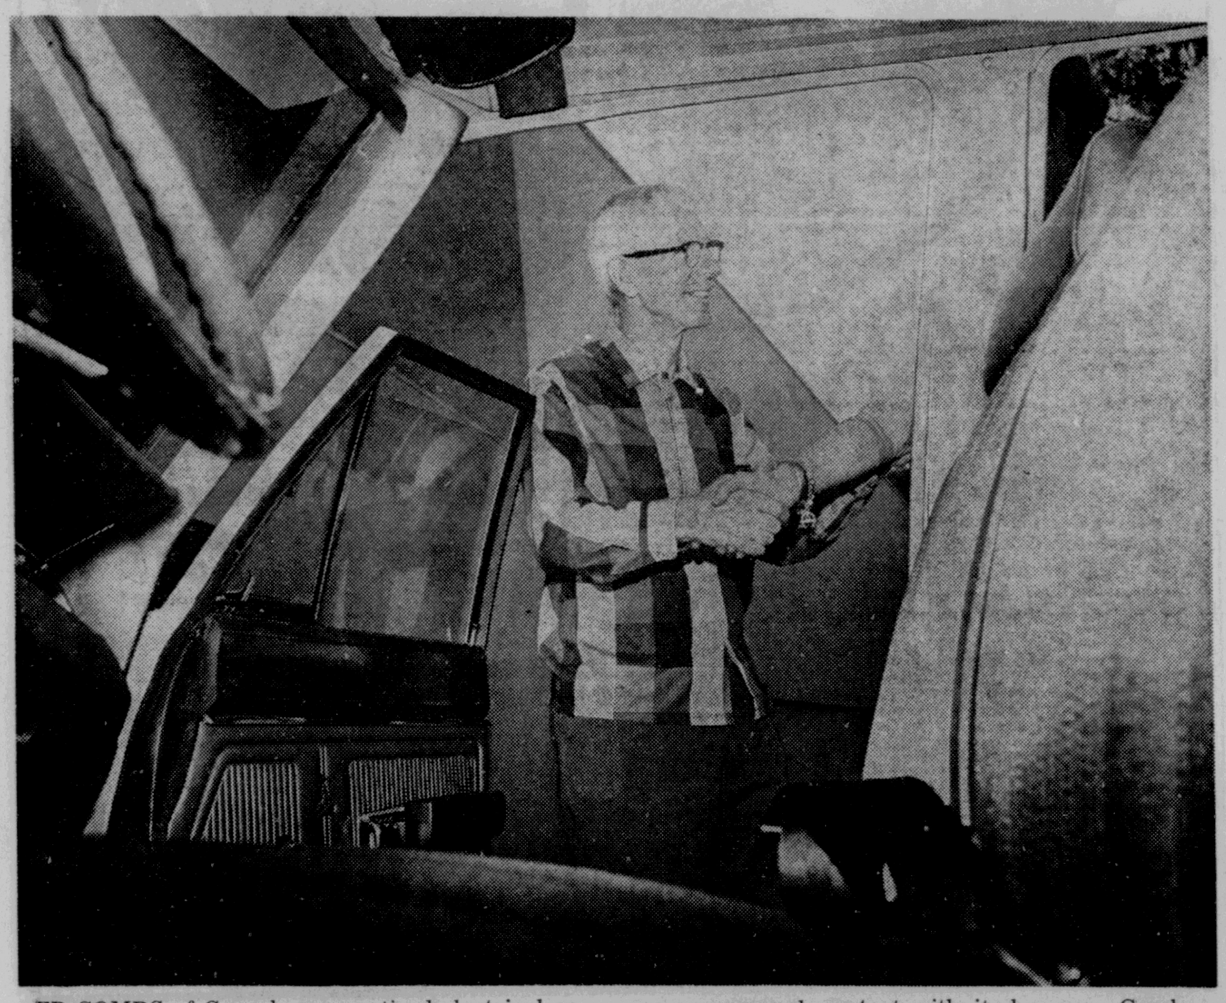
ANOTHER PROGRAM in need of volunteer drivers is the once-a week adult recreation program for the handicapped held at the Easter Seal Society in Larkspur.

The Red Cross helps, "but there are lots of kids and adults who can't come for recreation or speech therapy for lack of rides," explained Phyllis Widdershoven, Easter Seal Society executive director. Many of the crippled have no chance to get out of the house or to the programs offered for them for lack of transportation, Mrs. Widdershoven said.

Patients with chronic respiratory diseases such as emphysema attend a special clinic six nights a month at Marin General Hospital through the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. Carrying respirator equipment, they need door to door rides, reports Helane Anderson.

Anyone with a valid California Driver's license may apply to any of the agencies to offer driving services, Mrs. Kelley said. Most of the current volunteer drivers are Marin housewives and retired persons who wish to assist other Marinites to use health and recreation services set up for them.

IT'S AN almost impossible struggle for short-of-breath persons crippled by emphysema to walk up the gentlest incline. And for patients who must attend the outpatient clinic for chronic respiratory diseases at Marin General Hospital lugging a 16 to 20 pound respirator, the walk even from the parking lot is simply too much, as patient Mrs. Patricia Christensen of Corte Madera demonstrates. Volunteer drivers are needed to provide door-to-door service for those who attend the clinic, operated by the Marin Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association six evenings a month.



ED COMBS of Greenbrae, a retired electrical engineer, has been a volunteer driver for crippled persons for several years. Here he picks up a passenger at the recreation program for handicapped adults held each Thursday at the Easter Seal Society in Larkspur. You don't think about helping someone with a handicap unless you have some personal contact with it, he says. Combs began driving after he was hospitalized for minor surgery a few years ago and he shared the hospital room with a man who was in the crippled adult program as an amputee. His friend once asked him for a ride and Combs has been a volunteer driver ever since, on a once-a-week basis.

THE MARIN COUNTY Chapter of American Red Cross relies upon its volunteer drivers to shuttle Marin patients unable to get transportation to medical appointments in its station wagons. But man more volunteers are needed to drive elderly and infirm Marinites. (Kim Tucker photo)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

He Doesn't 'Waste Time' Visiting The Elderly Who Will Die Soon

DEAR HELEN:

I am about to be married for the second time. My first husband was very considerate and sympathetic, espicially of older people. He died two years age.

Barton, my fiance, is kind to me, but (as he says) he cuts through unnecessary sentiment to the truth. My elderly uncle is in the hospital dying. I want to visit him as much as possible, but Barton insists this is foolish—he'll be dead soon and why waste time on a lost cause?

A friend was killed recently. Bart said the family was lucky—he would have been a partial cripple, and they got double indemnity, plus a chance to sue for big damages. His idea is that if you aren't useful, you should be dead and stop bothering people. He says everyone feels this way underneath, but hipocrisy makes them put on the big sympathy act.

Lately I've been having second thoughts. Is Barton more unfeeling than truthful? And where would this leave me, later on?—WIDOW WITH HEART

DEAR WIDOW:

In a lonely hospital room, perhaps, while your husband counts your insurance and waits impatiently for you to die.

Listen to your second thoughts. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

What with topless, bottomless, nude movies and nothing left to the imagination, it seems that sex is becoming such a popular spectator sport that I have a suggestion: Like in other sports, they should form leagues and have a playoff!—ED

DEAR ED:

They do, they do. Haven't you heard of wife-swapping clubs? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

The one we helped most stabbed me in the back. Now that it's over she wants my husband and me to forgive and forget and tells it around that we are cruel for ignoring her.

Someone got a personal loan in my sister-in-law's name. When it wasn't paid, she was threatened with a dun. Examining the signature on the note, she swore it was mine. Naturally I had no knowledge of this, and my husband (her brother) stood by me. We hired a handwriting expert who proved her accusations false. She didn't lose gracefully. Naturally, she wouldn't pay our attorney fees. The real thief was finally found, and jailed, (as I might have been.)

I see no reason to bother with this woman again, and neither does my husband. But she complains to the rest of the family that we are ruining her life. You see, I used to do everything for her— take her on shopping trips, help her sew, baby-sit her children. I now feel free and I want to keep it that way.

Are we overly bitter, or smart? —STILL UPSET.

DEAR S.U.:

A woman this willing to accuse, will surely accuse again. Let it be some other member of the family next time.—H

CHOPPED UP BY ART GRANT — In a series of visual and verbal puns Sausalito sculptor Art Grant uses old hunks of junk such as this blade, and a way with words to poke fun at just about everything in his show at the Mill Valley Library gallery.

FLYING ANGELS — Nothing is too ordinary to escape the knife of Sausalito sculptor Art Grant as he carves his way through old bleach bottles (from which this hanging sculpture was made), table legs and other junk in his humorous one-man show at the Mill Valley Library gallery.

Self-Imposed Film Rating Is Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The film industry's self-imposed rating system has resulted in a rash of pornographic movies, says the president of the 75-theater Walter Reade Organization.

"This pornography has not gone begging," said Walter Reade Jr. "Exhibitors all over the country, hiding behind the implied shield of the X rating have renounced their personal responsibility for the films they choose and play."

Reade's told the National Association of Theater Owners' board of directors yesterday that the year-old code is a failure.

He said newspapers and radio and television stations have imposed a form of advertising and editorial censorship based on the rating of a film.

"Newspapers all over the country—San Diego, Reno, Oklahoma City, Phoenix, Indianapolis, Miami, in several Illinois towns to a name a few—have decided that X-rated films can no longer be advertised on their pages. In some cases they have also refused any editorial space to these films.

"Now in the past we've run into cases where specific ads or titles were unacceptable but never before this blanket blackball and never before has the ban been extended to cover the news columns as well as the advertising space," he said.

The X rating means youngsters—the age limit varies from 16 to 18 depending on the community—are not to be admitted to see a film.

Art Grant Proves He's Not A Bore

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Art Grant is a very funny man. And if what he has to say is not always nice, at least it's never boring.

In his 64th and latest one-man show this month in the Mill Valley Library gallery, Grant delivers a series of verbal and visual puns in the form of junk "trophies" mounted on plaques and labeled with irreverent wit.

A head cut from a section of automobile bumper is inscribed "Bumped Off by Art Grant." There's a carved wooden angel "Shot Down by Art Grant, Christmas Eve." And there's a battered plastic bottle of Ivory soap "Drowned by Art Grant." Grant's trophies make you smile, laugh out loud, feel offended or even angry depending on your point of view. They seldom leave you minus a reaction.

The sculptor's intent is further explained by his own statement about the show. "This exhibition is dedicated," he says, 'to the great white American hunter whose greatest joy in life is to kill bunny rabbits, deer, gooks, presidents and other living things, decapitate their heads and mount them on plaques and display them in his game room for his friends to see."

If Grant's verbalized views are incisive, his sculptures are merely a more complex visual extension of them. Three "Loving Not War Cups" are just that, revamped loving cups such as a "hospital trophy" rescued from the Veterans' Memorial in San Francisco which Grant has reinscribed with his own pungent remarks, embellished with junk fittings and transformed into a humorously lovely lady. And there's the unfunny junk metal "Homage to War" which unfolds through many layers of meaning.

Lest the artist seem limited to social commentary, this is just part of his eclectic nature. Grant doesn't have to make visual or verbal remarks about things to find them sculpturally inspiring.

Some things such as his ceiling-hung flying angels which are cut like continuous paper dolls from old plastic bleach bottles, or his figures and animals whittled from old furniture, or his outrageous metal animals such as a scissors-billed bird or hand grenade snail have a whimsical warmth that is enough in itself.

More than anything, Grant has an oblivous ball doing what he is doing. His mirth oozeth over and infects anyone with even an ounce of amusement in him. So let's give that man another table leg, another junk pile and another bleach bottle.

There are more than 200 sawmills in Texas.

"RELIGION? CORNBALL!"
Yes, religion is cornball. It pushes squaresville ideas like love, understanding, patience, charity, kindness, moderation, joy, justice, peace, reconciliation, beauty, life's sacredness, honor, serenity, brotherhood.
And who needs stuff like that, when we have LSD, amphetamines, alcohol, war, nudies, agonized cities, the H-bomb, heroin, poverty, inhumanity?
So for heaven's sake, don't get caught in your church or synagogue. Or you might start wanting to change the world around.

Apollo Crewmen Run Through Abort Tests

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Apollo 12 astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean today practiced emergency procedures required if they have to abort their attempt to land on the moon next week.

They rehearsed in the lunar lander trainer vehicle in a test coordinated with the Mission Control Center in Houston, Tex.

The third Apollo 12 crewman, Richard F. Gordon Jr., received a briefing on lunar topography from specialists of the U.S. geological Survey. One of Gordon's tasks as he orbits the moon is to photograph future Apollo landing sites, primarily the highlands near the craters Fra Mauro, LaLande and Descartes.

Gordon also planned some time today in the command ship simulator.

At the launch pad, the countdown moved smoothly toward the scheduled blastoff of a Saturn 5 rocket at 11:22 a.m. EST Friday.

Conrad and Bean are to fly the landing craft they call Intrepid to a touchdown in the moon's Ocean of Storms Nov. 19. They can abort the attempt at any time after they separate from Gordon and the command ship until the moment of touchdown. They also can make a quick takeoff in case something goes wrong after the landing.

The two ships are to undock at an altitude of 65 miles. Intrepid is to land two hours and 27 minutes later. The most critical period is the last 12 minutes when the astronauts trigger their descent engine to drop the final 49,200 feet.

Apollo 11, man's first lunar landing, came within 14 seconds of being aborted last July as astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. hovered 150 feet above the surface, their fuel running dangerously low as they sought a smooth parking spot.

Rohnert Park Hospital Group Forms

A nonprofit organization seeking to locate a hospital in Rohnert Park has been formed.

Organized by developer Paul Golis, the group said it expects to plan and show the need for a hospital as part of a medical education or research facility.

Other incorporators include Maurice Fredericks, attorney; Christopher Knudsten, Cotati rancher; Arthur F. Hollingsworth Jr., bishop of the church of the Latter-day Saints; R. E. Boyd Jr., businessman; the Rev. Leon A. Holm, pastor of the Cross and Crown Lutheran Church; Dr. Lee Panttaja, assistant superintendent of Sonoma County schools; and Otto R. Nation, retired businessman.

The group had asked the Rohnert Park City Council to form the hospital foundation and to donate six acres for a hospital site.

The council last night said the land requested would be needed for a future Civic Center site and that it was satisfied with membership in the Sonoma County health facilities planning commission.

Shoplift Study: One In Ten

NEW YORK (AP) — Of 263 customers secretly followed in a large Manhattan department store, one out of ten, or a total of 27, stole something, reports a study by Saul D. Astor consultants.

The study, which did not name the store, also said not one of the 27 shoplifters was caught. The average value of the stolen goods was $8.37.

In summary, the report said, it appeared that a large number of the shoplifters were middle-class housewives.

East Berlin Youths Make Freedom Trek

The defection by the 18- and 22-year-old youths kept up a wave of refugee flights in recent days. On Saturday two East German boys, 15 and 16, climbed the Wall to reach West Berlin.

Any $7,000 car makes you feel secure on a country club driveway. The Mercedes-Benz 280S makes you feel secure on a bustling turnpike.

Look underneath, and you'll begin to see why.

At Mercedes-Benz, engineers —not styling geniuses or marketing wizards—have the upper hand.

And these stubborn purists insist that if a man can afford to invest $7,000 in an automobile he is entitled to get more than a status symbol.

Result: the Mercedes-Benz 280S at right bristles with sophisticated, ultra-performance features that simply do not exist on domestic sedans in the so-called "fine car" field. It steers, maneuvers and stops as if your life depended on it.

This is one reason why Car and Driver magazine, with a world of cars to choose from, concludes that the current Mercedes-Benz line "represents the present pinnacle in safe car engineering."

Of all cars in the "luxury class" field, the 280S is rated the safest, most roadworthy. Read why.

Racing car suspension

For a clue to the almost uncanny handling and evasive ability of the 280S, scrunch down and look beneath the rear bumper—at the axle. It's not the rigid "beam" axle of most domestic cars. It is articulated.

This Mercedes-Benz low-pivot swing axle permits each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other, just as the front wheels do. The result is leech-like roadability.

If you know what you're looking for, you can also spot heavy-duty thrust arms, individual coil springs and shocks, and a horizontal hydropneumatic load-leveling device.

All in all, suspension ideas more common on 180-mph Grand Prix racing cars than 5-passenger sedans.

Engineering extravagance?

A passenger car doesn't need a suspension fit for a racer, argue some critics. True, reply Mercedes-Benz engineers. For everyday city driving, this is sheer engineering extravagance.

But some day you might have to get off the pavement, onto a stretch of potholed back road. You might have to enter a sharp curve or a turn-off faster than you intended. You might have to change course quickly while cruising at 65 mph on a busy turnpike.

And, suddenly, you realize that this engineering extravagance is no extravagance at all.

Sharp reflexes

Occasionally, it is also necessary for a 3,400-pound automobile hurtling along at high speed to stop abruptly.

Once more, Mercedes-Benz engineers draw on their experience with World Champion racing machinery. They employ the more expensive, but clearly superior, type of brakes used almost universally on today's professional racing circuits.

Disc brakes.

The engineers don't stint, either —by putting disc brakes only at the front wheels, and settling for conventional drum brakes on the rear. They insist on attaching a massive caliper-type disc brake to every wheel of every Mercedes-Benz.

Someday, doubtless, 4-wheel disc brakes will be offered on a domestic "luxury" car.

Accurate steering is vital for maximum control, too. In an emergency, you don't have time for a sweeping twirl of the wheel. The car must respond instantly.

The 280S does. Credit the ingenious Mercedes-Benz recirculating-ball-type steering system. It eliminates sloppy play in the wheel—and blesses you with the "feel" of the road. Suddenly, you are a more confident driver.

Taut, sensitive steering is retained even with Mercedes-Benz power steering—characterized by Car and Driver as "unquestionably the most precise unit of its kind ever developed."

If trouble comes

The responsiveness which makes the 280S such a joy to drive is its best defense against blundering motorists. However, if the worst happens, the car is designed to shield you. Naturally, it meets all the U.S. safety regulations. But Mercedes-Benz safety goes beyond the letter of these laws.

The entire passenger compartment is built as a sturdy "safety zone." Doors are designed to stay shut on impact. The front and rear of the car are engineered to crumple in a crash at a controlled rate, absorbing shock and reducing the threat of serious injury.

"A fellow hit me when I was stopped at a toll booth," reports one Mercedes-Benz owner. "People in his car were hospitalized. But I just opened my door and stepped out."

Showroom experiments

The 280S is as habitable as it is roadworthy and safe.

Slip behind the wheel, and flex your back. This is no marshmallow seat. It supports you, hour after hour. It should: it was designed with help from orthopedic physicians. The springs inside are tuned to the car's suspension motions, cancelling out thousands of tiring vibrations every mile.

Check the rear shelf. Carpeted. Feel the underside of the dashboard. There's no spaghetti tangle of wires. It's fully finished off. Finger the wood trim—real walnut, not plastic.

Many cars are designed to win admiration for their owners. Mercedes-Benz cars are designed to win admiration from their owners. Quite a distinction.

No shortcuts

Your 280S is built with uncompromising care, to make it a lasting investment.

Every 280S begins life in a shower of sparks. It is not bolted into being, like a conventional car, but solidified by thousands of welds. After 50,000 miles or so, you may start to wonder if it will ever rattle.

When welding stops, the body is gone over by hand with a soft glove. Bumps and burrs are spotted and smoothed away. Vital seams are packed with solder and buffed to oblivion.

The body is then dunked in a 52-ton primer tank, baked, sprayed, hand-sanded, sprayed again, then hand-sprayed. Total primer and paint rust protection: over 44 pounds.

As a final flourish in its armament against road salt, rust and rot, the 280S gets a 24-pound slathering of plasticized undercoating.

The overhead-cam, six-cylinder engine equals the coachwork for longevity. Bearings are delicately machined to within 4/10,000ths of an inch, and pistons and connecting rods are painstakingly matched and balanced. Yet this power plant is about as fragile as a bull. It's built to cruise flat-out indefinitely—and, on Germany's wide-open autobahns, it often does.

An unconventional car? Defiantly so. Mercedes-Benz does not make conventional cars—and never will.

Of course, the quickest way to appreciate the car's virtues is simply to arrange for a test drive.

Other models to mull over:

250 Sedan—a less costly, but unflappable road car, $5,313*.

220 Diesel—the only diesel-powered automobile Mercedes-Benz makes, gives you small-car economy in a big, safe sedan that may well endure for decades, $4,887*.

Meeting Advanced

The Planning Process Committee of the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Marin has changed its meeting from Nov. 19 to Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Coral Room at Marin General Hospital, according to Dr. Charles J. Gillooly of San Rafael.

Planners Frown On Zone Bind

Marin County planning commissioners today frowned on the idea of using restrictive zoning in county areas to force annexation to cities.

Restrictive zoning to encourage annexation was one of 10 recommendations made by the City-County Planning Council.

Planning commissioners Niels Schultz Jr. and Margaret Azevedo contended that the amount of service available, such as police and fire protection, should determine the type of zoning and density.

They objected to the use of restrictive zoning purely as an incentive to annexation.

Commissioners decided to modify the paragraph on restrictive zoning, stating simply that where a city prezones, the county should reexamine its zoning in the light of the city prezoning.

Planning commissioners expressed similar concern over other recommendations made by the city county planning council, particularly where cities are given too much influence over developments in county land.

Canadian Tax Reform Urged

OTTAWA (AP) — The government has proposed sweeping changes in Canada's income tax laws, including sharp increases for middle-income taxpayers and the removal of 750,000 persons from the tax roles.

Other recommendations include higher personal exemptions for all taxpayers and adoption of the nation's first capital gains tax.

Finance Minister Edgar Benson proposed the changes to the House of Commons in a 50,000-word white paper issued Friday.

Statue Of Horse On Schools Roof

The Halloween season may be over, but in Petaluma the pranksters carry on, raising the question of how the full size statue of a horse happened to appear on the roof of Petaluma Senior High School.

Police said neighbors reported the appearance of the black and white steed with an orange circle on its hip on the roof over the main entrance yesterday morning. Police, who are trying to figure out how to get the statue down, said the horse's owner is not known.

'POSITION PAPER'

Greater School Dollar Use Urged

Longer school days and school year are among measures advocated by the Southern Marin League of Women Voters to get more out of the school dollar.

Greater use of school buildings — including possibly lengthening the school day and year — is stressed in a league "position paper" circulated to boards and superintendents of Reed, Mill Valley, Sausalito and Tamalpais High School districts and the county board of education.

The Southern Marin league has been conducting a study of public school education since September 1968, and plans to continue it into next spring. The position paper, said Mrs. Keith Kallum, league president, and Mrs. Reese Jones, education study chairman, "means agreement among a substantial number of members, representative of the membership as a whole, reached after sustained study and free group discussion."

"We would support the extended use of buildings in hours per day and months per year for school and community functions," the report says. Mrs. Kallum said this means the league believes school boards should consider extending the school day and school year if necessary to get full use from the facilities.

In school finance, the league urged federal funds "with as few restricting limitations as possible" and greater sharing of school costs by the state. It notes that the property tax "is now overburdened."

"We would support lowering the percentage of votes needed to pass school bonds," says the league, suggesting an initial effort to reduce the figure from two-thirds to 60 per cent.

It suggests that some functions of the schools might be funded from other sources, such as the Division of Highways funding driver education and Department of Employment providing vocational counseling.

It also suggests that greater use be made of volunteers, and says, "Teachers should be trained to use the time of volunteers effectively."

"Planning for an over-all transportation system in the county should include planning for school transportation," the league urges.

To get active community support for schools, the league urges, "Hold open meetings with printed information available." (Open school board meetings are required by law.)

"Use citizen committees properly," it suggests. Mrs. Jones said school boards have sometimes failed to provide committees with needed information and assistance.

Boards are urged also to "take responsibility that the educational program is carefully evaluated," and to represent their communities to legislators and the state Board of Education — not depending on the California School Boards Association.

The report also advocates seeking cooperative solutions to problems that involve more than one district.

On unification, the league calls for a potential minimum of 10,000 pupils for any unified district. No plan for forming more than one unified district within Tamalpais High School District would meet this criteria.

Draft Notice Obscene, Terra Linda Youth Says

Like most young men his age, 20-year-old Robert Blanch of Terra Linda is dreading the day when the postman brings him a draft notice along with the morning mail.

But if Blanch has his way, Uncle Sam's greetings will never be delivered to his home, at least not via the U.S. mails.

The yough, who lives at 899 Greenberry Lane, is taking advantage of a recent federal law designed to protect citizens from advertisements they consider to be "sexually provocative" of "pandering."

Under the law a person has the right to determine whether an advertisement is offensive to him, then can ask the post office to order that he receive no further mailings from the sender of the ad.

Blanch has requested the San Rafael Post Office to order that he receive no further communiques from the U.S. Selective Service because he considers their letters "obscene."

"Although the law just mentions advertisements and doesn't use the word 'obscene,' I think it can apply to my situation," he said, adding he is perfectly serious in his attempt to avoid the draft.

"I think a letter which orders people to be trained to kill can easily be classified as obscene," he observed. "Besides, I find being forced to caress a rifle 'sexually provocative,' not to mention dangerous."

Blanch, a former College of Marin student who is taking classes at the Playwright's Ensemble, a San Francisco acting school, filed his request with Postmaster Hugh Cassidy on Thursday. Friday he took his preinduction physical in Oakland.

Cassidy said the application to restrain the Selective Service from further mailings to Blanch has been forwarded to the San Francisco Postal Service, which will decide what action to take on the unusual request.

Meanwhile, Blanch is probably wondering if draft notices are ever delivered by telegram or special messenger.

NATURE WALK — An enthralling nature walk through the Lagunitas School District's largest classroom is a highlight of any day for these second graders from San Geronimo Valley School. Here, teacher Judy Payton leads them on the first leg of a recent study through the Marietta Larsen Memorial Nature Preserve.

FROG HUNTERS?—Second graders scramble down the creek bank to study the water and its creatures—the best part for some youngsters, especially the boys who hope to catch a frog. The pupils are, from left, Carla Gallager, Melanee Euless, Otto Buckenthal and Elaina Glenn. The teacher, Judy Payton, is ducking a tree limb and behind her are David Kennedy and Mark Stommel. # The Outdoors Is A Classroom

By JOANNE GRANT

An area rich in natural splendor has become an unusual outdoor classroom for the Lagunitas School District, fascinating children and teachers alike.

It is quiet, almost isolated. The stillness is broken only occasionally by the throaty croak of a frog, the cry of a bird, or a child's voice raised in delight over a discovery.

It feels faraway, but it is nestled between Lagunitas and San Geronimo Valley schools in the heart of the valley, easily accessible to pupils from both schools at a moment's notice.

The unusual classroom stretches from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard several hundred feet back to a winding road which separates school property from the San Geronimo Valley National Golf Course. And sometimes, the best find of the day is a golf ball.

Usually, though, children search for insects or grassland bird nests or signs of the season or animals. They learn about trees and flowers and the creek and the little creatures — all the things that make the area one of unusual variety.

The area was purchased with land for the new San Geronimo Valley School and immediately designated as a nature education area, Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said.

Saturday, at 2 p.m. it was dedicated and officially named the Marietta Larsen Memorial Nature Preserve.

Mrs. Larsen, a former member of the Lagunitas and Tamalpais High School district boards, was "dedicated to the education of the children of this district and to the preservation of the natural environment," McCunniff said.

She was also active in education on acounty level, serving on the county Committee on School District Reorganization.

To insure maximum use of the area, the school district and the Audubon Society are sponsoring an education program "teaching the teachers how to use the outdoors as a classroom," McCunniff said. Each contributed $500.

Consultants from the Natural Science Resources Association, a team of Marin biologists who serve as consultants in natural science, have come to the school weekly this fall to work with teachers and will return next spring to work with children, he said.

Future plans include developing paths through the area, improving the stream, a tributary of Papermill Creek, so salmon and steelhead will come up, and eventually opening the area to groups from other schools, McCunniff said.

OUTDOOR LESSON — Gnarled old oak trees sprinkled throughout the Marietta Larsen Memorial Nature Preserve provided interesting lessons for the pupils. Here, teacher Judy Payton points to woodpecker holes as she explains why they peck.

GERONIMO BEAR? — Children use a path laid through the grassy area so they will not walk in the animal paths that abound in the nature preserve. Children, asked what kind of animals come to the area, mentioned deer, snakes, gophers and bear. "I don't think bear," corrected the teacher gently.

NATURE LORE — Treasures collected in an afternoon nature walk — acorns, a mossy oak twig and a wild grass — go back to the classroom with Elaina Glenn for the rest of the second graders to study. The nature preserve will be used throughout the year to teach children how to use a natural area and see the inter-relationships of animals and plants.

BARK "PICTURES" — Pausing in their tour for a short course in art, pupils learn how to make "drawings" (rubbings) on a giant old tree. Teacher Judy Payton explains the process, which uses paper towels or cloth, chalk and bark.

Realty Convention Asked To Back Point Reyes Drive

A resolution adopted by the Marin County Real Estate Board calling for President Richard M. Nixon to authorize enough federal funds to complete land acquisition for the Point Reyes National Seashore will be presented this week at the National Association of Real Estate Board's convention in San Francisco.

The Marin County board's resolution notes only 22,540 acres have been acquired for the seashore and that 30,940 acres remain in private ownership.

The resolution says there is enough money available in the federal Land and Water Conservation fund to complete the Point Reyes park — a sum that has been placed at $38 million. The resolution says there is currently $164 million on deposit for park land acquisition.

Extra School Space On Agenda

The cost of providing portable classrooms at Adaline E. Kent School to avoid student busing to Greenbrae School, will be discussed by the Kentfield School District oBard of Trustees at 8 p.m. today at the Wolfe Grade School.

Paretns of 51 of the 57 students who were scheduled to be bused protested to the board at its Oct. 13 meetings. The board then turned to portable classrooms to solve the overcrowded conditions at Kent School.

Teacher aides were placed in the classified employee catagory on Oct. 27 by the board. The board will receive a report on the cost of fringe benefits these aides will receive under the new classification.

Burn Ban Will Be Discussed

An application to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District for a variance to the backyard burning ban which goes into effect Jan. 1 will be considered by the Ross Town Council at 8 p.m. Thursday in city hall.

The council is considering a variance because the town has no street sweeping machinery and must rely on residents for help in burning refuse. The council has said for months that a ban would have serious effect on the community.

Mrs. R. D. Norby of the League of Women Voters will speak in opposition to the proposed variance.

The council will also hear a report from Seymour, Kashin, general manager of the Marin County Transit District, on implementation of a countywide bus system and integration of the buses with the commuter ferry system under consideration.

New Jersey is also known as the "Garden State."

Health Group Wants Major Policy Role

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Leaders of the American Public Health Association, with a slap at the American Medical Association, have launched a bid for their group to assume a major role as spokesman for national health policy.

The leaders of the 24,500-member organization of public health workers say the APHA should develop a leading voice in the establishment of the nation's health policies, "not for the narrow professional interests of anybody, but rather for the public interest."

The APHA's 127-member governing council will vote during its 97th annual meeting here on several resolutions designed to change the organization's traditional role as an adviser to health agencies to that of an "activist for social change."

Association officers indicate they expect the resolutions to pass.

If they are passed, and if the association develops the national voice speaking for the individual consumer that its leaders seek, the APHA will, medical people here say, be a clear rival to the AMA.

"Health conditions in this country are really in bad shape," said Dr. Paul B. Cornely, association president-elect and a professor of preventive medicine at Howard University College of Medicine.

Dr. Cornely and Dr. Lester Breslow, association president from the University of California School of Public Health, both said at a news conference yesterday that the AMA has failed to meet the health needs of the American people. The two men are not members of the AMA.

"We believe," Dr. Cornely said, "that the APHA can become an effective spokesman . . . for the country."

"The AMA," he told a news conference, "in the past has come out with approaches that were not to our liking . . . at their last meeting, for the first time, they became concerned about the poor.

"If they want to do something about the poor, and come up with plans that are acceptable to us, we'll be willing to join hands. But if they come up with something we oppose, we'll be critical of them."

Cornely and Breslow said the APHA hopes to increase its membership to perhaps double the present size. They said their organization is not trying to "take over" as a leader in the health field or to attack any other organization.

The doctors said one of their major efforts will be to join with individual Americans who are the health consumers, often the poor. They said they hope to work with health organizations in the ghettos and rural areas.

Israeli Jets In Reprisal Suez Attacks

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli planes attacked Egyptian targets yesterday and today in the wake of the first Egyptian naval strike against Israeli land forces since the 1967 war.

The Israeli planes hit military targets on the western shore of the Gulf of Suez today, south of the Suez Canal, and all planes returned safely, a spokesman said.

Yesterday, the Israeli planes attacked along the central section of the canal, and all planes reportedly came back.

There was no report of the damage done in either raid.

Israel denied that its forces suffered any damage in the naval bombardment Saturday night of an Israeli base in the Sinai Desert 20 miles east of the entrance to the Suez Canal. Newsmen taken to the area found shell fragments and shell marks in the sand but no other evidence of the shelling.

Egyptian military spokesmen reported that "a number of Egyptian destroyers" bombarded an Israeli command post, tanks, artillery, ammunition dumps and troops for about an hour Saturday night and left the area ablaze.

As the ships were sailing away, the Egyptians said, they shot down two Israeli jets trying to attack them.

The Israelis denied that the Egyptian bombardment caused any damage or casualties or that any planes were shot down.

Meanwhile, Al Ahram, the semiofficial Cairo newspaper that usually reflects the views of President Gamal Abdel Nasser, rejected the latest U.S. proposal for a peace settlement in the Middle East. It quoted an "official source" as saying: "A first look at the new American proposals shows at once a complete bias in favor of Israel and against the Arabs."

Al Ahram gave no details of the plan, which has not been made public, but Egyptian sources have indicated that it proposes a bilateral settlement between Israel and Egypt followed by an attempt to reach agreement between Israel and Jordan.

Egypt has rejected such an approach before. U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco submitted the proposed formula to Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin in Washington Oct. 30.

Arab political military leaders continued a meeting of the joint Arab Defense Council in Cairo to map military strategy against Israel.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad urged the delegates over the weekend to mobilize for "a battle of destiny." Riad told the council, which includes representatives of 13 nations and a delegation of Palestinian guerrillas, that the United States is "a partner of Israel" in the war.

A Call For Dentists To Join Crime Fight

By London Express News Serv-ice.

LONDON — The image of the dentist as a rather dull creature with a workload of consistent boredom and surrounded by tearful patients is being quietly reshaped. There appears to be a bright future for him in crime detection.

The British Dental Association is shortly to receive a report from a special working party which has been looking at the forensic dental services available in Britain. When these findings have been mulled over, they will be handed to the Home Office.

There is little doubt that there is a shortage of sufficiently expert forensic dentists and no doubt that there is plenty of work waiting for the man — or woman — who decides to make forensic science an extra-surgery specialty. For a lead, they must look to Liverpool where the enlightened chief constable, James Houghton, saw the potential of the dentist in crime following evidence gathered by 40-year-old John Furness.

He is now one of Europe's most experienced forensic dentists, having evolved his own method for the identification of bite marks in victims of murder, rape, and general assault — similar to the finger printing technique, with its 16 points of similarity. And like fingerprints, no two sets of teeth make the same impressions, not even those of identical twins.

For skeptics who judge effort by results, Furness is well qualified to be taken note of when he adds his comments to the working party's report: To date he has helped to send six murderers to prison (two of them double murders) as well as an assortment of other assailants.

The saying among Liverpool detective these days that if a man bites when he commits crime, he bites his way into jail.

For Furness, the second prong of his career as a dentist began at approximately 4:30 one afternoon as he was drilling the tooth of a housewife in preparation for a routine filling. At that moment the body of a murdered man was being taken from a docked ship to a Liverpool mortuary.

Doctors spotted bite marks on the victim's face and shoulder and since one of them knew Furness, decided to call him in for an expert opinion.

"At first," said Furness, "I felt out of it, caught up among a lot of policemen all bustling about at the start of a murder inquiry. But on studying the tooth marks on the body I felt I might be of some use. The marks were, after all plain enough to identify the person who had done the biting."

There were several methods available for comparing the marks — from removing the section involved to making models of suspects' teeth for "biting" a mock-up of that part of the body concerned — but he was not entirely satisfied with any of them.

With the police holding three suspects, Furness devised his own method of identification which has now withstood the chill analysis of court-room cross examination and which is faster and more accurate than pervious methods.

After photographing the bite mark, casts are made of the suspect's teeth in artificial stone. The biting edges are marked with printer's ink and a photograph is taken of the cast from different angles.

Prints are made to match in size a previously enlarged picture of the victim's injuries and mounted on a single sheet of white card.

Then the curvature of the teeth in the bite marks is compared with that of the dental arch and measures from left to right. Spaces between the teeth and the width of the biting edges are compared and lines drawn to show points of similarity. The cast and the pictures are labelled and re-photographed, ready for use in court.

In looking at the victim's wounds in his first case, Furness decided the marks were those one would expect to be left by teeth with a regular pattern. A great deal of force had been applied (when chewing the jaw muscles operate with approximately 120 pounds pressure per square inch). The marks were similar meaning that the same person had made them all.

He examined and charted the mouths of the three suspects with their written consent. A model of each suspect's bite — made in artificial stone — was compared with marks on the dead man's face.

Two men were quickly eliminated because of obvious discrepancies. But it was equally obvious to Furness that the third suspect could have done the biting. His technique of identification was sufficient for the police to charge the third man with murder. He is still in prison.

Police forces throughout the world have followed Liverpool's lead and send their rightest young men and women to courses taught by Furness.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain.

In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Terra Linda Clinches Grid Title

Trojans Defeat Redwood

By GARY TISCHLER

"It's too bad anybody had to lose."

That feeling was expressed by Redwood High School football coach Bob Troppmann, whose team did lose, but it was a natural enough feeling and may have come close to describing a ballgame in which not very much happened but nobody noticed.

What did happen was that Terra Linda has another Marin County Athletic League football title cinched after turning back a game but doomed effort by Redwood, 14-8, before a fantastic crowd of some 4,500 fans who spilled and sprawled all over San Rafael High School's field Saturday night.

5-0 MARK

The victory gave Terra Linda a 5-0 league mark and the Trojans need only to get by San Rafael to capture their first outright league crown. As it is, they have at least four title ties in a row clinched. Redwood, its chances all but dimmed, has a crack at a title tie if the Giants beat San Marin and if the Trojans bow to San Rafael.

The huge crowd gave the game epic, mini-super bowl proportions even though the two teams played it so close to the vest that it hurt.

FUMBLES

Although both teams wound up fumbling the ball away twice, the big play was monster man Dewey Forry's interception of a Redwood screen pass at midfield. Forry, who went on to torture Redwood with his running, returned it to the Redwood 17-yard line to open the way for the first touchdown of the game, which came three plays later in the second period on a one-yard buck by John Scozzofava. Bob Daniele's kick made it 7-0.

Redwood threatened and drove all the way to 20-yard line but gutty quarterback Pete Cooney was run out of bounds at the seven-yard line at the halftime buzzer.

ON GROUND

Terra Linda surprised everybody, including coach Don Lucas, by not throwing the ball. Lucas, in fact, wasn't all that happy over the Trojans' performance on offense.

"We were sluggish, We didn't vary our offense enough," he said. "I thought we could have won by 21-0. But Redwood played a tough game. We just didn't let them get their ground game started."

In fact, it was a strange thing. Redwood, the running team, wound up passing 20 times, with little result, and Terra Linda, the passing team, threw only five times while Forry boosted a running Terra Linda ground attack by churning out 126 yards in 24 carries.

"I was surprised they didn't pass more," Troppmann said. "We were always aware of the pass. Of course, our problem was that we couldn't get our running game going. Without it, we couldn't do that much."

Redwood came back for its

Rams Outscore The 49ers; Big Day For Quarterbacks

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—John Brodie and the San Francisco 49ers gave it a good shot but they couldn't quite make it against Roman Gabriel and the Los Angeles Rams.

After the Rams pulled out a 41-30 win before 73,975 yesterday at Memorial Coliseum, no one had any harsh words for Brodie, making a comeback after resting a "dead arm" for two games.

Brodie threw three touchdown passes and drew the 49ers to within four points 34-30 in the fourth period before Gabriel got the Rams out of danger by rolling around right end for nine yards and the final score with 1:53 to play.

MAKES IT TOUGH

"Brodie makes things tough," said Ram coach George Allen. "He's one of the great quarterbacks in the NFL. He never quits."

Brodie said his arm was okay and he proved it by throwing the long ball when he wanted to. He connected to Doug Cunningham for a 58-yard pass play before hitting Bill Tucker for a three-yarder and the final S.F. touchdown in the fourth quarter.

It looked like the game might be a breeze for the Rams when Gabriel connected to Wendell Tucker on the first scrimmage play of the game. Tucker got behind the 49er secondary, caught the ball on the Rams 40 and headed on a southwest tangent for the end zone. Jimmy Johnson was on his heels and made a dive at the 10 but it was no dice. The play was good for 93 yards.

35-YARDER

Gabriel threw two other TD passes—a 35-yarder to Les Josephson in the first quarter, and an eight-yarder to Jack Snow with just four seconds gone in the fourth quarter.

In addition to the pass to Bill Tucker, Brodie threw two others good for touchdowns—a 20-yarder to Ken Willard in the first period and a two-yarder to Bob Windsor in the fourth.

Eddie Meador intercepted a Brodie pass in the third quarter and ran the ball back 38 yards to a touchdown. Brodie had two interceptions, Gabriel none.

Brodie connected on 25 of 42 passes for 356 yards, Gabriel on 13 of 23 for 319 yards.

FIELD GOALS

The Rams got two field goals —15 yards and 39 yards—from Bruce Gossett. The Forty Niners got one field goal of 32 yards from Momacilo Gavric, a soccer player of Yugoslavian descent signed as a free agent last week. Tommy Davis, their former placekicker, was demoted to the taxi squad.

Gavric contributed three conversions but had his first attempt blocked by Ram Tackle Merlin Olsen.

Sonoma State Dumps Chico State Javees

Playing the finest game in their short history, the Sonoma State College Cossacks remained unbeaten against Far Western Conference junior varsity opposition Saturday as they registered a lopsided 33-8 win over the Chico State JV's in Chico.

The Cossacks have now defeated four of the five FWC junior varsity teams in the initial year of the Sonoma State football program. They meet the fifth, unbeaten Sacramento State, in a battle for the "unofficial" league JV title next Saturday, 1 p.m., at Petaluma's Durst field.

QUICK

Sonoma State wasted no time jumping out front in last Saturday's game as it scored the first time the Cossack's gained possession of the ball. Defensive halfback Rich Lewandowski intercepted a Chico State pass in the game's first series of downs and returned it to the Chico 15-yard line. Cossack Bill Cox guided Sonoma State to the score, the touchdown coming on a 1-yard run by halfback Luther Nelson.

The Cossacks scored once more in the first quarter on a Cox-to-Chris Alvarado pass play covering 40 yards. That touchdown put Sonoma State ahead 13-0 and it was never headed.

Chico State scored its lone touchdown in the second quarter to close the margin to 13-8 at the half. But Sonoma State's Jack Trujillo returned the second half kickoff 85 yards to put Sonoma State ahead 19-8. The Cossacks scored twice more in the game.

The defensive secondary shined for Sonoma State as it intercepted four Chico passes.

It's Another Tough Loss For 'Cats

Marin Catholic High School's bid for a second straight winning football season is no more.

The Wildcats lost another tough game Saturday, bowing to St. Elizabeth's of Oakland, 16-12, in Oakland.

The loss left the Wildcats with a 2-4-2 season record, with one game left to play.

Marin Catholic held a brief 6-0 lead in the first period when Pat Parnow climaxed a 33-yard drive with a one-yard scoring run. But St. Elizabeth's scored on a 40-yard run, a two-point conversion and a two-point safety to take a 10-6 half-time lead and upped it to 16-6 in the third period on a 52-yard pass play.

DIANNE WAYDA WINS QUEEN BOWLING TITLE

Dianne Wayda of Novato, housewife and mother of four, is the new Queen of Marin County Bowling.

Mrs. Wayda, losing only one out of seven matches, yesterday won the fifth annual Marin County Queens Tournament at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

In addition to the title, Mrs. Wayda had the highest game of the tournament, 243. Pat Weddell finished second and Varena Helbing third. Defending champ was Dorreen Puccinelli.

Tomales Nears Football Title

Tomales High School's football team is only an inch away from its third straight North Central II grid crown, but the inch may turn out to be a mile.

Tomales, which upped its league mark to 3-0 by whipping Upper Lake, 38-6, at Upper Lake Saturday, will go after the crown this Saturday when its hosts Calistoga, also unbeaten and owner of a 7-1 record, in the first and only game of the season at Tomales' new field.

Ron Petroni went over the hill Saturday, getting above the 1,000-yard plateau in rushing with 160 yards in 20 carries to boost his total for the season to 1,054 yards.

Warriors Vs. Rockets In TV Game

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—San Francisco's Warriors will be playing without guard and assistant coach Al Attles tonight when they meet the San Diego Rockets here in National Basketball Association action.

Attles broke a right hand bone Friday while the Warriors were trimming the Celtics in Boston. His loss was apparent the next night when the San Franciscans lost to Atlanta by 106-93.

The Warriors have a 6-4 record, good enough for second place in the association's western division.

San Diego is at the bottom of the division with a 1-9 record but its only victory was over the Warriors.

In beating the Warriors, the Atlanta Hawks were led by the defensive play of Joe Caldwell who held San Francisco's Jeff Mullins to 10 points, only four of those coming from the floor. Until then Mullins had been connecting for an average of nearly 29 points a game.

High man for the Hawks was Bill Bridges with 24 points. Nate Thurmond led the Warriors with 21.

Tonight's game will be televised over Channel 2, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Long Struggle For Crampton

HONOLULU (AP)—It was a long, tough struggle for Bruce Crampton, five years of frustration that came to an end with his victory in the $125,000 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

"It's been a long time since I've been here, in the winner's circle," the 34-year-old Australian said after a four-stroke victory over Jack Nicklaus for the top prize yesterday.

"I can't tell you how happy I am.

A LONG TIME

"It's been such a long time. I had a good year in 1965, won three tournaments. But I have not won since the passing of my father, very suddenly, late that year.

"It's been a long, hard thing to do to get things glued back together."

But Crampton, a tour regular since 1957, had it all glued together yesterday. He had come from eight strokes off the pace to establish a one-stroke lead over Nicklaus at the end of three rounds Saturday.

Then he birdied his first two and won it going away. It really wasn't close. Bruce had a final 67, five under par on the 7,020 yard, par 72 Waialae Country Club course, and finished with a 274 total.

JACK SECOND

Nicklaus closed with a 70—never really getting untracked—and finished second at 278. He was followed by rookie John Schroeder and Chi Chi Rodriguez, tied at 280, with Jack McGowan and Tom Weiskopf at 281.

Crampton, who pushed his earnings for the year to $118,-527, hadn't won an official tour event since the 500 Festival in Indianapolis and has finished second six times in the last two years.

Lee Trevino, the 1968 Hawaiian Open champion, had a final 71 and was one of several at 283. Arnold Palmer closed with a 73 and was far back at 286.

Marin Tars Whipped By Contra Costans

"What happened?" Coach Dick Read was asked following his College of Marin Tars' 44-30 loss to Contra Costa College of San Pablo Saturday afternoon.

"You name it . . . we did just about everything wrong," he said trying to explain the Camino Norte Conference football game played before an estimated 200 fans at Marin Catholic High School in Kentfield.

The stunned coach added: "My staff has been in coaching for several years and we all agree that our performance in the first half was the worst football by any of our teams."

It was during that half that Contra Costa stormed off to a 36-8 lead, capitalizing on intercepted passes and a number of penalties that killed Marin drives and scoring threats.

"We gained some momentum in the second half," Read said, "but couldn't make it. We lost a fumble on about the one-yard line and had another touchdown called back by a penalty."

Marin's scores came on two touchdown passes, Jim Peters to Pete Carroll, a quarterback sneak by Peters and a run by Mike Fowler. The Tars also made three two-point conversions on passes from Peters to Jim Finnegan, Keith Stirling and Carroll.

The whip will really crack in practice this week, Read promised, as he prepares the Tars for their traditional game against the Santa Rosa Junior College Bear Cubs Friday night at Santa Rosa.

Marin now has a 1-3 won-lost record in conference. Contra Costa pushed its record to 2-2.

DENVER DRUBBED

Lamonica Fires Raider Victory

OAKLAND (AP)—Daryle Lamonica has thrown 25 touchdown passes this year. He was also decked illegally by the Denver Broncos three times yesterday.

Lamonica does not think those two facts are related.

"I don't really have any trouble with late shots," Lamonica said after leading the Oakland Raiders to a 41-10 victory over the Broncos. "I've got some studs protecting me."

FIVE CALLS

The Bronocs were called three times for roughing the passer and twice more for roughing Raider punters. Once, Lamonica was put out of the game, though only for less than a minute at the end of the first half.

Denver Coach Lou Saban was hard put to hide his displeasure at the calls. His club has dropped opposing passers 35 times legally this season.

"What do you tell your linemen about rushing the quarterback?" Saban asked rhetorically after the game. "I'd like to comment on the officiating, but you know I can't."

League rules forbid the criticism of referees.

Lamonica was unaffected by his rugged treatment. Although he completed only 11 of 21 passes, they were good for 268 yards and three touchdowns to Fred Biletnikoff of 53, 28 and 15 yards. Biletnikoff's league-leading scoring catch total is now 10.

And when Lamonica was out at the end of the half, George Blanda came in and promptly threw an 11-yard scoring strike to Charlie Smith. Blanda also kicked two field goals.

"I think we played real good football," said Raider Coach John Madden. "I thought our defense did an outstanding job. Steve Tensi (Denver's quarterback) had to scramble a lot. Their front four gets a lot of publicity but I think our pass rush is just as good as theirs."

Denver's inexperienced defensive backfield—it contains three rookies and a second-year man—just couldn't keep up with Biletnikoff or Warren Wells whose two receptions for a total of 96 yards set up Fred's last two scoring catches.

'WORST'

"This is the worst our secondary has looked," said Saban. "Against real pros, kids like ours are going to get hurt."

A Denver onside kick attempt that was recovered by the Raiders led to the touchdown that put Oakland ahead for good with 1:40 left in the half. The Raiders scored again with just four seconds left on Blanda's pass to Smith.

The victory kept the Raiders one-half game behind the Kansas City Chiefs in the American Football League's Western Division race with a 7-1-1 record. Denver is now 4-5.

The only Bronco touchdown came in the second period on an 88-yard drive that took 15 plays with Fran Lynch going over from the one. Bobby Howfield added a field goal in the third period.

Marin Ace Ties Big Sky Record

Karl Stein of San Anselmo, former Drake High School and College of Marin star, tied a Big Sky Conference record for pass interceptions Saturday during undefeated University of Montana's 14-0 victory over Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo in Missoula, Mont.

Stein recorded his 10th pass theft of the season to equal the conference record set by Bob Satterfield of Idaho State last season.

Windward Passage Leads Yacht Race

COMBINED AP & UPI

LONG BEACH — The ketch Windward Passage remained the apparent leader today in the Long Beach to La Paz yacht race but race officials said there may be some deep sea gamesmanship going on.

Blackfin, archrival to Hawaii's Windward Passage, did not answer roll call, officials reported yesterday, but that caused no alarm.

In last July's Transpacific Yacnt race, Blackfin skipper Ken DeMeuse accused the Windward Passage of radioing phony position reports to give the Blackfin a false sense of security that enabled Windward Passage to cross the finish line first by one hour. The Blackfin was pronounced the winner after the Windward Passage was disqualified.

Now, officials theorize DeMeuse is purposely keeping mum.

FOOTBALL

SEATTLE — University of Washington football coach Jim Owens last night announced the reinstatement of three of the four black athletes he had suspended Oct. 30.

He said the fourth black player, Harvey Blanks, will be suspended permanently.

"I have concluded to terminate the suspensions of Greg Alex, Ralph Bayard and Lamar Mills," Owens said.

The Husky coach said all three will have a normal opportunity to earn their respective places on the Washington team.

In reference to Blanks' permanent suspension, Owens said his problems with Blanks have been more extensive than he has experienced with almost any other player. He did, not elaborate on this statement.

St. Vincent's '11' Loses To Menlo

St. Vincent's High School of Petaluma turned in an outstanding effort just a little late Saturday night as it dropped a 12-6 contest to the Menlo High School Acorns of Petaluma.

After a scoreless first half, Menlo's powerful running game worked for two long touchdown drives, the first one late in the third quarter and the other early in the fourth quarter, good for a 12-0 Acorn lead.

St. Vincent's came storming back to score its lone touchdown with only 38 seconds left in the game. Quarterback Herm Benedetti tossed a nine-yard scoring pass to halfback Bernie Lowell.

An onside kick attempt failed, however and the Mustangs fell to defeat for the sixth time in eight outings this season.

St. Vincent's wraps up its season next Saturday when it meets Mendocino in an 8 p.m. game at Petaluma's Durst field.

Seals Tie Flyers; Oakland Vs. Bruins Tonight

BOSTON (AP) — The Oakland Seals will be looking for their first National Hockey League victory in four games when they take on the Boston Bruins tonight.

Thanks to a 50-foot shot by Wayne Muloin at Philadelphia yesterday, the Seals emerged with a 2-2 tie instead of a defeat to add to consecutive setbacks incurred against Detroit, Toronto and New York.

The tie game left Oakland and the Philadelphia Flyers tied for third place in the West Division, each with 10 points, one behind Minnesota.

An Oakland shot hit Flyer captain Ed Van Impe in the face, knocking out two teeth and causing tongue and lip wounds requiring 30 stitches, but Van Impe returned to play in the third period.

THE END GAME — Redwood end Steve Fleischman tucks in a pass from quarterback Pete Cooney while Terra Linda's Mike Bridges moves in to attempt the tackle. (Fred Harris Photo)

The Giants countered with a halting, long, stuttering drive that took up six precious minutes into the final period, with sophomore fullback Jay Lehman going over from the five, and Cooney taking it in for a two-point conversion.

Novato Wins; Long Drake Season Over

The long season is finally over for Drake High School's football team.

The Pirates ended it on a typical note, losing to a punchless Novato team by one point, 7-6, in the last four minutes of the game before some 1,000 fans at Novato High School Saturday.

The loss, Drake's fifth in a row and seventh of the season against one win, assured the Pirates, who are used to better things, at least a share of last place in Marin County Athletic League play with a 1-5 record.

Novato, which has now won three games on the season, took its first league win of the year when sophomore quarterback Marti Moroski connected with Neal Given on a 55-yard scoring pass and Doug Chandler booted the extra point with four minutes left in the game.

Drake had clung to a 6-0 lead after Mark Silverman had scored from six yards out as the Pirates took advantage of a fumble recovery on the Novato 10-yard line near the end of the first half.

The Pirates led for most of the game despite coughing up the ball four times on fumbles and twice on pass interceptions.

"I'm kind of glad it's over," Drake coach Bob Franceschini said. "It's been a long season. We were just too inexperienced and had too many injuries."

Drake had an open date next week and chose not to fill it with a non-league game.

Kapp, Vikings Bury Browns

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Minnesota Vikings can only hope that Joe Kapp never learns how you're supposed to play the quarterback position in the National Football League these days.

Kapp, the unorthodox scrambler who played Canadian ball before joining the Vikings three years ago, dusted off an old relic from football's past—the jump pass—as the Vikings crushed the Cleveland Browns, 51-3, for their seventh straight victory.

Kapp threw three touchdown passes to Gene Washington and the first two were tosses of 16 and 10 yards when the 6-foot-3 quarterback leaped in the air before floating the ball into the end zone, where Washington made excellent catches.

The victory moved the Central Division Vikings two games in front of the Green Bay Packers, who were beaten by the Baltimore Colts, 14-6. The Packers and the Vikings meet in Milwaukee next Sunday.

The Los Angeles Rams remained the only unbeaten team in pro football and stretched their record to 8-0 by edging San Francisco, 41-30. The Rams are three games ahead of Baltimore in the Coastal Division.

The Dallas Cowboys moved two games in front of Washington (Dallas is at Washington this Sunday) in the Capitol Division by beating New Orleans, 33-17, while Washington was held to a 28-28 tie by Philadelphia.

St. Louis moved witnin two games of Cleveland in the Century Division by blitzing New York, 42-17.

In other games, Detroit topped Atlanta, 27-21, and Chicago won its first game by dropping Pittsburgh, 38-7.

Johnny Unitas passed for two TDs to give Baltimore the victory over Green Bay. The Baltimore defense finally showed some of its form of last year and both Tom Maxwell and oft-maligned Bubba Smith blocked field goal attempts.

TIE

Philadelphia, trailing 28-14 with 10 minutes left, rallied to tie Washington. Norm Snead bucked over from the one with 55 seconds left after the officials called a pass interference penalty on the one-yard line on Mike Bass. Bass and Hawkins had jumped for a Snead pass on a fourth-and-25 play on the Washington 42.

Calvin Hill romped 30 yards for one TD and set up another with a 55-yard run as Dallas beat New Orleans and Johnny Roland scored three TDs in the first half to give St. Louis the victory over New York.

Detroit scored the first three times it had the ball—including a 96-yard kickoff return by Bobby Williams—to beat Atlanta and Gale Sayers rushed for 109 yards as Chicago blasted the Steelers.

Another Tough Time For Jets

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

What's wrong with the New York Jets?

"Not a thing," replied quarterback Joe Namath. "We're 7-2, aren't we?"

True, yesterday's 16-6 conquest of Buffalo was a club-record sixth straight triumph for the New Yorkers, boosting them into a comfortable 2½-game lead in the American Football League's Eastern Division.

But, in five of those victories, the Jets didn't even display a shadow of last year's explosive ability that carried them to the Super Bowl championship. And, in their last four triumphs, the Jets really weren't assured of victory until the closing minutes.

SAYS RAUCH

"They're not functioning as well as they were at this stage last season," commented losing Coach John Rauch.

Meanwhile, while the Jets were struggling to hand the Bills their seventh loss in nine games, Kansas City maintained its half-game edge in the Western Division by dumping San Diego 27-3; second-place Oakland ripped Denver 41-10; Cincinnati tied Houston 31-31 on Horse Muhlamnn's 18-yard field goal with 22 seconds left, and Miami nipped Boston 17-16.

Bill Mathis bulled one-yard for the Jets' only touchdown in the second quarter, while reliable Jim Turner, the AFL scoring leader, kicked three field goals—from 37, 25 and 47 yards—the last with 23 seconds to go.

The Bills' super-rookie, O. J. Simpson, who picked up 70 yards in 14 carries, had a three-yard first period TD called back because he was in motion before the snap. Bruce Alford's 13-yard field goal try then was blocked by Paul Crane.

SURPRISE

Halfback Warren McVea surprised San Diego with a left-handed 50-yard scoring strike to Frank Pitts in the third quarter, then scored on a two-yard plunge early in the final period to break open a tight game as the Chiefs, 8-1, all but eliminated San Diego, 4-5, from the Western Division race.

Cincinnati's sensational quarterback, Greg Cook, fired four touchdown passes, two 70-yarders, then guided the Bengals 69 yards in 10 plays to set Muhlmann's tying boot.

Rookie Roy Gerela, who had kicked a 50-yard field goal with three minutes left to give Houston a 31-28 lead, missed a desperation 60-yarder with only two seconds left.

Don Trull, making his first start at quarterback for the Oilers, fired TD passes of 34 and 38 yards to Jim Beirne and ran one and four yards for two more in the offensive battle.

Larry Csonka's 54-yard touchdown run with 2½ minutes left and Karl Kremser's conversion earned Miami a rain-soaked victory over Boston when a Patriots' two-point conversion attempt failed in the last minute.

Also-Rans Shooting For Pacific-8 Upsets

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two also-rans in the Pacific-8 football race could spoil a future Rose Bowl showdown with an upset this week.

Undefeated UCLA and Southern Cal. who meet the following weekend, play Oregon and Washington respectively.

In other games this weekend, Air Force will be at Stanford, California entertains San Jose State, and Washington State is at Oregon State.

The Trojans upped their conference mark to 4-0 and their over-all record to 7-0-1 Saturday by handing Washington State a 28-7 licking. USC scored all its touchdowns on the ground with quarterback Jimmy Jones getting two of them on runs of one and nine yards.

UCLA, 7-0-1 and 4-0-1 in the conference, was idle.

Stanford, third in the conference at 4-1-1 and 5-2-1 overall, dumped Washington 21-7 as quarterback Jim Plunkett scored on a one-yard plunge and passed 26 yards to Randy Vataha for another TD.

At Berkeley, Oregon State finally beat a California team, upsetting California 35-3. Fullback Dave Schilling scored twice on runs of three and six yards and quarterback Steve Endicott passed for three touchdowns.

Oregon State, 4-4 for the year, had lost to Stanford, UCLA and USC.

Oregon, now 4-3-1, tied Army 17-17 as Army's Arden Jensen booted a 43-yard field goal with eight seconds left. Oregon, which came from behind twice, had gone ahead on Ken Woody's 21-yard field goal.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Nov. 10, the 314th day of 1969, with 51 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1871 newspaperman Henry Stanley found explorer David Livingstone in a small settlement in Africa.

In 1917 a total of 41 women from 15 states were arrested for suffragette demonstrations outside the White House.

In 1957 the U. S. Office of Education reported a two-year study showed Russia was ahead of the United States in the emphasis on technical and scientific teaching.

In 1965 the aluminum industry bowed to administration pressure and rescinded price increases.

Ohio's Aerial Contribution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Ohio claims the honor of being the birthplace of three pioneers in the air and beyond.

Orville and Wilbur Wright conducted pioneer experiments in aviation in their Dayton, Ohio, bicycle shop before making the first successful powered glideplane flight at Kitty Hawk, N.C., in 1903.

Neil Armstrong, the first human to set foot on the moon, was born in Wapakoneta, Ohio.

Plain Play Is Good, But Fancy Play Even Better

"I'm a plain man," South declared. "I don't make any fancy bids or any fancy plays. In the long run, you'll find, I'm a very substantial winner." It's a reasonable way to play the game, and I couldn't complain — especially since South was one of my opponents.

Opening lead — ♡ Q

HIGH HEART

West opened the queen of hearts and our plain man won with the ace. He drew trumps and led a diamond from dummy, losing the king to West's ace.

West led a low heart to the king, and I cashed the queen of diamonds before leading another heart. South ruffed the third round of hearts, and eventually tried a finesse with the jack of clubs. West won with the queen of clubs, and South was down one.

"The odds were in my favor," South commented. "I would make four spades if the ace of diamonds or the queen of clubs were in favorable position. Who can ask for better than 3 to 1 odds?"

NO ANSWER

Nobody answered his question. South's contract was unbeatable, but not by plain play.

To begin with, South should refuse the first heart trick. Nothing very fancy in that. South merely wants to keep East out of the lead, and he therefore makes sure of giving the inevitable heart loser to West.

South wins the next heart, leads a trump to dummy, ruffs a heart, and leads another trump to dummy. Then he leads a diamond from dummy.

If East plays low, South tries a deep finesse with the ten. If East plays the queen of diamonds, South covers with the king.

Not very plain, perhaps, but 100 per cent sure.

DAILY QUESTION

As declarer you hold:
♠— A K 8 7 3
♥— 8 6 3
♦— 7 4
♣— A 4 3
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

This is a borderline opening bid, but most experts firmly believe in bidding this sort of hand.

A Unique Hobby: Corkscrew Collection

MALMOE, Sweden (UPI)—Egnineer Jan Ekman in Malmoe has a unique hobby—he collects corkscrews.

His collection consists of 600 different types of corkscrews from the 17th Century to present days. At a recent visit to Hamburg he discovered a giant corkscrew drilled into a bar. To get the rarity he had to buy the entire bar and fly it in pieces to his home in southern Sweden.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

New Jersey Retailer Expanding Rapidly

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We have been looking for a promising low-priced issue. What do you think of Wyle Laboratories? — J.L.

A. The long-term prospects of this company appear excellent but for several reasons I would postpone purchases. Earnings in fiscal 1970 are expected to be well below the 80 cents reported in the year ended January. A flood at one plant and strike at three others held back production. Engineering problems, increased costs and sizable interest expenses will continue to hold down earnings.

In a low-priced issue, I prefer New Jersey-based Channel Companies, a chain of 19 retail building materials and hardware stores. Although founded in 1908, the company went public only last January when 200,000 shares were offered at $5.50. About 64 per cent of the 850,000 outstanding shares are family-owned.

Three new stores, scheduled to open before spring, will increase store space by 74 per cent. In the year ended January, sales were up 6 per cent to $12.5 million while net gained 33 per cent to 37 cents a share on present capitalization. In the first half of the current fiscal year margins improved and net was equal to 31 cents a share. Full-year results should exceed 60 cents including contributions from the new Home Centers. This unseasoned issue is suited only for risk capital.

Q. I have 100 shares of Bio-Dynamics at an average price of 50½. Why is it currently so depressed? — L.S.

A. Disappointing earnings for fiscal 1969 coming in a declining market exaggerated the downside action in these shares. Lower second-quarter net resulted in 40 cents a share versus 42 cents for the six months through Aug. 31. Bio-Dynamic's, "United System," a portable blood-testing laboratory, has excellent potential not only from initial sales but from replacement sales of the required chemicals. These highly volatile shares could react to good news as dynamically as they have to bad.

Fish Exports Up

THE HAGUE (UPI)—Dutch exports of fish products last year rose from 173,000 tons to 181,000 tons, from $76 million worth to $83 million worth. Imports of fish products rose last year from 63,500 to 68,000 tons, from $27 million to $31.8 million worth.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Yacht, Cruiser Shipment Due Concorde Yacht Sales Outlet

A fleet of Concorde fiberglass yachts and Owens cruisers is scheduled to be delivered this week to Clipper Yacht Harbor, Sausalito, for a newly established business — Concorde Yacht Sales.

This is a facrory-owned and operated dealership of Concorde-Owens (a division of Brunswick Corp.) and its entry into Marin signals the end of an Owens dealership of many years standing for B. R. (Bud) Lowrie in San Rafael.

Concorde-Owens, headquartered in Baltimore, already has two other factory-owned dealerships in Essex, Conn. and Houston, Texas — and it is expected that more will appear in a number of other areas. Bruce Barndt, manager in Sausalito reports that the cost of maintaining individual dealership and necessary boat inventories has increased to the point where it is difficult for local firms to continue handling them — so Concorde-Owens is following other boat manufacturers in setting up company-owned facilities.

Barndt, a resident of Danville, has been with Concorde-Owens since 1957 and will continue representing the firm from San Diego to Seattle. A full sales force will be set up in Sausalito and a grand opening will be held Nov. 14, 15 and 16, with hours from noon to 5 p.m. on Friday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Lowrie said he will probably change the name of his boat sales operation from Owens-Marin Yacht Sales to Marin Yacht Sales and continue his Lowrie Yacht Harbor at 40 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael. He will still carry his Islander line of sailboats and sell used boats. Later he may take on another powercraft line.

NOW MOVED from 1200 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, to new offices at 117 Paul Drive Northgate Industrial Park is the Redwood Empire agency of California Western States Life Insurance Co. and Cal-Western Securities Co., under the management of Paul B. Lucas.

Associated in this office are David R. St. Johnson and Stryker Warren, registered representatives, and David A. Pekonen. Mrs. I. Louise Brehm is office secretary.

Louis Davis, assistant manager, has been transferred to the Napa area, where Cal-Western will open a new branch Nov. 15. Both this office and the Santa Rosa office under assistant manager William Bursten are directed by Lucas from the Northgate office.

Gereghty Flood

JOSEPH A. GEREGHTY JR. of Kentfield has joined the Charles J. Francis Co., San Rafael investment securities firm, as an account executive. He is a director of McPhail's, Inc. and of College of Marin's Alumnae Association and a principle in the recently announced new Marin firm, Centrol Systems, Inc. He will give special attention to investors clubs and to organizing groups of small investors.

JERROL L. FLOOD of Ross has been elected assistant vice president of Industrial Indemnity Co. He joined the company in 1955 as an underwriting trainee at San Francisco. A year later he moved to the property insurance department. Since last year he has been personnel manager at the San Francisco home office where he will continue in companywide personnel administration.

To Build Plant

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI) Dupont Co. will build a plant at Burnside, La., to make 150 million pounds of Hydroflouric acid annually. The plant ultimately will employ 50.

Market On Mixed Side At Closing

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished mixed today in moderately active trading.

Volume was around 12 million shares, slightly below Friday's pace.

The market gained support early in the session from a carryover of last week's demand.

Among the most active issues on the big board were Benguet, Skyline Corp., Computer Sciences, and American Smelting.

Electronics swung rather sharply, but in both directions. IBM closed up 1 3-4 to 366 3-4, and AT&T was off 3-8 to 53 1-2. Oils showed scattered strength, while most chemicals fell from their best levels. Dupont closed at 122 1-8, up 1-8, and Texaco also gained 1-8 to 30 7-8.

Steels traded narrowly. The American Iron & Steel institute reported a drop of almost 3 per cent in steel output for the weekended Nov. 8. U.S. Steel closed up 1-2 to 38 and Bethlehem was up 3-4 to 29 7-8.

Memorex, down more than 2 in mid-session, continued to attract selling pressure after last week's big loss. It reported a sharply lower third quarter net.

Computer Ready For Airborne Use

NEW YORK (UPI)—RCA Corp. has announced development of a computer it said is capable of handling data management tasks aboard an airborne command post.

RCA also said it is studying such an airborne command post, from which missiles and aircraft could be directed in the event ground control centers are destroyed, under an air Force contract.

The computer, Model 215, is no larger than an office desk, yet has a speed of 400,000 operations per second possessed only by commercial systems several times its size, RCA said.

RCA said it plans to have the 215 available for initial operation and demonstration in the first half of 1970.

Over-Age Outsiders Deny College To Resident Youth

Should Marin high school graduates be forced to seek higher education elsewhere because out-of-county youth and older students fill the classrooms of their community junior college?

Almost anyone would answer "no," but such a situation is developing at College of Marin.

The college has outgrown its facilities. It has not outgrown them solely through increasing numbers of high school graduates in the county. It has outgrown them to large extent because increasing share of its enrollment consists of persons over 21 and from outside Marin County.

Solving the problem is not simple. But there may be ways.

SO FAR, college district trustees have proceeded on the sssumption that it is the community college's responsibility to offer a free education for all. This may be its goal, but its responsibility must first be to those graduating from high schools within its own district who want additional vocational or academic education.

It was for this latter purpose that the junior colleges came into existence as district colleges. This differentiates them from the state colleges and state university, which are empowered to make their own admission rules, and which charge additional fees to those from out of state — and may, if they wish, deny such students admission.

The California Education Code says the junior colleges must admit all high school graduates. Elsewhere in the code, however, are sections which provide for special treatment, through inter-district agreements or fees, for those from outside the junior college district.

THE PRINCIPAL problem arises with those over 21 years old.

Until the age of 21, a youth is — unless married or wholly self-supporting — a resident wherever his parents reside. If the family moves, he must be admitted to school in the new place of residence.

On attaining 21, however, the youth may move wherever he wishes and that becomes his legal residence. The U.S. Supreme Court last year ruled that wefare assistance could not be denied on the basis of insufficient residence. Some lawyers think that might apply also to education — even to education beyond high school.

Thus, a person who has reached his 21st birthday may move into Marin County, rent a room, and register as a resident at College of Marin.

More than half the college's regular enrollment — not counting the adult school courses — this year is made up of persons over 21. An undertermined number of these are residents only in that they have moved here to attend the school.

Perhaps special law on junior college age limits is needed. In the meantime, however, there are things the college district itself can do to keep its educational facilities available to those for whom they are intended: Marin's own high school graduates.

BECAUSE IT DOES NOT have unlimited facilities, the board may set up priorities on admissions. These can include that no student over the age of 21 will be accepted until applicants who graduated from high schools within the past two years have been registered.

If this were done, at least our own high school graduates for whom the college was established would not be forced out while its facilities are used for outsiders and "perpetual students."

Long Beach Spends $32 Million Of Oil Funds On Queen Mary

By HENRY C. MACARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) —It was nearly two years ago when the great Long Beach move began to finance the Cunard liner Queen Mary as a municipal project financed with state tidelands funds.

The city with a fanfare that received international publicity, purchased the old, outdated and broken down "queen of the seas" from the Cunard line in England for nearly $3.5 million, with the expectation of moving it to Long Beach in one last glorious trip, which would defray the transportation.

But even with the revenue from the trip, it still cost the taxpayers of the state $197,431 of tidelands oil money, which is financing the entire operation, according to a report of the auditor general.

ORIGINALLY, the city of Long Beach planned to have the Queen Mary ready for sightseeing and revenue producing for around 8 million, including the purchase price.

However the time that has elapsed since the rat-infested vessel limped into the Port of Long Beach has caused the original estimate to multiply again and again as was predicted when the state let the city's lobbyists get the state laws relating to tidelands changed so as to make the moves to resuscitate the Queen Mary legal.

Th auditor general of California now estimates that it will cost "at least" $32 million to convert the vessel into a hotel, convention center, tourist attraction and museum. The "at least" assumption presages the theory that the costs of conversion wil be much, much more before the city is done spending oil revenues which many people feel belong rightfully to all the people of the state, rather than the City of Long Beach.

HOWEVER, a million here and a million there apparently makes no difference where the Queen is concerned, for the simple reason that the inflow of money from the rich tideland oil lands off Long Beach apparently is inexhaustible. Also, the state legislature apparently has no compunctions about legalizing expenditures from the fund to cover matters far removed from the functions of harbor development.

Conversion of the vessel alone, the auditor-general's report indicated, has cost more than four times the price of the vessel itself, or a $14,734,563 total against a cost of $3.5 million.

Land-fill costing $1,768,377, to accommodate parking for employees, visitors, and hotel guests is no minor item in the development. The total for site development, the auditor general's report indicates, will be more than four million dollars.

LONG BEACH, bloated with public money, has no intention of stopping with the development of the Queen Mary as a convention center. The auditor-general say "other projects are in the planning stages. Other projects include bridges, some boat marinas, a swimming plaza, fishing pier, arena, auditorium remodeling, redevelopment of certain subsidence-damaged land, and the creation of many acres of filled ocean-front land."

Small wonder that some of the state's heavy taxpayers look askance at the affluence displayed by Long Beach on what many believe is money that rightfully belongs to all the state!

"Nixon just asked for the support of the 'Silent Majority,' not an oath of blind allegiance!"

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

If American democracy is destroyed within the next generation, it will not be destroyed by the Russians or the Chinese but by ourselves, by the means we use to defend it. — J. William Fulbright.

The slogans of the liberalism of one period often become the bulwarks of reaction in a subsequent era. — John Dewey.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Silent American Finds Frustration

This is the second time in my life that I have ever publicly expressed my opinion.

The first time was an hour ago when I tried to answer President Nixon's plea for the silent Americans to speak up.

I called Western Union to send my telegram. After telling the girl I wanted to send it to President Nixon, I was kept waiting on the phone for almost a full 15 minutes, first she needed a pencil and then a piece of paper. My growing anger was the only thing that kept me waiting on the phone.

I thought that all these activists want you to speak out? Perhaps so; but only if you're going to express support in their behalf.

I wonder how many people gave up and didn't out-wait Western Union. Thus remaining a silent American.

Smog Secrecy Facing Court Test

I have taken notice of your Oct. 7 editorial retarding the records policy of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

As you have probably heard, a San Jose group, Citizens Against Air Pollution, will be taking the case to court within a few days attempting to gain the release of the information under the Open Records Act.

We have very little to go on in the way of case law at this point, so I will be as interested as you to see how the court will decide this one.

I have been somewhat distressed by the ever-changing excuses for non-disclosure given by the district's CAO, D.J. Callaghan He seems to have made his decision and then run to the law books in order to find a reason — any reason to justify his action. This kind of response to a public inquiry is typical.

As I understand it, the district's position is currently that certain sections of the Evidence Code relating to trade secrets and privileged communications prevent the release of the data. The court seems to indicate in cases similar to this one, involving the release of the formulas of pesticides which had been sprayed on farm workers, that the trade secret exemption is not absolute. In fact, a temporary order to release pesticide formulas, was granted despite the trade secret argument.

Really then, the whole issue is up in "the air." I doubt whether any statute could ever solve the problem and I remain confident that the basic instructions that the Open Records Act gives the court will stand us in good stead. Let's hope so!

Would Dissolve Bridge District

Why is it not possible for our "progressive" legislators of this area to vote to have the Golden Gate Bridge District dissolved and put under state authority? In the last 10 years we, the people of the Golden Gate Bridge District, involuntarily donated millions for transit studies which end up in the "round file."

We all know the bridge directors and top personnel are people of means, yet they insist on extracting more from the poor "commuter slob."

I believe the people with the five and six figure salaries should go, even though they object, and we get decent transportation to Marin now. It sure is needed.

Report Card Issue Unity Is Urged

Regarding the report card issue in the Reed School District, I appeal to all parents and teachers in the district: Let us work with reason to resolve our differences.

Having expressed our attitudes to the school board, let us now give our board, superintendent, and staff a chance to best serve our children's educational needs. We cannot resolve our differences in philosophy of education in a school library, at a school board meeting. We can, however, urge our administrator, board and staff to take the best ideas from differing points of view in seeking ways to implement a report card program — and then agree to abide by their suggestions.

Let us become an example to other school districts by showing that we are able to come to a meeting of the minds — to live in harmony with our differences. Isn't this after all the best example we can offer our children in educating and preparing them for adult life?

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to a bus driver for Rancho School. Her name is Karen M.

Telegrams Count, But Not People

After saying that he would not be swayed by group pressures regarding his decisions on Vietnam, President Nixon is reported as elated by a stack of telegrams favoring his views.

The counting of pieces of paper is to him a more reliable measure of public opinion than the counting of marching heads, no matter how impressive the number. If the pieces of paper were critical of his position and the marchers in favor, would he not be just as elated by the marchers?

No Stunning Victory For GOP, But Proof It Can Win, If . . .

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Republican National Chairman Rogers Morton is so dizzily pleased with the latest elections that he is instantly predicting that next year the GOP will take it all — a total of the Senate, of the House and more governorships.

Discount this about 50 per cent and you will be nearer to the meaning of the voting last week.

Morton's exaggeration is not necessary to see that President Nixon and the Republican Party got a significant boost. They needed it. Because Richard Nixon is a minority President, leader of a minority party with a minority in both houses of Congress, it is crucial for him to show forward momentum and to demonstrate that presidential coattails are to grasp, not to shun.

MR. NIXON has good reason to feel encouraged by what happened.

1—The GOP added to its political strength where it counts most. It is dominant in the governor ships throughout the country. By winning in New Jersey and Virginia, there are now 32 Republican governors to 18 Democrats, and these include every big industrial state except Texas. Republican governors now rule in states comprising 65 per cent of the American people. It show that the Republican Party is eminently acceptable to the voters.

2—By winning the governorship of Virginia, the GOP turned the long-time political status quo upside down. If the Nixon administration is to have a southern strategy, this is the best kind of southern strategy because it opens the South to genuine two-party politics. There are already two other southern Republican governors — Winthrop Rockefeller in Arkansas and Claude Kirk in Florida.

3—There are lessons for the Republican Party nationally in the three most important victories — New York City, New Jersey and Virginia. In each it was a moderate-to-liberal Republican who won, and this underlined the realistic political fact that only as the GOP continues to moce somewhat to the left of its own center can it become a majority party in the nation capable of electing a majority President.

MAYOR JOHN LINDSAY'S victory in New York City shows that while conservative Republican voters in New York have enough strength to deny the nomination to a GOP liberal, they can do no better than a poor third when it comes to the election itself. Lindsay defeated both a Democratic conservative and a Republican conservative by a larger plurality than he got four years ago.

The same happened in New Jersey — only in reverse. Conservative Republicans tried to deny the nomination for governor to Rep. William Cahill, who has a moderate-to-liberal voting record in the House of Representatives. They failed in the primary, and Cahill won the election overwhelmingly, ending 16 years of Democratic rule.

In the Republican victory in Virginia, Gov. -Elect A. Linwood Holton is no conventional southern conservative. He won the endorsement of union leaders of the state AFL-CIO and a Negro organization, Crusade for Victor Voters.

IF SOME NIXON strategists thought that the best way to lift the Republican Party out of its minority status was to be soft on civil rights in the South, they are not likely to be persuasive with the President. Holton wasn't soft on civil rights. And the Republican governorship victories in the populous industrial states prove that the GOP is capable of winning where most of the voters are.

President Nixon contributed importantly to these victories. He campaigned personally in behalf of the Republican candidates in Virginia and New Jersey. You can't measure how much he helped, but if his candidates had lost you can just picture the headlines: "Stunning Defeat for Nixon."

It may not be exactly a stunning Nixon victory, but it may well be a clue of the shape of things to come.

Lawmaker Feathers Own Nest By Defending OEO

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — For Rep. Carl Perkins, D-Ky., chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, vigorously defending the anti-poverty program a case of self-interest and feathering his political nest.

Many more millions in anti-poverty funds have been bestowed on his congressional district than on any other in Kentucky.

In the five years the program has been in operation, Perkins' district, the seventh in eastern Kentucky, has gotten more than $72 million out of a total of upwards of $251 million for the whole state.

Closest to this remarkable record is the fifth District, which has two Job Corps centers, it has received only $41,361,000.

IT IS A legitimate assumption that Perkin's being head of the Education and Labor Committee, which handles anti-poverty legislation, has a lot to do with his largely rural district being favored so signally

For weeks, Gov. Louis Nunn of Kentucky has been trying to get a hearihg before the Education and Labor Committee to air complaints against OEO. Following is an illustration:

"Before OEO," the Kentucky state executive told a bipartisan group of commiteemen, "one of our counties had 3,160 on relief. In the last several years, OEO has put around $10 million into that county — to 'eliminate poverty,' so they said. That county now has 6,500 on public welfare. I contend we cannot afford that kind of 'poverty elimination'."

Nunn's efforts to appear before Perkin's committee have been supported by influential committeemen -- Reps. William Scherle, R-Iowa; Edith Green, Ore., second-ranking Democrat, and Albert Quie, Minn., second-ranking Republican.

PERKINS FLATLY balked. Finally, Scherle raised the issue on the floor of the full House.

"There are governors, state attorneys general and state auditors who have repeatedly said they want an opportunity to be heard by the committee," he said. "There have been hearings, but all the testimony was from officials of OEO. Naturally it was all favorable. There was not a single witness invited to testify against OEO, or anyone outside of the 'establishment'."

Under this public prodding, Perkins finally made a concession— of sorts. He indicated willingness to allow critics and opponents to testify — after the pending multi-billion dollar bill to continue OEO unchanged for two more years is reported to the House for consideration.

"That's comparable," retorted Scherle acidly, "to locking the barn door after the horse is gone."

PERKINS' SEVENTH district is largely rural with no big cities. Ashland, the largest, is around 40,000. Its main industry is a sizable oil plant.

Yet the adjoining sixth District, with a slightly larger population, got only one-tenth the anti-poverty funds of the Seventh. The sixth with 266,427 poor, got only $53 per capita as against $294 for the seventh with 238,120 poor.

Supervisors In Secret Meetings Flout Law And Public Interest

County supervisors told us they needed a series of secret meetings to discuss hiring and firing in Mental Health Land.

We believed them and went along with the unprecedented series of almost 10 secret meetings in four weeks.

Before and after each private session, Chairman John McInnis would assure us in sonorous tones that they would touch on nothing but hiring, firing, and charges against Doctors Miller and Wilson. County Counsel Doug Maloney and Administrator Alan Bruce likewise assured us they wouldn't think of condoning any discussion other than hiring, firing and hearing charges.

SO 10 SECRET meetings later, supervisors finally come up with several public pronouncements, and the evidence is astounding. They'd been discussing hiring and firing all right, but they'd also been making major policy decisions and agreed on drastic changes in the structure of the mental health program, all behind closed doors.

Their private, hush-hush meetings so routine and so comfortable that they forgot or ignored their responsibility to the public. They began by hearing charges against Dr. Clyde Miller and Dr. Donald Wilson but got sidetracked into policy issues. They got personalities mixed up with structure and wound up discussing the entire field of mental health — division of authority, chain of command, where outpatients should go, who should handle inpatients, the county's jurisdiction, etc.

From carelessness, a "public be damned" attitude, or from an exaggerated sense of their own importance, the supervisors (at least four of them) decided to restructure mental health services, taking outpatient services away from the hospital and bringing it under county control, all in secret. They assumed the roles of judge, jury and executioner, not only over public officials, but also over policy matters that have nothing to do with hiring, firing or charges.

EVERY WEEK, supervisors go through the tedious formality of public hearings — to raise a homeowner's tax by $10, or to abate an old barn, or to put in a stop sign — all in the name of the public's right to participate in the decision making.

Then with virtually no public hearing and not even advance notice, they decide that the county's $2 million mental health program should be split up under two separate bosses — mental health center on the one hand and the County of Marin on the other.

True, that decision is not final, but through no fault of the supervisors. It is not final only because the hospital board refused to go along. If the hospital board, meeting in secret with the supervisors, had agreed to split inpatient from outpatient, the retsructuring would have been a fait accompli, with not a voice raised in support or opposition from members of the public, mental health agencies, or the patients who use the services.

NO BOARD of supervisors, not even one that's chaired by the "father of ABAG," can consider itself so wise and omnipotent that it can discuss major policy changes such as reconstructing the mental health program, or reapportioning the county fire department cost, or allowing offshore oil drilling, all in secret with no public participation.

Why didn't the county counsel or the county administrator remind supervisors they were going beyond hiring and firing and wandering into policy? Maybe they tried, who knows? But county counsel and the county administrator are both hired by the supervisors. It's easier for them to keep quiet and acquiesce. Then, only if questioned as to legality, will they begin looking for legal and technical excuses why their bosses can restructure a mental health program in secret because it's all related to hiring and firing.

THAT WOULD BE like saying: "Well, we started out to hear charges against a disgruntled fire warden. But in the process we discovered he was unhappy because it's cold and isolated in the lookout tower. So we decided to restructure the fire department under one department for all cities and the county, and to build a heated $100,000 lookout tower for the warden, and a "copter to take him back and forth.

"Why did we do all that in secret? Well, it was all related to charges against the fire warden, wasn't it? And that is none of the public's business."

ANY BOARD which thinks it can make policy decisions in secret and then palm them off as legal by-products of hiring and firing is selling the taxpaying public short.

In this instance, the public has a right to some voice in shaping the future structure of the mental health program. If the supervisors want to split inpatient from outpatient, let them. But let them do so in open discussion, instead of by stealth and deception behind doors closed ostensibly for "hiring, firing, and hearing charges."

Will Four Horsemen Ride Again As Result Of 'Numbers Game'?

First there was a flurry, then quickly a blizzard of literature telling us of the dramatic population explosion. In the days of Christ there were estimated to be 300 million people on earth, in 1850 there were one billion, by 1925 the count reached two billion, by 1962 three billion and by 1975, it is said there'll be four billion and a mere seven years after that, five billion!

Graphs and statistics tell us of rising crime rates, of poverty and hunger, of air and water pollution and a host of other problems associated with the people boom.

AS MEDIEVAL alchemists sought to convert base metal into gold, today's scientists busy themselves seeking to convert algae into "gag-proof" edibles, or converting crude oil into tasty protein and other interesting, if not, distracting excercises—distracting, I say, because these do not serve as solutions but to postpone the inevitable. But where is the Solomon to provide us with acceptable alternatives, with liveable solutions?

We are facing a crisis. We are in a head-on collision course with brutal reality. To avert catastrophe we must first recognize it as a very real danger. The time is now, right now, for all thoughtful people to ask the impolite questions, the hard questions that snap at us like naked fangs.

IT'S A NUMBERS game we're in and it's being played with people. Playing this game is deceptive for it makes us think in terms of numbers which leads us to counting our resources, measuring space and calculating our food production, etc.—all vitally important, but not solutions for, as I've said, they are a holding action and distracting from the more cogent issues.

Masses of humanity tiered, layered and packaged in clusters of mega-cities may be brilliant examples of engineering, efficiency and organization, but that's not enough. Beehives are also models of engineering, efficiency and organization. The devastating and demoralizing effect of "high density living" (the social planners' euphemism for crammed existence) has been found in laboratory experiments with rats. Already our mushrooming crime rates, psychotic and neurotic problems indicate that man's capacity to live with dignity under high density conditions is in grave doubt.

The effect of such an existence upon the individual would be to reverse the direction and the goals that man has worked for down through the centuries. Increased governmental control would evolve into governmental tyranny. The preservation of the individual, his opportunity, his personal freedom, his need and right to privacy, his right to pursue happiness, would be smothered in a world that would tolerate nothing other than complete conformity and strict adherence to the morals and ethics of the hive.

WHEN THERE'S standing room only, quality of living loses all meaning. Ethics, morality, religion, philosophy and art as we know them will decay and the anathematic beliefs of today will be the holy creeds of tomorrow.

Nowhere in the human experience do we find the problems that come with the population densities facing us. And as the density increases the shorter will become the distance to a universal Auschwitz, a Buchenwald on every street corner of our Brave New World.

This then is the numbers game. And this is the countdown. Will man find the solution? Or will nature do its lively and deadly work? Will the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse ride again to the rescue?

Don't Write For Yearbook

WASHINGTON (UPI) —If you want a copy of the Agriculture Department's 1969 Yearbook, "Food for Us All," please don't write to the department, officials said.

Accounts of the new book's publication last week brought a "large number" of requests for the volume, but officials said they have no copies available for pub.ic distribution.

A spokesman pointed out that the 1969 yearbook, as in the case of past annuals, will be distributed through Congress and the Government Printing Office.

Each senator gets 550 copies and each House member gets 400 for free distribution to constituents. The book may also be purchased for $3.50 per copy from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Garrison In Race Again

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Flamboyant Jim Garrison, who became a center of controversy for his handling of a John F. Kennedy assassination probe, appears headed for his third four-year term as district attorney.

The 6-foot-7 Garrison easily won the Democratic nomination Saturday with 84,992 votes and will face Republican Phil Trice in the April 1970 general election.

His nearest rival, former Asst. U.S. Atty. Harry F. Connick, received 60,385 votes. Two former Garrison aides ran third and fourth, Charles R. Ward getting 7,587 votes and Ross T. Scaccia 4,523.

Connick said the Kennedy investigation might have been a major factor in Garrison's victory.

PERFECT DAY FOR SAILING TO WORK

Ferries made a triumphant return to Tiburon today, resuming commuter service to San Francisco for the first time since interrupted by a strike June 3. Here, the Harbor Carriers vessel takes 96 commuters on the 8:30 a.m. run across the bay. The 7 a.m. ferry carried 259 passengers. En route under shining skies, they made the most of the coffee and doughnuts and the newspapers provided for the run. The first sailing came exactly seven hours after a new state law went into effect, permitting the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to operate ferries. On hand to cheer the resumption of service were city officials of Tiburon and Belvedere. (Independent-Journal photo)

Rockefeller Urges Latin Nations Pact

Security Idea In Special Report On South America

WASHINGTON (P) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller proposed to President Richard M. Nixon the creation of a Western Hemisphere Security Council to cope with the "forces of subversion" that operate throughout nations of the Inter-American Alliance.

Rockefeller also urged reversing the recent downward trend in U.S. grants for assisting the training of security forces in other western hemisphere countries.

The recommendations were included in Rockefeller's Latin American report to Nixon which had been kept secret since it was delivered to the President last Sept. 3. It was made public today by the White House.

The security recommendations were ignored by Nixon in his Oct. 31 Latin America policy statement. However, virtually all of the other proposals included in Nixon's statement were based on proposals by Rockefeller, who made a series of trips to the region in behalf of the President earlier this year.

"The purpose of the council would be to help the hemisphere countries work together in creating and preserving the kind of orderly envirionment, free from terror and violence, in which each citizen of each country can build a better life for himself and his family," Rockefeller said.

He urged that the council have its headquarters outside the United States. Of his recommendation for increasing security grants for Americans hemispheric neighbors Rockefeller said in the report:

"In view of the growing subversion against hemisphere governments, the mounting terrorism and violence against citizens, and the rapidly expanding population, it is essential that the training program which brings military and police personnel from other hemisphere nations to the United States and to training centers in Panama to be continued and strengthened."

Rockefeller said that Latin American military leaders had told him they were puzzled by the reduction of U.S. military assistance grants in view of the "growing intensity of the subversive activities they face."

He attributed the problem, in part, to Cuba's Fidel Castro.

"Castro's recent restatement of his policy indicates no change in objectives," Rockefeller said. "Rather he reaffirms his revolutionary concept and establishes a new set of priorities and conditions under which Cuban supports for revolutionaries will be given."

Rockefeller also urged that the United States respond to:

Requests for assistance of the police and security forces of the hemisphere nations by providing them with essential tools to do their job. Reasonable requests for truck jeeps, helicopters and like equipment should be met, he said.

Requests for military and technical training missions. He urged however that the United States eliminate the permanent military missions in Latin America which he said too often have "constituted too large and too visible the United States presence.

Requests for aircraft, ships and other military equipment. He urged that amendments prohibiting such sales under certain conditions be modified, saying they should be allowed for the more developed nations of the hemisphere to meet internal security needs.

Nixon Gets 'Excellent' Health Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon had a complete physical check-up today and his doctor, Walter R. Tkach reported that: "The President is in excellent physical condtion."

Nixon flew from the White House to the Naval Hospital in suburban Bethesda, Md. by helicopter and stayed for nearly two hours.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said that it was the usual annual physical examination and Nixon was given all the tests normally given to individuals undergoing such an examination.

It was Ziegler who relayed Tkach's quote that Nixon was in excellent shape.

Nixon's last physical was on Jan. 2 and another will be slated about a year from now.

Dr. Tkach supervised today's examination. Ziegler said tests included blood pressure, blood analysis and heart check. Ziegler added the tests interpreted were found to be in normal limits and Tkach expects the others to be.

"It was just a routine physical with a routine result," the President commented to newsmen as he left the hospital.

The President returned to the White House late yesterday after a long weekend in Florida and the Bahamas. From all accounuts, Nixon kept official business to a minimum during the holiday that began Thursday evening.

Agnew Continues War On Protesters

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew described Vietnam protest demonstrations today as a pointless "carnival in the streets" which proves nothing.

Agnew spoke out as both critics and backers of President Richard M. Nixon's policy began a week of demonstrations in the controversy over America's Vietnam War involvement.

Groups backing the President highlight their activities with Veterans Day ceremonies in Washington tomorrow. Critics plan a massive march and anti-war rally in Washington Saturday.

Agnew said, "The mob, the mobilization, the moratorium have become somewhat fashionable forms of citizen expression. They are negative in content, disruptive in effect. They inflame emotions rather than stimulate solutions."

Agnew called for recognition of "a silent young majority who go to school, and to work and to war if necessary."

He said they have been "overshadowed by the strident minority who arrogate unto themselves voice, virtue and power out of proportion to their numbers, and even more out of proportion to their abilities."

His speech was prepared for the National Municipal League, meeting in Philadelphia.

While a Republican and a Democratic senator became the first to announce they will participate in Saturday's mass rally to protest the war, Agnew urged Americans to "raise our voices in spirited defense of the most successful society the world has yet known.

Sens. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., and Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., announced they will address a Vietnam protest Saturday, breaking with a general hands-off attitude in the Senate.

The two war-policy critics issued a joint statement saying they will participate in the rally planned by the New Mobilization Committee.

The committee is still negotiating with the Justice Department for a parade permit covering the route of a mass march to that rally. Protest leaders had sought to parade down Pennsylvania Avenue past the White House, but the department refused to approve that route and said it would be blocked with force if necessary.

Senate critics of the war who had embraced the Oct. 15 Vietnam moratorium have generally declined involvement in the November protests.

On another front, several thousand troops across the country have been alerted to be ready for possible air-lifting to Washington in case violence erupts during this week's scheduled moratorium activities in the nation's capital.

The Pentagon acknowledged that the word to be ready had gone out, but declined to say which units or how many are involved.

Among troops outside Washington that could be made available in addition to a total of about 28,000 military personnel stationed in the city's area, it was known, are elements of the 82nd air borne division at Fort Brag, N.C.

Jerry Friedheim, Pentagon spokesman, acknowledged that forces outside a 100 mile radius of Washington were informed that they might be summoned to Washington.

14-Year-Old Is Foiled In Try To Hijack Plane In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 14-year-old Norwood, Ohio, boy threatened to hijack a Chicago-bound Delta Airlines passenger plane at the Greater Cincinnati Airport today but failed.

He was taken into custody before the plane left the ground.

An airport statement, issued after FBI agents arrived on the scene, identified the youth as David Lawrence Booth.

The girl he threatened was identified as Gloria Jean House, 18, of Milford, Ohio.

The airport statement said the youth approached Miss House at Delta Gate 5 and drew a butcher knife.

George East, the manager at the Delta station, said he talked with the boy and asked him where he wanted to go. He said the youth couldn't make up his mind.

Later, he said he wanted to go to Sweden.

East said the boy was told that the plane did not have enough fuel for the flight and that a DC9 would not make such a trip.

The boy then said he wanted to go to Mexico.

Delta officials said that to make a showing after the boy and his hostage boarded the plane, they taxied it to the runway, but it had been boarded by Byron Dickey, airport general manager, and Byron Kinman, airport police chief.

They walked in the front door as passengers were boarding.

Out on the runway, Kinman approached Booth and persuaded him to give up his hostage and the knife.

The plane then was brought back to the boarding gate.

The airport statement said "with fast, decisive action by Delta, the hijacking was averted."

There was no immediate word as to whether Miss House was waiting to board the plane or whether she merely had been standing at the gate.

Officers said the youth also had a bottle of ink with a wick in it and Miss House said he claimed it was a bomb.

Miss House had gone to the airport to see her grandmother, Mrs. Eulalia Armstrong of Cincinnati, off on a flight to Mexico City. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. House.

Asked if she knew why Booth happened to pick on her as a hostage, she said, "I don't know, maybe just because I was closest to him."

Price Of Gold Plunges Again

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold on the London free market plunged to its lowest level in 18 months today and dealers predicted further falls.

The price was fixed at $37.50 a fine ounce. This was 95 cents less than Friday's price and compares with a peak of $42.825 reached on March 10 this year at the height of the frenzied gold rush reflecting widespread loss of confidence in paper money.

Dealers said the slump in the metal was due to a rapidly growing confidence in paper money.

Closed Session On Herkenhoff

The Marin Junior College District board will sit in closed session with acting Supt.-President Louis H. Herkenhoff at 7:30 p.m. today in Herkenhoff's office to discuss his dismissal as superintendent - president when John A. Grasham assumes that post.

The meeting was called at Herkenhoff's request, according to Earlene Jones, public information officer at College of Marin.

The board last week announced Grasham's appointment as superintendent-president to end a nine-month search.

Herkenhoff, whose contract runs until June 30, 1970, has been acting superintendent-president since May 1968, after the resignation of William K. Ramstad from the post.

State Employees' Pay Hike Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Salary hikes of 5 to 10 per cent were proposed for state employees today by the State Personnel Board. The cost would be $37 million.

The recommendation is tentative. It came from a series of hearings the board held last week in Sacramento.

The board suggested a five per cent hike for about 80 per cent of the state's more than 100,000 workers and a 10 per cent hike for the rest.

"It is based on estimates of a lag in state salaries behind those in private industry and other governmental agencies by spring 1970," the board said in a press statement.

The 111,000-member California State Employes Association submitted a proposal last week for pay hikes totaling $191.5 million, ranging from 6 per cent to 22 per cent.

Bomb-Carrying Plane Crashes

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) -- A bombs plunged into the Mediterranean off the Sicilian coast today, an Italian Air Force general reported.

The U.S. 6th Fleet in Naples confirmed that a plane was down but declined to comment on the report about the bombs.

"We still don't know what kind of aircraft it was," said Gen. Enzo Giovanni, but he added the plane was armed with some kind of bombs.

Whether the bombs were nuclear was not reported.

100 Marin Youths Help Chart Future

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke called on delegates to a governor's youth conference today to decide the quality of life they want when they are adults.

Reinecke opened the two-day conference, one of two being held in the state, by noting that California's 20 million population is going to double in the next 30 years.

"We must double all the facilities of the state of California," he said.

Recommendations of youths proposed during the meeting, and one in Anaheim, will be put together to formulate California's presentation to the 1970 White House Conference on Children and Youth.

About 100 Marin County youth were among those on hand in Sacramento's Memorial Auditorium as Reinecke opened the meeting.

The invocation was given by Rev. John J. O'Connor, director of Roman Catholic Social Services in Marin County, who said, "Help us to build bridges between generations."

Jewell Barrow, Marin City, a young adult worker with Project Breakthrough in the Tamalpais School District, was asked what she thought would come from the conference.

"Nothing really is going to come out of it," she said, adding she was in Sacramento to see what government has to say about education, welfare and the like.

A total of 75 workshop sessions will be held including some "rap sessions" between the youngsters and legislators. Among the legislators on hand for the opening were Sens. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco and Lewis F. Sherman, R-Berkeley.

The keynote speaker was Daniel J. Ransohoff, community director of family services in Cincinnati.

Dolwig Will Seek Senate Reelection

SAN MATEO (UPI)—Republican Sen. Richard J. Dolwig of Atherton announced today he well seek reelection to his fifth straight term in the state Senate.

Dolwig, fifth in Senate seniority and chairman of the governmental efficiency committee, was first elected to the Senate in 1956. Previously, he was an assemblyman for 10 years.

Helicopter Pitch In Cutting Crime Rate

A proposal to fight crime from the air — more cheaply, more efficiently, more effectively than from the ground — was outlined today for Marin law enforcement officers in a meeting at the Civic Center.

The plan for instituting helicopter patrols was discussed by Richard P. Turley, regional sales manager for Hughes Helicopter of San Jose, currently the only kind being used for police patrol work.

Calling it "the first major breakthrough in law enforcement," Turley reported statistics from some of the 25 California cities now using helicopters with a resulting drop in the crime rate.

For example, in Lakewood near Los Angeles, there was an 8.8 per cent drop in the crime rate in an 18-month period, according to Turley, while a nearby city which did not use the helicopter had a 25.2 per cent increase during the same period.

Turley said the chopper is effective in deterring crimes such as car theft, burglaries, car clouts, vandalism and most everything else except homicide.

The drop in vandalism alone, he said, is covering the cost of the helicopter in some cities. In Lakewood, for example, there was a 67 per cent reduction in vandalism at schools in the first year of helicopter patrols.

He said Marin schools currently have $270,000 in vandalism annually and reducing that by a third would pay for operating the chopper.

The helicopter can also be used for traffic control, crowd control, rescues (it can land on the water) and for other city officials such as the building inspector.

It carries a crew of two and is usually in the air as an "eye in the sky" but it can land on a city street or in a back yard if necessary.

The helicopter costs $41,000 with floats for water landings and the firm guarantees an operating cost of $23.50 an hour, he said.

However, the chopper can patrol 35 square miles in five hours while a patrol can cover only one square mile.

Answering questions for the law enforcement officers and others attending, Turley said the chopper can be used in heavily wooded areas effectively but it cannot do well in fog, just as a patrol car has problems with fog.

Cong Document Backs Moratorium

SAIGON (AP) — A Viet Cong document found 30 miles east of Saigon calls for intensive attacks in that region this weekend to support the antiwar protest march on Washington Saturday, official sources said today.

The sources said the document was taken last Tuesday from the body of either a courier or a liaison officer who was killed in a firefight with Australian forces.

The directive, believed to have been issued by the Viet Cong's local headquarters at Vung Tau, was dated Oct. 27.

It said: "In support of the upcoming struggle of the American people for peace of South Vietnam and the withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Vietnam, we are to launch intensive attacks in all aspects on the enemy on Nov. 14-15."

The directive called on Viet Cong forces to kill officials representing the Saigon government in hamlets and villages "to gradually break loose the administrative grip and to accelerate the annihilation movement in support of the struggle campaign for peace which will be initiated by the American people on Nov. 15."

The allied sources said the directive may have been issued only for propaganda and psychological purposes to boost the morale of the Viet Cong and that the attacks may not be made.

Meanwhile, North Vietnamese troops kept up their pressure in the Mekong Delta and in the Central Highlands. In the delta they ambushed a South Vietnamese convoy and mauled a platoon of militiamen. In the highlands they attacked an American airfield.

Nine militiamen were killed and seven wounded when a North Vietnamese force overran an outpost manned by 35 men near the district town of Tri Ton in the Seven Mountains region. There was no word of enemy casualties.

The North Vietnamese at the same time shelled Tri Ton and another militia position nearby, wounding 11 civilians and three militiamen.

Demos Unite In Bid To Oust Reagan, But For How Long?

FRESNO (AP) — California Democrats came away from a weekend conference today united by their desire to oust Gov. Ronald Reagan and Sen. George Murphy from office in the 1970 election.

They set out the issues at the conference with which to confront the Republicans.

But there was an uneasy feeling on the part of many of the leaders that all this harmony would come unglued in typical California Democratic fashion between now and voting day.

What could do it would be bitter primary fights over the nominations for governor and senator.

San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto and Assembly Democratic Leader Jesse M. Unruh are opening bidding for support for the gubernatorial nomination in the June 2 primary, even though months will elapse before the filing deadline. Each kept dropping hints that the other would — or should — drop out in the interests of party unity.

One man who believes Unruh and Alioto can go through a primary contest without wrecking the party's hopes of ousting Republicans Reagan and Murphy is Leon Cooper of Los Angeles, Southern California Democratic chairman and chairman of the weekend "Project 70" issues conference.

"A contested primary need not destroy our chances," Cooper said. "Reagan won a contested primary and we can too."

And he said the official party machinery would not be used in an effort to persaude either potential candidate to step aside for the other.

"No deals will be made," he said.

There are three open potential contenders for Murphy's seat— U. S. Reps. Phillip Burton of San Francisco, George Brown of Los Angeles and John V. Tunney of Riverside. A three-way race could put all three in jeopardy.

Most of the major noncandidates held open house throughout the weekend at hospitality suites. They shook hands and greeted conference delegates whole aides passed out campaign brochures and campaign buttons.

Appearing side-by-side during a panel discussion, Unruh and Alioto were in basic agreement on a varity of issues — from dealing with campus dissidents to tax reform.

They posed together for photographers.

But there was on open crossfire when Unruh's men distributed results of an opinion poll which they said showed Unruh was the clear choice of Democrats to tackle Reagan.

Alioto called the poll tactic "a power play" and said it was obviously the result of "a nervous stomach" on Unruh's part.

Haynsworth Draws 39th Senate Foe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., announced today he will vote against confirmation of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. as a Supreme Court justice, while Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., declared his support of the embattled nominee.

McIntyre's announcement brought to 39 the number of votes against Haynsworth in an Associated Press survey. Another 10 senators were counted as leaning against confirmation.

Including Dole, 36 senators are declared supporters of President Nixon's nominee.

"There has been an abundance of unjust criticism and unless there is some valid revelation not hertofore made, when the roll is called, I shall vote aye," Dole said in a statement.

But McIntyre said he felt the nomination of Judge Haynsworth "has proved to be most unfortunate." He said Haynsworth's record does not meet the "very high standards" required of a Supreme Court nominee.

Freed GI Tells Of Good Red Treatment

SAIGON (AP) — One of the three GIs released by the Viet Cong last week says he would hesitate to fight them again because they treated him well, and the other two say the South Vietnamese army should take over the bulk of the fighting.

"I'd have to think twice" before fighting Viet Cong again, Pfc. Coy R. Tinsley of Cleveland, Tenn., said yesterday. "I was wounded. They took real good care of me."

But under questioning by newsmen, Tinsley said his attitude toward the war had not changed: "Our government thinks it's right—I think it's right."

Tinsley, Sp./4 Willie A. Watkins of Sumter, S.C., and Sp./4 James H. Strickland of Dunn, S.C., left Saigon Sunday for Japan. After spending the night at Yokota Air Base, the three 22-year-olds will arrive in the United States tomorrow.

In a news conference before leaving, the trio said they were given Viet Cong propaganda pamphlets to read and were allowed to listen to Radio Hanoi.

But Watkins, who was captured with Strickland in January 1968, said the Viet Cong "very seldom" tried to convince them the U.S. involvement in the war was wrong. He said the three spent a lot of time "talking and playing games of cards, checkers and chess."

Asked how he felt about the war, Watkins said the South Vietnamese army "should carry more responsibility than the American troops. I feel we just should give the ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) support. This is the way I thought all the time."

"I think that if the people here want to have a free government, they should fight for it," said Strickland. "My own opinion is that we've had too much to do with it. A lot of GIs have died here. It's time for the ARVNs to take over the war and fight it themselves."

Watkins said he "never did hate" the enemy.

"Due to the circumstances that we have two political forms of government altogether different, I consider them my enemies," he explained.

Denies Charge

ROME (AP) — Marvin Mitchelson, the California lawyer who is in Italy to look after the interests of plane hijacker Raphael Minichiello, denied today that he is here "as an agent of the American government."

He refused to say who had accused him of being an agent, but he asserted: "I have not been contacted by the State Department, the CIA or any other government body. I am not here to get him extradited to America."

He would not say, however, whether he would oppose a formal extradition request if one were received.

Mitchelson said he was asked to look out for the 20-year-old Marine corporal by Minichielli's mother and sister in Seattle, Wash., by his father in Italy, and by the defendant himself.

Estate Shrinks

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward (Daddy) Browning's estate, shrunken from $20 million when he died in 1934 to $684,000 has finally been settled.

Browning and Frances (Peaches) Heenan made headlines with their marriage in 1926, when he was 51 and she was 16, and a subsequent divorce with a spicy testimony.

Browning's will left his estate to a benevolent foundation, which will now receive what remains under a plan approved by a surrogate.

The will had been contested by a Browning ward, Dorothy Sunshine Browning, who received $2.6 million from the estate before her death in 1968.

Furniture Haul

CHICAGO (AP) — Burglars carted an estimated $500,000 worth of imported furniture out of a Chicago wholesale showroom yesterday.

A janitor, Allen Clover, 66, walked in on the thieves during the burglary and was bound and gagged as the robbers finished clearing the John Strauss showroom.

John Strauss, 50, the proprietor, set his loss at "at least $500,000" and said, "The showroom is bare." He added that many of the pieces required three or four men to lift and estimated that the thieves took six truckloads of furniture.

Wounded Policeman Reported Improved

Petaluma police officer Vilho Ahola, who was shot in the neck Friday, was reported as improved and in fair condition today with the extent of paralyzation still unknown.

Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital officials said Ahola, 42, had improved rapidly since umdergoing surgery to remove a bullet lodged next to the spinal cord. Police Chief Larry D. Higgins said it will be several days until the extent of paralyzation can be determined.

Ahola's accused assailant, Walter Lee Hale, 51, of 718 I Street, Petaluma, was scheduled for arraignment at 1:30 p.m. today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court. Police said he would be charged with assault with intent to commit murder on a police officer.

Ahola was shot Friday shortly before 11 a.m. when he was at the Hale home assisting Helen Hale in the removal of presonal items. The couple had had an argument the night before and Mrs. Hale said she was moving out of the home for her own protection.

Police said the officer was shot with a .25-caliber German made revolver in the living room of the home.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Royal Hunt' Shines As Brilliant As Sun

By KARL BARRON

"The Royal Hunt of the Sun," now being presented by the College of Marin Department of Drama at the College Theater, is the story of one of man's most incredible and infamous achievements. It is the conquest of 20 million Peruvian Indians by Francisco Pizzaro and his band of 167 men during the 16th Century.

Peter Shaffer's study of greed and Pizzaro's search for the meaning of life sets out to be an unbiased work, but as it progresses, tends to become weighted for the Peruvians and against the Spaniards, who conquer with the words of their own priests — "kill in the name of Christ" — goading them on.

Director James Dunn has given us one of his usual striking productions, with superb costuming by Alonso D. Gonzalez, and the role of Pizzaro enacted with commanding brilliance by professional guest actor David Ogden Stiers.

After slaughtering 3,000 Indians, Pizzaro holds as hostage Atahuallpa, sovereign Inca of Peru (Mark Rasmussen), and as ransom demands that a room 22 by 17 by 9 feet be filled with the "sweat of the sun" — gold. As they wait for the precious metal to accumulate, Pizzaro and Atahuallpa, "son of the Sun," become closely knit in one of the play's finest scenes. Rasmuseen performs a ritual dance with flawless ease, then commands Pizzaro to dance. The grizzled, lame, 63-year-old warrior attempts a fling and ends up prone, while both laugh helplessly.

Rasmussen gives his best performance to date as the Indian prince, managing to project regality without becoming stuffy, and achieving the sense of speaking another language without sounding like a TV redskin.

Shaffer says he saw the encounter as a conflict between "two immense and joyless powers. The Spaniard suspected joy as being unworthy of Christ. The Peruvian could hardly know it, since in his wholly organized world he was forbidden despair . . . both in a deep sense denied man-Europe, because of her comparative sense of "freedom" the more unforgivably.

Pizzaro, illegitimate son of a pig-herder, seeks the antidote for time, and ultimately finds that the Peruvian belief in the sun as the giver of life holds far more credibility than the god of his own priests. One of the play's highly amusing scenes has Atahuallpa derisively describing the Spaniards — "They eat their God!"

The play's climax comes as Pizzaro, persuaded that Atahuallpa may actually be reincarnated by the sun, is forced to keep the conqueror's advantage by having the Inca executed. With the dead Atahuallpa before him, Pizzaro realizes that time has once again beaten him, for he cannot hold "even a moment" of it.

Shaffer tends to hammer home his point, and "Royal Hunt" in less competent hands could become boring. Under Dunn's expert handling, his huge cast rips through mass slaughters, choreographed with consumate good taste, violent fights among Pizzaro's men, and ritual corn plantings, danced beautifully by a group of girls.

Lending fine support to Stiers and Rasmussen are Bruce Wittine, the narrator as a youth, Robert Deckelman as the old narrator, and many actors in minor roles. Thomas Littlefield's Fray Vincente is frenetic rather than fanatic, and Abe Kalish as the King's man is good, but at times unintelligible.

Technical director Edward K. Schoon deserves mention for the mechanical magnificence of the multi-petalled "sun" which dominates the stage and opens like a flower at the play's beginning.

"Royal Hunt" in its first production in the Bay Area, will be presented again Wednesday through Saturday nights at 8:30.

Philip Talks Of Money Pinch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, says the British royal family has had to tighten its belt because of the cost of living.

In a television interview yesterday, Philip noted that the royal family allowance of $1,100,000 a year has not been increased in 18 years and commented:

"We have a small yacht which we have had to sell, and I shall probably have to give up polo fairly soon, and things like that."

Thr free breakfast program of the Sausalito School District, suspended Oct. 23 when the program's coordinator quit, will resume Wednesday morning, school officials said today.

LAW IN ACTION

From the Code Book of California

Pedestrians Who Get Hit

Long ago walkers had a right equal to that of any vehicle to travel anywhere upon a public highway. When autos took over the roads, lawmakers sought rules for pedestrians and drivers, to cut down injuries and to use the roads efficiently.

Since 1929 the law requires pedestrians walking outside a business or residential area to keep to the left edge of the highway, facing oncoming traffic. Otherwise, if injured, he cannot recover damages out of his own negligence.

Once he is properly on the left side of the road, no law requires him to look back. But he ought to look anyway, for his own safety.

Walking from his home to a night band practice at his school, Bobby Boots wore a dark uniform. Since he had shined his marching shoes, he walked on the paved left side to keep them clean.

Going in the same way, a motorist passed another car just where Bobby was walking. Too late, he saw Bobby and hit him. Bobby sued the motorist. The driver claimed that had Bobby been on the shoulder the accident would not have happened.

The court ruled for Bobby. He had been on the left side of the road. Although he still must use due care, he had a right to expect motorists to see him and not hit him.

No walkers are allowed on freeways on pain of a fine or a jail sentence.

Pedestrians must also use tunnels or overhead crossings when they can.

It is unlawful for hitchhikers to stand on the roadway to solicit a ride, and the motorist who stops and blocks traffic by picking up a hitchhiker may be cited for impeding traffic.

Pedestrians cause needless injuries when they leave the curb suddenly or jaywalk, run in a rainstorm, or just don't look where they are going. In such cases their own negligence usually bars any financial recovery from a motorist who hits them.

Woman Is Held At Gunpoint For Nearly 24 Hours

A Sausalito woman was released unharmed Saturday night near Marin City, after being held at gunpoint for nearly 24 hours by a man who forced her into his car in San Francisco Friday night.

Vicki A. Schultz, of Gate 5, told sheriff's deputies the man, described as 35 to 40 years of age, six feet tall with reddish hair, forced her into his auto, a Mustang, as she walked on California Street.

The woman said he held a gun on her and drove over the Golden Gate Bridge to Marin County, where they spent Friday night driving around San Rafael and Sausalito.

Miss Schultz said the man appeared to know the area well.

About 4 a.m. Saturday, the man took her to her houseboat home, where he held her captive until 7 p.m. then drove her to an area near Marin City and released her unharmed.

Miss Schultz called sheriff's deputies in Marin City.

Clausen Asks Nixon's Help Over Firing

WASHINGTON — Rep. Don H. Clausen R-First District, today asked President Richard M. Nixon to intercede in the firing of A. Ernest Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald recently testified before congressional committees on the "cost overrun" of the proposed C-5 aircraft. The Defense Department dismissed Fitzgerald on Nov. 4 in what it called an "economy move". Clausen believes, however, that more than likely the firing of Fitzgerald was a "punitive measure taken because he refused to try to rationalize the waste, inefficiency, and bureaucratic bungling he came across in the Pentagon."

The President and the cabinet members finally talked during the flight back to Washington aboard Air Force One.

Two Youths Sentenced On Robbery

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Two youths who robbed the United California Bank in San Rafael on Aug. 13 have received prison sentences in U.S. District Court.

Christopher Mason, 19, of 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, was sentenced on Friday to 60 days in prison by Judge Oliver C. Carter, who left open the possibility of a heavier penalty.

His companion in the robbery, John (Lucky) Nelson, 19, of Burbank, was sentenced by Carter to two concurrent terms of from four to six years in prison. Nelson was convicted of driving the getaway car in the San Rafael robbery and pleaded guilty to an earlier robbery of a Glandale bank.

Driver Bruised, Avoiding Auto

A passenger in Cobb's car, Georgia Cobb, 84, also was injured in the 3 p.m. mishap, the patrol said, but apparently didn't require hospital treatment.

Discoverer Of Pluto Dies At 93

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (UPI)—Dr. Vesto Melvin Slipher, an internationally known astronomer who supervised a search which led to the discovery of the planet Pluto, is dead at the age of 93.

Slipher, who headed Lowell Observatory here when Pluto was discovered, died Saturday at a nursing home here.

Extensive investigation by Dr. Slipher in 1930 resulted in the determination of the rotation periods of the planet and its discovery—the only planet discovered in the 20th Century.

He also was credited with the discovery of the permanent aurora-like radiations of the night sky, their nocturnal intensity changes and the existence of interstellar material such as sodium and calcium scattered through space.

He also discovered molecular bands in the planetary spectrum and ultimately identified the atmospheric composition of the bands as methane and ammonia.

Dr. Slipher came here in 1901 to begin an association with Percival Lowell. Following Lowell's death in 1916 he was named director of the Lowell Observatory, a post he held until 1954.

A native of Mulberry, Ind., Dr. Slipher was graduated from Indiana University in 1901.

He was presented the Lalande Prize and Gold Medal of the Paris Academy of Sciences in 1919; the Henry Draper Medal of the National Academy of Sciences in 1932; the Gold Medal of the Royal Astronomical Society of London in 1933; and the Bruce Gold Medal of the Astronomical Society of the Pacific in 1935.

Funeral services will be held here Wednesday, burial will follow at Citizens Cemetery.

Police Will Wear American Flags

SPARKS, Nev. (AP) — American flags will become part of city policemen's uniforms here, Chief Robert Galli said Friday.

Galli said three-by five-inch cloth flags will be sewn to the uniforms, probably over the right breast pocket.

Palomar Observers Find New Clusters

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists at the California Institute of Technology have found new star clusters they say may be a missing link in the evolution of the universe.

In some ways, the objects resemble the mysterious star-like bodies called quasars, said Dr. J.B. Oke, staff astronomer at Palomar and Mt. Wilson observatories.

Quasars are the brightest, fastest moving and most distant objects known to man. The new galaxies, like quasars, emit powerful radio signals and have brilliant cores, Oke said yesterday.

But unlike quasars, he said, the new bodies seem to have spiral arms, like our own Milky Way galaxy. A Caltech spokesman said it was possible the spiral arms represent an early stage in the development of quasars.

The spokesman added, however, that scientists are still not certain of the exact relationship between the newly discovered clusters and quasars.

"The extreme brightness (of the new galaxies) seems to come not from a denser concentration of stars in the center of the galaxy but from some violent explosion involving the entire nucleus," Oke said.

Evidence of the existence of the objects was gathered by a $250,000 instrument called a photoelectric spectrometer attached to the 200-inch telescope atop Palomar Mountain in San Diego County.

Halt In Vietnam Spending Urged

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Nobel prize winner Dr. Linus Pauling said today the United States must stop "wasting its human and physical resources" on military establishments.

While the people of the world have outgrown war, Dr. Pauling said, "our leaders have not." In a speech prepared for delivery at the annual convention of the Geological Society of America, Pauling said heads of state must understand that war can serve no useful function.

"They must respond to the desires and needs of the world's citizens," he said.

The government must be made to use the $30 billion spent per year on the Vietnam War for improving the well-being of the poor, Dr. Pauling said.

CTA Will Lead Drive For Funds

LOS ANGjELES (UPI)—The California Teachers Association plans to lead a drive to place a state constitutional initiative on the June 1970 ballot which would force the state to provide 50 per cent of the financial support for local schools.

The CTA's State Council of Education voted the resolution Saturday, pledging to take the leadership in circulating petitions for the measure.

Jack D. Rees, executive secretary for the 170,000-member organization, said the initiative would allow California voters to examine the present priority assigned to education. The state now ranks 42nd in the percentage of its income alloted to education, he said.

Los Angeles County Leads Agency Count

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Alpine County, with fewer residents than any other county, shares one distinction with the state's most densely populated area, San Francisco County:

Each has fewer special governing districts — four — than any other California county.

That fact emerged yesterday from a report by State Controller Houston I. Flournoy on the special local districts which provide services such as mosquito abatement or cemetery operation.

It covered the year ending June 30, 1968. Flournoy said Los Angeles County led the state with 342 special districts, followed by San Joaquin County with 165.

He noted there now are 51 types of special districts, for a total of 3,811, a rise of 138 for fiscal 1967-68, the biggest jump in 13 years.

The revenue they collected for that year came to $1.58 billion, and expenditures to $1.48 billion.

Tiburon Citizens To Host Veterans Lunch Tomorrow

Wounded Vietnam veterans from Hamilton Air Force Base, Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland and Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco will be treated to a wild duck and pheasant Veterans' Day luncheon tomorrow at the Corinthian Yacht Club in Tiburon by a group of Tiburon Peninsula residents.

The civic project, organized by Tiburon Sheriff's Lt. William Johansen, Clarence English and Fred Mantegani, Tiburon merchants, will begin at 11 a.m. when more than 60 wounded veterans will arrive at the yacht club by bus.

Residents will greet the veterans and participate in a reception held inside the club. Each veteran will be sponsored by one member of the community, according to Johansen.

Entertainment, guest sports celebrities and demonstrations by army helicopters, a Coast Guard cutter and possibly a San Francisco fire-boat will be part of the day's festivities.

Everyone in the community is invited to join in the Veteran's Day celebration, Johansen said, but only the vets will get to eat the luncheon.

No dimes were minted in 1932.

Israel Will Be Model For Group

Israel will be represented this year by the students of Sir Francis Drake High School at the Model United Nations conference in February in Berkeley.

The students will study the people, culture and politics of the country before the conference, according to Annette Larseau, chairman of Drake's delegation

Others in the Drake delegation will be Daniel Schwab, Myk Herndon and Richmond Young, seniors; Debbie Celle, Robert Morgan, Channing May and Larry Gold, juniors, and Leanna Herndon and Margo Van Riper, sophomores. Duane Miller, history teacher, is advisor to the group.

Angela Davis Clears The Air

NEW YORK (UPI)—Angela Davis, the philosophy teacher whom UCLA tried to dismiss because she is a Communist, said yesterday she actually was under fire as a supporter of black revolutionary causes.

Miss Davis, 25, said she favored Marxist techniques in the Black Panther Party's campaign for black revolution. She complained that, during the controversy between her and the California Board of Regents, her case was misrepresented simply as a Communist issue.

"If my job gets in the way of me doing my thing to liberate my people, I will have to give it up," she said at a news conference.

Park-Rec Commission To Decide On Senior Program

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission is scheduled to decide Wednesday whether to continue financial aid to senior citizen programs in various municipalities.

The county had said it would provide aid only for the first three years of the programs, but now will decide whether to continue the assistance. Many of the programs are in their third year.

Other items before the commission, which will meet at 2 p.m. in the Civic Center, include a report on the formation of the county youth commission, preservation of marine life at Duxbury Reef and Agate Beach and reports on Bolinas Lagoon and its transfer from the jurisdiction of the Bolinas Harbor District to the county.

North America has some 700 different kinds of butterflies.

The White House is the oldest public building in Washington.

Reading Tests Report Is Due

A report on reading tests in the primary grades will be given to the San Rafael Board of Education at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the administration building.

Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, has announced that statewide tests have shown that California students are reading better.

The board also will consider reassigning Wayne Boone, assistant principal at San Rafael High School, to assistant superintendent of instructional services at a salary of $20,000 per year.

The board will also hear a report on book purchasing procedures.

Discussion Set On New Building

A use permit for an office building overlooking the Civic Center will be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at city hall.

American Life Insurance Co. of California seeks to build a five-story, 90,000 square-foot building with 380 parking spaces north of the Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

The commission also will consider architectural approval for a two-story, 24,200-square-foot building with 80 off street parking spaces for Western Travelers Life Insurance Co. at 525 Northgate Drive.

The commission will also discuss possible revisions in the fence height standards and the pending Civic Center annexation.

TV Set Stolen

A TOUCH OF OLD ENGLAND

Flanked by foxhounds, members of the Los Altos Hunt Club (above), ride along a road near Nicasio on yesterday's hunt. Hunt member Niels Schultz Jr. (left) of Greenbrae rides to the hounds fully attired in top hat, scarlet coat and riding boots. The club rode drag hunts Saturday and yesterday, the hounds following a fox scent laid down in advance. While Nicasio is thick with foxes, the club does not hunt them because of barbed wire fences which horses can't see to jump. Instead, member William McDevitt said, the club follows a drag trail which leads to sections of wood fence which the horses can jump. Some 30 riders, led by hunt master Eugene Rettig of Woodside, followed the pack of 24 hounds. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

Nixon Asked To Restore Cancer Fund

Parents of Marin County children afflicted with leukemia have asked President Richard M. Nixon's aid in restoring nearly $5 million recommended to be cut from the administration's cancer research appropriation.

In a letter to Nixon, the parents, who have organized themselves into a group known as the Candlelighters, note that the Nixon administration recommended for cancer research is more than $4 million lower than that appropriated by the federal government over the past three years.

The National Cancer Institute asked for a $245 million appropriation for 1970-71, the same amount it has requested for the past three years, the parents said in the letter, for the past three years an annual allocation of $185 million has been approved for cancer research but this year the administration's recommendation cut that amount to $180,750,000, the parents said.

If the cuts are approved, the parents said, 19 research centers will be closed.

Tam Students Oppose Vietnam War In Poll

Sixty-nine per cent of Tamalpais High School students "strongly protest" the war in Vietnam while 7 per cent "strongly support" it, a poll taken by the Tamalpais High School news bureau has shown.

In addition, 91 per cent of the 900 students polled — which is half of the student body — favor some form of American withdrawal from the war. The poll showed 57 per cent backing immediate withdrawal while 34 per cent said they think the war should be de-escalated in a series of withdrawals.

Of teachers polled, the news bureau reported 20 felt the U.S. should immediately withdraw while 22 favored a phased withdrawal. Three teachers strongly supported the war while 32 opposed it.

There was sharp disagreement on whether the school should close for Friday's moratorium activities, which also is the school's homecoming eve. The bureau said 65 per cent of the students polled thought the school should close while 31 per cent opposed it. Four per cent didn't answer.

The moratorium drew considerable support with 83 per cent of the students saying the school should have some official observation of the moratorium while 13 per cent opposed any school observance.

The news bureau reported confusion and disagreement among the students about the purpose and effectiveness of the Oct. 15 moratorium with 45 per cent of those polled saying it was effective and 36 per cent saying it was not. Almost two-thirds of those polled said they participated in the Oct. 15 moratorium activities.

Bill Graham, promoter of the two Oakland concerts that attracted a total paid attendance estimated at 22,000 said yesterday the British musicians grossed $100,000 in Oakland and $250,000 in Los Angeles Saturday night.

Bartolomei's house was being searched for evidence in connection with the burglary of a safe and theft of contents valued at $922 from Shamrock Materials Inc. at 7552 Redwood Highway sometime between 5:30 p.m. Thursday and 6:30 a.m. Friday, police reported. Police found a plastic bag containing vegetable matter thought to be marijuana in Bartolomei's pants pocket, according to reports.

Thousands Pay BART A Visit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Thousands of people responded to an invitation from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District yesterday and walked several hundred feet into the new underwater tube linking San Francisco and Oakland.

The 3.6-mile shaft is scheduled to become a central part of the BART system of speeding trains when other construction is completed in 1971 or 1972.

A head-count was not available, but the visitors formed block-long lines and waited more than an hour before portals were opened to the public for the first time.

Parking Policies Will Be Discussed

A discussion of parking policies in Larkspur is planned for the Thursday meeting if the city planning commission, set for 8 p.m. in city hall.

The planners will also consider a landscaping plan for the Bayside Convalescent Hospital on South Eliseo Drive.

Shriver Held Bidding For Senator Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amassador Sargent Shriver, long seeking an opportunity to run for elective office, is making a serious bid for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Illinois, according to sources close to the diplomat.

And they say the U.S. ambassador to France is receiving help from organization Democrats who oppose the candidacy of Adlai E. Stevenson III.

The sources say Shriver, who visited Chicago recently as part of a four-state speaking trip, has been approached by Democratic officials not only in Illinois, but in Maryland where he is a possible candidate for governor.

He reportedly is awaiting more concrete evidence of interest.

One thing that could keep him out of the Illinois contest is Stevenson's threat to force a primary fight.

While in Chicago, Shriver had lunch with two top lieutenants of Mayor Richard J. Daley, Rep. Daniel Rostenkowski, D-Ill., and Circuit Court Clerk Matt Danaher.

"I had an interesting meeting with an interested party," said Rostenkowski, who is chairman of the Illinois slate makers who will choose the organization candidate for the Senate later this month.

"He is a very outstanding citizen and could possibly be considered as a candidate for the presidency in two years," the Chicago congressman told a reporter.

Rostenkowski said he considers Shriver, brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy and former head of the Chicago school board, as an Illinois resident.

Tribunal To Review Conflict Over Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review a conflict between California law and federal regulations over how to take account of a stepfather's income when figuring aid to dependent children.

The court will hear arguments later this term on a case brought by women with children against various welfare officials of San Francisco, Alameda and San Mateo counties. A written opinion will follow.

A special three-judge federal court in San Francisco on Dec. 23, 1968, upheld the state law and found the federal regulations unconstitutional.

The Social Security Act provides that a state shall, in determining children's need, take into account any other income available for their support. Regulations issued under the statute by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) permit consideration of the income of a man assuming the role of spouse only if there is "proof of actual contribution."

California law, on the other hand, requires an adult male assuming the role of spouse to support the children in the home if he is able.

UPHOLDS POLICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the power of university police to arrest students for displaying "disruptive" antiwar signs during silent protests of the Vietnam War.

The court took this step by refusing to review the conviction of Robert K. Zwicker, a student at the University of Wisconsin who held up a picture of a napalmed boy outside a university placement office. The vote was 7 to 1.

Zwicker was sentenced in Dane County Circuit Court in 1967 to a fine of $100 or 30 days in jail. His appeal claimed the state's disorderly conduct law was too vague to be constitutional and that it had been used to suppress his freedom of speech.

TOPLESS RULE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected today the appeal of a topless dancer who claimed bare-breasted performances are protected by the U.S. Constitution from criminal prosecution.

The dancer, Carol Derrington, 24, was convicted in Portland, Ore., in 1966 of violating a city ordinance aimed at topless entertainers. She was fined $200.

The court made no comment in turning its back on her appeal.

FREEDOMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected today a bid by a number of Louisiana school districts to legalize the freedom of choice system of school desegregation.

The school districts had asked the Supreme Court to review a decision of the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans which held that the freedom of choice plans were unacceptable after they had been approved by two district courts.

The ruling was issued without comment.

The appeal was filed by Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion on behalf of 36 Louisiana parish scoool districts and two city school systems, which had been threatened with loss of federal funds unless they filed acceptable plans with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The school districts argued that forced integration to achieve racial balance violated the spirit of the court's 1954 school desegregation decision and would prove traumatic to the local communities.

The Supreme Court ruled last year that freedom of choice plans are not acceptable if they fail to achieve adequate desegregation of schools.

POSTAL PAY

WASHINGTON (AP-) — Some 450,000 Post Office workers won a victory today in the Supreme Court when the justices let stand a ruling that liberalizes overtime pay.

The ruling, given last February by an appeals court here, was challenged by the government as a misinterpretation of federal pay law. In seeking a hearing the government contended the ruling would cost the Treasury more than $100 million through this year.

But the high court, which is generally inclined to review decisions of lower courts that went against the government, decided in this instance to reject the government's appeal.

Four Hurt In Novato Car Crashes

One person was hospitalized and three others treated for injuries in two separate accidents in Novato over the weekend.

Laurence C. Thomas, 36, of 460 Corte Escuela, Novato, was in good condition today with injuries to his head, according to Novato General Hospital.

He was injured when his car hit the approach to the Novato Creek Bridge as he was southbound on Highway 101 at 12:39 a.m. yesterday, police reported.

Arthur J. Tracy, 78, of Long Beach, was treated for a bruised knee at Novato General Hospital.

The Tracy car, northbound on Highway 101 south of Diablo Avenue, had motor trouble and stalled at 10:58 p.m., Saturday, police reported. It was hit in the rear by one driven by Charles F. Hall, 40, of Santa Rosa, according to police.

Hall was treated for bruises to his face and chest at Novato General Hospital. His wife, Betty Hall, 40, was treated for bruises to her arms and body, according to the hospital records.

Burglars Enter Parked Autos At School Lot

Thieves burglarized four cars parked in the San Rafael High School parking lot Saturday during the football game, police reported today.

A stereographic tape deck and eight tapes valued at $205 were stolen from the car of Jeffrey C. Watson, 18, of 288 Orris Terrace, Santa Venetia and a stereo tape deck and tapes calued at $150 were taken from the car of Michael J. Morgon, 16, of 331 Arias Street, San Rafael.

Leather gloves valued at $15 were taken from the car of Dr. Frank M. Demby by a thief who broke the right wing window and stereophonic equipment valued at $319 and a $15 jacket were removed from the car of William J. Clinch Jr., 18, of 50 Cornell Avenue, Larkspur.

New Law Held Curtailing Aid To Needy Students

By ALAN KORNFELD
(I-J Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO — State college chancellor Glenn Dumke and a new California statute is threatening the special admissions program for underprivileged students at San Francisco State College, claims program director Reginald Majors.

The Educational Opportunity Program, according to Majors, will be severely curtailed tomorrow when a law authorted by Sen. John Harmer, R-Glendale, and passed last July, becomes effective.

Under the new law, EOP students will have to be nominated by their high school principals and selected by the board of trustees of the state college system.

According to Dumke's interpretation the law covers not only future EOP students, but retroactively all students now in the two-year-old program.

Majors argued that the trustees may use their new power to eliminate political enemies on campus. Most of the 150 EOP students at San Francisco Majors explained, supported last year's student strike and now may face dismissal from the program for their political beliefs.

"Nominations by high school principals in a state where most high schools are lily white," Majors added "will tend to shift the emphasis of the program away from minority students."

"All EOP students accepted in September will now have to qualify, according to a set of standards that did not exist at the time they enrolled," said Majors.

He termed the new restrictions "racist," insofar as primarily Third World students are affected.

EOP students at San Francisco State, meanwhile, who have been promised financial aid when they first came to college, are waiting in limbo for endorsements from former high school principals and acceptance by the trustees.

"You have just been required to attempt to succeed in college without additional money for instruction, without knowing whether or not you are in or out of EOP," Majors told the students in a letter.

A freshman girl outside Majors' office bitterly complained, "The only way I thought of college was EOP. It was a stairway."

Seven black students, unable to get their EOP subsidy, have been served eviction notices from dormitories for inability to pay rent.

Students in EOP receive between $200 and $700 a year in financial aid and are enrolled in special tutorial classes. Administration of the program at San Francisco State is partly handled by the Sausalito Teacher Education Project.

Majors and Donald Garrity, the colleges' vice president in charge of academic affairs, expect to meet soon with Dumke in an attempt to persuade the chancellor to alter his views on the Harmer bill.

New Officers Are Announced

W. Bruce Shafer of Sausalito has been elected president of the Marin County Real Estate Board for 1970.

William J. Bush if San Rafael was elected vice president, Donald Beacock of Corte Madera, secretary, and Ezilda Torre of San Anselmo treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were Harold Strouss of San Rafael, Robert Dolman, Corte Madera; Stephen Kramer, San Rafael; William M. Nelson Jr. Tiburon, and Joe Wright of Novato.

Burton's Group Backs Moratorium

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblyman John Burton announced today the full support of the California Democratic Council, which he heads, for this month's Vietnam Moratorium observance.

Burton, D-San Francisco, also told a news conference he expects the Nixon administration to escalate "repression of the peace movement."

He accused Vice President Spiro T. Agnew of "stirring the pot of the right wing and the kooks and the yahoos" so President Richard M. Nixon will have support in case he decides to escalate the fighting in Vietnam.

The California Democratic Council long has been an opponent of the war. Burton said he would address a Vietnam moratorium rally in San Diego Saturday.

Donations Set By Bridge Unit

Marin Unit of the American Contract Bridge League will contribute to five charities this year, president Kenner Foote announced today.

The bridge group will donate $110 to each of the following: Cerebral Palsy, California Association for Handicapped Children, Marin Association for Retarded Children and the Lutheran Home of the Good Shepherd.

Sunny Hills in San Anselmo will receive proceeds from the annual Christmas party scheduled for 7 p.m. Dec. 14 at the Crossley Bridge Club, 714 C Street, San Rafael.

On Nov. 28, the Marin unit will participate in a nationwide charity game at the San Rafael Bridge Studio, 215 West End Avenue, San Rafael. This game will start at 8:15 p.m.

Pickets Burn Guard's Car In Plant Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Union pickets burned a guard's car, stoned two sheriff's cars and a fire truck and smashed windows at a Westinghouse Corp. plant today in a local walkout over a contract dispute, the sheriff's office said.

The pickets surrounded a car attempting to enter the plant at daybreak and began rocking it but six police cruisers arrived and broke up the disturbance. The car was driven away from the plant.

No injuries were reported.

Patrolman Dale Clark of the Franklin Township Police Department said most of the windows in the front of the building were broken.

Firemen were called after a telephone pole was set ablaze and one of the fire trucks was stoned, the sheriffs office said.

About 4,000 workers at the plant went on strike at midnight while national union officials recommended that Westinghouse workers across the country were to continue working on a day-to-day basis during negotiations for a new contract.

James Humphreys, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers Local 746, said the midnight walkout was authorized, because the national negotiations do not apply to local issues.

Negotiations on these issues, including job transfers and the use of salaried personnel of production jobs, broke off Friday.

Unionized employees at the Westinghouse plant in Bellefontaine, 75 miles northwest of Columbus, also struck at midnight. A plant spokesman said the strike was "very peaceful and quiet."

Bellefontaine's strikers are members of IUEW Local 1167. The plant has more than 300 employees and makes laundry equipment.

Recreation Center Action Scheduled

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation commission is scheduled to act on the proposed community recreation center building plans at a meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at city hall.

The plans will be reviewed by Architect Robert W. F. Severin. The proposal is to build a recreation center adjacent to Albert Park Field, a plan which is expected to require a bond issue.

Feud Sends Two Men To Court

Two feuding Tiburon neighbors were booked into Marin County Jail yesterday afternoon on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon after a fight about a property line.

Nathaniel Marans, 51, of 2312 Spanish Trail Road was released on his own recognizance and ordered to appear in Marin Municipal Court today. James L. Green, 49, of 2300 Vista Delmar Lane was freed on $1,250 bail and also ordered to appear in court today.

Sheriff's deputies said the men placed each other under citizen's arrest and called authorities after the fight, in which Green allegedly used a fence post and Marans allegedly wielded garden clippers.

Discussion Slated On Russian River

A discussion session on the Russian River water project will be held at the meeting of Marin Municipal Water District directors at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the district office.

The project is a multimillion dollar plan to import additional water supplies to Marin for projected needs. A bond issue is expected to be the major method of financing.

Black Point Master Plan On Agenda

The Black Point planned community master plan will be up for adoption by the Novato Planning Commission at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

John E. Kenney has submitted plans for the development which will have 200 single-family homes, 300 apartments and 1,800 mobile home sites as well as a shopping center and a 75 acre lake on 710 acres west of Black Point and south of Highway 37.

The commission held a public hearing on it on Oct. 7 at which time the majority of homeowners associations and the audience were against the mobile homes, at that hearing, the commission announced that it would not adopt the plan until Kenney had made changes requested by the city staff.

Other items to come before the commission include use permits requested by William Wentworth for a car wash on the east side of Highway 101 north of Vallejo Avenue and Dr. John R. Glassmaker for a veterinary clinic on Highway 101 south of Olive Avenue.

The commission will receive the opinion of City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. on the retention of zone classifications when an area is annexed to the city from the county.

Concessions Closed

Tour train and bicycle rental facilities at Angel Island State Park have been closed for the winter, according to the state Department of Parks and recreation. The park will remain open for boating, picnicking, sightseeing and hiking, however.

Do Something Group To Fix 14 Tricycles

A major project of the Do Something group at Sir Francis Drake High School will be repairing and painting of 14 tricycles for children all day tomorrow, according to publicity chairman Steven Gneri.

The group will spend next Saturday doing clean-up work at the Audubon Ranch near Bolinas.

Other projects which the group have planned for the month are the tutoring of a Fairfax boy who cannot read by James Phelps, a juniro, and a concert at the Ross General Hospital psychiatric ward.

In the past six weeks the group has raised more than $110 from the slave auction of senior football players and selling cakes. This money will be sent to the school's sister school in Mexico, Gneri said.

HELPING TO meet part of the transportation needs, volunteer driver Gail Wallace picks up passenger Mike Borruso in San Rafael to drive him to a medical appointment in Terra Linda. Car and driver are provided each Monday by the Pacific Telephone Co.

Volunteers With Wheels Can Make Things Happen In Marin

By BARBARA HOSMER

It's a truism that to go anywhere in Marin you have to jump into the car and drive there.

But what if you are ill and can't jump? Or what if the budget doesn't allow a car?

The urgent need for volunteers to drive crippled, elderly or chronically ill persons to medical appointments, recreation programs, therapy and clinics has been the cause for a bevy of Marin agencies to despair about serving many persons who need aid.

They've had to turn people away who require rides to make use of available and needed health and recreation services in Marin. Crippled and post-stroke persons require transportation to special recreation programs; the aged need rides for shopping, medical appointments and senior programs; cancer and emphysema patients need to attend medical clinics and treatment centers; children of low income homes need rides for dental and health appointments, Head Start and child care programs; retarded persons need assistance to attend the MARC Training Center.

Buses run infrequently and may not stop near enough to the hospital, clinic or recreation center. A crippled, elderly or ill person may be unable to climb aboard a bus and often cannot walk to and from the bus stop.

Taxis are simply too costly for regular use.

REPRESENTATIVES OF many Marin agencies in need of volunteer drivers have formed a committee, meeting at the Volunteer Bureau of Marin in San Rafael, to discuss their common problem. Of the group only the Cancer Society reported that it has almost enough drivers, some 140 volunteers to drive patients to medical appointments and therapy.

Mrs. James P. Costello of the Cancer Society said that the volunteers are organized on a local basis by town chairmen and are largely persons who have had some contact with the disease of cancer through family or friends. More drivers are needed, however, to transport patients to San Francisco for cobalt treatments, she said.

Often Marin General Hospital arranges patient appointments so that several patients can ride there in a single car, Mrs. Costello said.

Agencies with their own vehicles, such as the Red Cross Chapter, are in need of drivers also. Red Cross volunteers provide transportation for patients to medical appointments upon referral from physicians or Marin agencies, but the need is greater than the chapter can supply. By careful scheduling the Red Cross vehicles have been putting in some 295 hours a month.

Marin General Hospital's station wagon, given by a Marin merchant with the stipulation that it be used only to transport patients to and from the hospital, averages 2,000 miles a month, reports Mary Miller, hospital director of Volunteers. Mrs. Miller said that all drivers are members of the hospital Volunteers. Currently, she said, more women are needed to drive during evening hours.

The Senior Coordinating Council uses its bus and paid driver, funded by the Economic Opportunity Council, to transport senior citizens, mainly to shopping centers. It must serve an area from Novato to Marin City, with the needs greater than it can meet. The MARC Training Center has a station wagon to assist its program and has used volunteer drivers.

OFTEN A close friendship develops between the driver volunteers and their regular passengers, the agencies reported. The drivers begin to take a personal interest and in some cases they develop a new understanding of the needs of a patient with emphysema or a handicap.

The agencies are currently attempting to see if they can pool some of their resources or combine scheduling in certain instances to provide rides to common areas.

"Scheduling alone takes hours and hours," says Marion Kelley executive director of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin. The bureau meets part of its transportation needs with the Monday car and driver provided each week by the Pacific Telephone Company. Volunteer Sue Hicks, who schedules use of the car, has agreed to look into possible combined agency scheduling.

Mrs. Kelley said that currently the Volunteer Bureau car transports some 10 to 12 persons each Monday to appointments, by riding several at once through a carefully drawn schedule.

"But we're turning away more ride requests than we are taking. We get two or three calls a day we can't handle," she said.

ANOTHER PROGRAM in need of volunteer drivers is the once-a week adult recreation program for the handicapped held at the Easter Seal Society in Larkspur.

The Red Cross helps, "but there are lots of kids and adults who can't come for recreation or speech therapy for lack of rides," explained Phyllis Widdershoven, Easter Seal Society executive director. Many of the crippled have no chance to get out of the house or to the programs offered for them for lack of transportation, Mrs. Widdershoven said.

Patients with chronic respiratory diseases such as emphysema attend a special clinic six nights a month at Marin General Hospital through the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. Carrying respirator equipment, they need door to door rides, reports Helane Anderson.

Anyone with a valid California Driver's license may apply to any of the agencies to offer driving services, Mrs. Kelley said. Most of the current volunteer drivers are Marin housewives and retired persons who wish to assist other Marinites to use health and recreation services set up for them.

IT'S AN almost impossible struggle for short-of-breath persons crippled by emphysema to walk up the gentlest incline. And for patients who must attend the outpatient clinic for chronic respiratory diseases at Marin General Hospital lugging a 16 to 20 pound respirator, the walk even from the parking lot is simply too much, as patient Mrs. Patricia Christensen of Corte Madera demonstrates. Volunteer drivers are needed to provide door-to-door service for those who attend the clinic, operated by the Marin Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association six evenings a month.

ED COMBS of Greenbrae, a retired electrical engineer, has been a volunteer driver for crippled persons for several years. Here he picks up a passenger at the recreation program for handicapped adults held each Thursday at the Easter Seal Society in Larkspur. You don't think about helping someone with a handicap unless you have some personal contact with it, he says. Combs began driving after he was hospitalized for minor surgery a few years ago and he shared the hospital room with a man who was in the crippled adult program as an amputee. His friend once asked him for a ride and Combs has been a volunteer driver ever since, on a once-a-week basis. (Independent-Journal photos)

THE MARIN COUNTY Chapter of American Red Cross relies upon its volunteer drivers to shuttle Marin patients unable to get transportation to medical appointments in its station wagons. But man more volunteers are needed to drive elderly and infirm Marinites. (Kim Tucker photo)

HELEN HELPS US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

He Doesn't 'Waste Time' Visiting The Elderly Who Will Die Soon

DEAR HELEN:

I am about to be married for the second time. My first husband was very considerate and sympathetic, espicially of older people. He died two years age.

Barton, my fiance, is kind to me, but (as he says) he cuts through unnecessary sentiment to the truth. My elderly uncle is in the hospital dying. I want to visit him as much as possible, but Barton insists this is foolish—he'll be dead soon and why waste time on a lost cause?

A friend was killed recently. Bart said the family was lucky—he would have been a partial cripple, and they got double indemnity, plus a chance to sue for big damages. His idea is that if you aren't useful, you should be dead and stop bothering people. He says everyone feels this way underneath, but hipocrisy makes them put on the big sympathy act.

Lately I've been having second thoughts. Is Barton more unfeeling than truthful? And where would this leave me, later on?—WIDOW WITH HEART

DEAR WIDOW:

In a lonely hospital room, perhaps, while your husband counts your insurance and waits impatiently for you to die.

Listen to your second thoughts. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

What with topless, bottomless, nude movies and nothing left to the imagination, it seems that sex is becoming such a popular spectator sport that I have a suggestion: Like in other sports, they should form leagues and have a playoff!—ED

DEAR ED:

They do, they do. Haven't you heard of wife-swapping clubs? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

The one we helped most stabbed me in the back. Now that it's over she wants my husband and me to forgive and forget and tells it around that we are cruel for ignoring her.

Someone got a personal loan in my sister-in-law's name. When it wasn't paid, she was threatened with a dun. Examining the signature on the note, she swore it was mine. Naturally I had no knowledge of this, and my husband (her brother) stood by me. We hired a handwriting expert who proved her accusations false. She didn't lose gracefully. Naturally, she wouldn't pay our attorney fees. The real thief was finally found, and jailed, (as I might have been.)

I see no reason to bother with this woman again, and neither does my husband. But she complains to the rest of the family that we are ruining her life. You see, I used to do everything for her— take her on shopping trips, help her sew, baby-sit her children. I now feel free and I want to keep it that way.

Are we overly bitter, or smart? —STILL UPSET.

DEAR S.U.:

A woman this willing to accuse, will surely accuse again. Let it be some other member of the family next time.—H

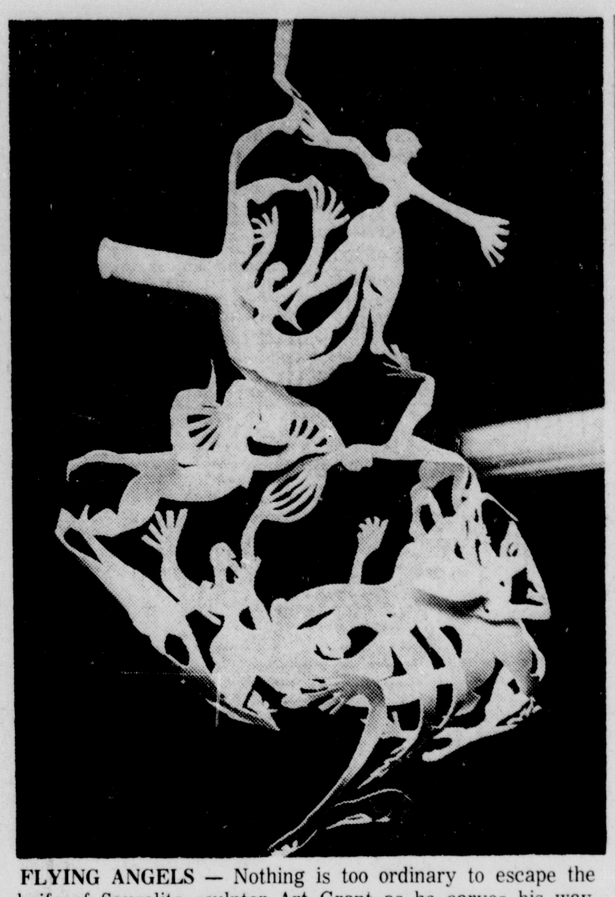
CHOPPED UP BY ART GRANT — In a series of visual and verbal puns Sausalito sculptor Art Grant uses old hunks of junk such as this blade, and a way with words to poke fun at just about everything in his show at the Mill Valley Library gallery.



FLYING ANGELS — Nothing is too ordinary to escape the knife of Sausalito sculptor Art Grant as he carves his way through old bleach bottles (from which this hanging sculpture was made), table legs and other junk in his humorous one-man show at the Mill Valley Library gallery.

Self-Imposed Film Rating Is Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The film industry's self-imposed rating system has resulted in a rash of pornographic movies, says the president of the 75-theater Walter Reade Organization.

"This pornography has not gone begging," said Walter Reade Jr. "Exhibitors all over the country, hiding behind the implied shield of the X rating have renounced their personal responsibility for the films they choose and play."

Reade's told the National Association of Theater Owners' board of directors yesterday that the year-old code is a failure.

He said newspapers and radio and television stations have imposed a form of advertising and editorial censorship based on the rating of a film.

"Newspapers all over the country—San Diego, Reno, Oklahoma City, Phoenix, Indianapolis, Miami, in several Illinois towns to a name a few—have decided that X-rated films can no longer be advertised on their pages. In some cases they have also refused any editorial space to these films.

"Now in the past we've run into cases where specific ads or titles were unacceptable but never before this blanket blackball and never before has the ban been extended to cover the news columns as well as the advertising space," he said.

The X rating means youngsters—the age limit varies from 16 to 18 depending on the community—are not to be admitted to see a film.

Art Grant Proves He's Not A Bore

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Art Grant is a very funny man. And if what he has to say is not always nice, at least it's never boring.

In his 64th and latest one-man show this month in the Mill Valley Library gallery, Grant delivers a series of verbal and visual puns in the form of junk "trophies" mounted on plaques and labeled with irreverent wit.

A head cut from a section of automobile bumper is inscribed "Bumped Off by Art Grant." There's a carved wooden angel "Shot Down by Art Grant, Christmas Eve." And there's a battered plastic bottle of Ivory soap "Drowned by Art Grant." Grant's trophies make you smile, laugh out loud, feel offended or even angry depending on your point of view. They seldom leave you minus a reaction.

The sculptor's intent is further explained by his own statement about the show. "This exhibition is dedicated," he says, 'to the great white American hunter whose greatest joy in life is to kill bunny rabbits, deer, gooks, presidents and other living things, decapitate their heads and mount them on plaques and display them in his game room for his friends to see."

If Grant's verbalized views are incisive, his sculptures are merely a more complex visual extension of them. Three "Loving Not War Cups" are just that, revamped loving cups such as a "hospital trophy" rescued from the Veterans' Memorial in San Francisco which Grant has reinscribed with his own pungent remarks, embellished with junk fittings and transformed into a humorously lovely lady. And there's the unfunny junk metal "Homage to War" which unfolds through many layers of meaning.

Lest the artist seem limited to social commentary, this is just part of his eclectic nature. Grant doesn't have to make visual or verbal remarks about things to find them sculpturally inspiring.

Some things such as his ceiling-hung flying angels which are cut like continuous paper dolls from old plastic bleach bottles, or his figures and animals whittled from old furniture, or his outrageous metal animals such as a scissors-billed bird or hand grenade snail have a whimsical warmth that is enough in itself.

More than anything, Grant has an oblivous ball doing what he is doing. His mirth oozeth over and infects anyone with even an ounce of amusement in him. So let's give that man another table leg, another junk pile and another bleach bottle.

"RELIGION? CORNBALL!"
Yes, religion is cornball. It pushes squaresville ideas like love, understanding, patience, charity, kindness, moderation, joy, justice, peace, reconciliation, beauty, life's sacredness, honor, serenity, brotherhood.
And who needs stuff like that, when we have LSD, amphetamines, alcohol, war, nudies, agonized cities, the H-bomb, heroin, poverty, inhumanity?
So for heaven's sake, don't get caught in your church or synagogue. Or you might start wanting to change the world around.

Apollo Crewmen Run Through Abort Tests

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Apollo 12 astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean today practiced emergency procedures required if they have to abort their attempt to land on the moon next week.

They rehearsed in the lunar lander trainer vehicle in a test coordinated with the Mission Control Center in Houston, Tex.

The third Apollo 12 crewman, Richard F. Gordon Jr., received a briefing on lunar topography from specialists of the U.S. geological Survey. One of Gordon's tasks as he orbits the moon is to photograph future Apollo landing sites, primarily the highlands near the craters Fra Mauro, LaLande and Descartes.

Gordon also planned some time today in the command ship simulator.

At the launch pad, the countdown moved smoothly toward the scheduled blastoff of a Saturn 5 rocket at 11:22 a.m. EST Friday.

Conrad and Bean are to fly the landing craft they call Intrepid to a touchdown in the moon's Ocean of Storms Nov. 19. They can abort the attempt at any time after they separate from Gordon and the command ship until the moment of touchdown. They also can make a quick takeoff in case something goes wrong after the landing.

The two ships are to undock at an altitude of 65 miles. Intrepid is to land two hours and 27 minutes later. The most critical period is the last 12 minutes when the astronauts trigger their descent engine to drop the final 49,200 feet.

Apollo 11, man's first lunar landing, came within 14 seconds of being aborted last July as astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. hovered 150 feet above the surface, their fuel running dangerously low as they sought a smooth parking spot.

Rohnert Park Hospital Group Forms

A nonprofit organization seeking to locate a hospital in Rohnert Park has been formed.

Organized by developer Paul Golis, the group said it expects to plan and show the need for a hospital as part of a medical education or research facility.

Other incorporators include Maurice Fredericks, attorney; Christopher Knudsten, Cotati rancher; Arthur F. Hollingsworth Jr., bishop of the church of the Latter-day Saints; R. E. Boyd Jr., businessman; the Rev. Leon A. Holm, pastor of the Cross and Crown Lutheran Church; Dr. Lee Panttaja, assistant superintendent of Sonoma County schools; and Otto R. Nation, retired businessman.

The group had asked the Rohnert Park City Council to form the hospital foundation and to donate six acres for a hospital site.

The council last night said the land requested would be needed for a future Civic Center site and that it was satisfied with membership in the Sonoma County health facilities planning commission.

Shoplift Study: One In Ten

NEW YORK (AP) — Of 263 customers secretly followed in a large Manhattan department store, one out of ten, or a total of 27, stole something, reports a study by Saul D. Astor consultants.

The study, which did not name the store, also said not one of the 27 shoplifters was caught. The average value of the stolen goods was $8.37.

In summary, the report said, it appeared that a large number of the shoplifters were middle-class housewives.

East Berlin Youths Make Freedom Trek

BERLIN (AP) — Two East Berlin youths crossed Communist barriers into the French sector of West Berlin yesterday, police confirmed today. They were unnoticed by the East German border guards,

The defection by the 18- and 22-year-old youths kept up a wave of refugee flights in recent days. On Saturday two East German boys, 15 and 16, climbed the Wall to reach West Berlin.

Any $7,000 car makes you feel secure on a country club driveway. The Mercedes-Benz 280S makes you feel secure on a bustling turnpike.

Look underneath, and you'll begin to see why.

At Mercedes-Benz, engineers —not styling geniuses or marketing wizards—have the upper hand.

And these stubborn purists insist that if a man can afford to invest $7,000 in an automobile he is entitled to get more than a status symbol.

Result: the Mercedes-Benz 280S at right bristles with sophisticated, ultra-performance features that simply do not exist on domestic sedans in the so-called "fine car" field. It steers, maneuvers and stops as if your life depended on it.

This is one reason why Car and Driver magazine, with a world of cars to choose from, concludes that the current Mercedes-Benz line "represents the present pinnacle in safe car engineering."

Of all cars in the "luxury class" field, the 280S is rated the safest, most roadworthy. Read why.

Racing car suspension

For a clue to the almost uncanny handling and evasive ability of the 280S, scrunch down and look beneath the rear bumper—at the axle. It's not the rigid "beam" axle of most domestic cars. It is articulated.

This Mercedes-Benz low-pivot swing axle permits each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other, just as the front wheels do. The result is leech-like roadability.

If you know what you're looking for, you can also spot heavy-duty thrust arms, individual coil springs and shocks, and a horizontal hydropneumatic load-leveling device.

All in all, suspension ideas more common on 180-mph Grand Prix racing cars than 5-passenger sedans.

Engineering extravagance?

A passenger car doesn't need a suspension fit for a racer, argue some critics. True, reply Mercedes-Benz engineers. For everyday city driving, this is sheer engineering extravagance.

But some day you might have to get off the pavement, onto a stretch of potholed back road. You might have to enter a sharp curve or a turn-off faster than you intended. You might have to change course quickly while cruising at 65 mph on a busy turnpike.

And, suddenly, you realize that this engineering extravagance is no extravagance at all.

Sharp reflexes

Occasionally, it is also necessary for a 3,400-pound automobile hurtling along at high speed to stop abruptly.

Once more, Mercedes-Benz engineers draw on their experience with World Champion racing machinery. They employ the more expensive, but clearly superior, type of brakes used almost universally on today's professional racing circuits.

Disc brakes.

The engineers don't stint, either —by putting disc brakes only at the front wheels, and settling for conventional drum brakes on the rear. They insist on attaching a massive caliper-type disc brake to every wheel of every Mercedes-Benz.

Someday, doubtless, 4-wheel disc brakes will be offered on a domestic "luxury" car.

Accurate steering is vital for maximum control, too. In an emergency, you don't have time for a sweeping twirl of the wheel. The car must respond instantly.

The 280S does. Credit the ingenious Mercedes-Benz recirculating-ball-type steering system. It eliminates sloppy play in the wheel—and blesses you with the "feel" of the road. Suddenly, you are a more confident driver.

Taut, sensitive steering is retained even with Mercedes-Benz power steering—characterized by Car and Driver as "unquestionably the most precise unit of its kind ever developed."

If trouble comes

The responsiveness which makes the 280S such a joy to drive is its best defense against blundering motorists. However, if the worst happens, the car is designed to shield you. Naturally, it meets all the U.S. safety regulations. But Mercedes-Benz safety goes beyond the letter of these laws.

The entire passenger compartment is built as a sturdy "safety zone." Doors are designed to stay shut on impact. The front and rear of the car are engineered to crumple in a crash at a controlled rate, absorbing shock and reducing the threat of serious injury.

"A fellow hit me when I was stopped at a toll booth," reports one Mercedes-Benz owner. "People in his car were hospitalized. But I just opened my door and stepped out."

Showroom experiments

The 280S is as habitable as it is roadworthy and safe.

Slip behind the wheel, and flex your back. This is no marshmallow seat. It supports you, hour after hour. It should: it was designed with help from orthopedic physicians. The springs inside are tuned to the car's suspension motions, cancelling out thousands of tiring vibrations every mile.

Check the rear shelf. Carpeted. Feel the underside of the dashboard. There's no spaghetti tangle of wires. It's fully finished off. Finger the wood trim—real walnut, not plastic.

Many cars are designed to win admiration for their owners. Mercedes-Benz cars are designed to win admiration from their owners. Quite a distinction.

No shortcuts

Your 280S is built with uncompromising care, to make it a lasting investment.

Every 280S begins life in a shower of sparks. It is not bolted into being, like a conventional car, but solidified by thousands of welds. After 50,000 miles or so, you may start to wonder if it will ever rattle.

When welding stops, the body is gone over by hand with a soft glove. Bumps and burrs are spotted and smoothed away. Vital seams are packed with solder and buffed to oblivion.

The body is then dunked in a 52-ton primer tank, baked, sprayed, hand-sanded, sprayed again, then hand-sprayed. Total primer and paint rust protection: over 44 pounds.

As a final flourish in its armament against road salt, rust and rot, the 280S gets a 24-pound slathering of plasticized undercoating.

The overhead-cam, six-cylinder engine equals the coachwork for longevity. Bearings are delicately machined to within 4/10,000ths of an inch, and pistons and connecting rods are painstakingly matched and balanced. Yet this power plant is about as fragile as a bull. It's built to cruise flat-out indefinitely—and, on Germany's wide-open autobahns, it often does.

An unconventional car? Defiantly so. Mercedes-Benz does not make conventional cars—and never will.

Other models to mull over:

250 Sedan—a less costly, but unflappable road car, $5,313*.

280SL Roadster—a sports car for grown-ups, combines soul-stirring performance with comfort, $7,056*.

220 Diesel—the only diesel-powered automobile Mercedes-Benz makes, gives you small-car economy in a big, safe sedan that may well endure for decades, $4,887*.

600 Grand Mercedes—the ultimate motor car, $23,759*.

Meeting Advanced

The Planning Process Committee of the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Marin has changed its meeting from Nov. 19 to Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Coral Room at Marin General Hospital, according to Dr. Charles J. Gillooly of San Rafael.

Planners Frown On Zone Bind

Marin County planning commissioners today frowned on the idea of using restrictive zoning in county areas to force annexation to cities.

Restrictive zoning to encourage annexation was one of 10 recommendations made by the City-County Planning Council.

Planning commissioners Niels Schultz Jr. and Margaret Azevedo contended that the amount of service available, such as police and fire protection, should determine the type of zoning and density.

They objected to the use of restrictive zoning purely as an incentive to annexation.

Commissioners decided to modify the paragraph on restrictive zoning, stating simply that where a city prezones, the county should reexamine its zoning in the light of the city prezoning.

Planning commissioners expressed similar concern over other recommendations made by the city county planning council, particularly where cities are given too much influence over developments in county land.

Canadian Tax Reform Urged

OTTAWA (AP) — The government has proposed sweeping changes in Canada's income tax laws, including sharp increases for middle-income taxpayers and the removal of 750,000 persons from the tax roles.

Other recommendations include higher personal exemptions for all taxpayers and adoption of the nation's first capital gains tax.

Finance Minister Edgar Benson proposed the changes to the House of Commons in a 50,000-word white paper issued Friday.

Statue Of Horse On Schools Roof

The Halloween season may be over, but in Petaluma the pranksters carry on, raising the question of how the full size statue of a horse happened to appear on the roof of Petaluma Senior High School.

Police said neighbors reported the appearance of the black and white steed with an orange circle on its hip on the roof over the main entrance yesterday morning. Police, who are trying to figure out how to get the statue down, said the horse's owner is not known.

'POSITION PAPER'

Greater School Dollar Use Urged

Longer school days and school year are among measures advocated by the Southern Marin League of Women Voters to get more out of the school dollar.

Greater use of school buildings — including possibly lengthening the school day and year — is stressed in a league "position paper" circulated to boards and superintendents of Reed, Mill Valley, Sausalito and Tamalpais High School districts and the county board of education.

The Southern Marin league has been conducting a study of public school education since September 1968, and plans to continue it into next spring. The position paper, said Mrs. Keith Kallum, league president, and Mrs. Reese Jones, education study chairman, "means agreement among a substantial number of members, representative of the membership as a whole, reached after sustained study and free group discussion."

"We would support the extended use of buildings in hours per day and months per year for school and community functions," the report says. Mrs. Kallum said this means the league believes school boards should consider extending the school day and school year if necessary to get full use from the facilities.

In school finance, the league urged federal funds "with as few restricting limitations as possible" and greater sharing of school costs by the state. It notes that the property tax "is now overburdened."

"We would support lowering the percentage of votes needed to pass school bonds," says the league, suggesting an initial effort to reduce the figure from two-thirds to 60 per cent.

It suggests that some functions of the schools might be funded from other sources, such as the Division of Highways funding driver education and Department of Employment providing vocational counseling.

It also suggests that greater use be made of volunteers, and says, "Teachers should be trained to use the time of volunteers effectively."

"Planning for an over-all transportation system in the county should include planning for school transportation," the league urges.

To get active community support for schools, the league urges, "Hold open meetings with printed information available." (Open school board meetings are required by law.)

"Use citizen committees properly," it suggests. Mrs. Jones said school boards have sometimes failed to provide committees with needed information and assistance.

Boards are urged also to "take responsibility that the educational program is carefully evaluated," and to represent their communities to legislators and the state Board of Education — not depending on the California School Boards Association.

The report also advocates seeking cooperative solutions to problems that involve more than one district.

On unification, the league calls for a potential minimum of 10,000 pupils for any unified district. No plan for forming more than one unified district within Tamalpais High School District would meet this criteria.

Trailer Stolen

A boat trailer, license AR 1276, owned by Emily Koeniger, 40 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, was stolen from the parking lot of the Belvedere Lagoon Sailing Society sometime yesterday, Belvedere police reported today.

Highway Patrol Halts Span Leap

A 32-year-old Mill Valley man has been rescued by a California Highway Patrol officer as he attempted to jump from the Golden Gate Bridge near the bridge's north tower.

The CHP said Sean Patrick Kelley of 513 Parkway Trail was caught by officer William King of the Marin-Golden Gate CHP office as he tried to climb over the railing Friday morning. He told the officer he was despondent over family problems.

Kelley was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

Sign Ordinance On Planner List

A public hearing on a proposed amendment to the town sign ordiance will continue when the Corte Madera Planning Commission meets at 7:30 p.m. today in the town council chamber.

The commission also will hear a rezoning application by Atlantic Richfield Company for two parcels at 5702 Paradise Drive.

Child Care For Anti-Viet March

Baby sitting service for parents wanting to participate in the Vietnam moratorium Saturday in San Francisco will be provided by the Parallel Fellowship of the First Congregational Church in San Rafael.

Volunteer sitters will be needed from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the church at 8 North San Pedro Road.

Information may be obtained from Nancy Kane at 779 Del Ganado Road, Terra Linda.

Moratorium Day Request On Tap

The request from the Fairfax Vietnam War Moratorium Day Committee to use the city park after sunset Saturday will be considered by the city council at a meeting at 8 p.m. today at the Fairfax Women's Club.

The council will also discuss the traffic study which proposes making Center Boulevard the major thoroughfare from San Anselmo to Fairfax.

Burn Ban Lifted

The ban on open burning in the Bolinas Fire Protection District has been lifted, Fire Chief Jose A. Silva announced. Burning will be allowed from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. without a permit, Silva said.

Draft Notice Obscene, Terra Linda Youth Says

Like most young men his age, 20-year-old Robert Blanch of Terra Linda is dreading the day when the postman brings him a draft notice along with the morning mail.

But if Blanch has his way, Uncle Sam's greetings will never be delivered to his home, at least not via the U.S. mails.

The yough, who lives at 899 Greenberry Lane, is taking advantage of a recent federal law designed to protect citizens from advertisements they consider to be "sexually provocative" of "pandering."

Under the law a person has the right to determine whether an advertisement is offensive to him, then can ask the post office to order that he receive no further mailings from the sender of the ad.

Blanch has requested the San Rafael Post Office to order that he receive no further communiques from the U.S. Selective Service because he considers their letters "obscene."

"Although the law just mentions advertisements and doesn't use the word 'obscene,' I think it can apply to my situation," he said, adding he is perfectly serious in his attempt to avoid the draft.

"I think a letter which orders people to be trained to kill can easily be classified as obscene," he observed. "Besides, I find being forced to caress a rifle 'sexually provocative,' not to mention dangerous."

Blanch, a former College of Marin student who is taking classes at the Playwright's Ensemble, a San Francisco acting school, filed his request with Postmaster Hugh Cassidy on Thursday. Friday he took his preinduction physical in Oakland.

Cassidy said the application to restrain the Selective Service from further mailings to Blanch has been forwarded to the San Francisco Postal Service, which will decide what action to take on the unusual request.

Meanwhile, Blanch is probably wondering if draft notices are ever delivered by telegram or special messenger.

The Outdoors Is A Classroom

By JOANNE GRANT

An area rich in natural splendor has become an unusual outdoor classroom for the Lagunitas School District, fascinating children and teachers alike.

It is quiet, almost isolated. The stillness is broken only occasionally by the throaty croak of a frog, the cry of a bird, or a child's voice raised in delight over a discovery.

It feels faraway, but it is nestled between Lagunitas and San Geronimo Valley schools in the heart of the valley, easily accessible to pupils from both schools at a moment's notice.

The unusual classroom stretches from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard several hundred feet back to a winding road which separates school property from the San Geronimo Valley National Golf Course. And sometimes, the best find of the day is a golf ball.

Usually, though, children search for insects or grassland bird nests or signs of the season or animals. They learn about trees and flowers and the creek and the little creatures — all the things that make the area one of unusual variety.

The area was purchased with land for the new San Geronimo Valley School and immediately designated as a nature education area, Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said.

Saturday, at 2 p.m. it was dedicated and officially named the Marietta Larsen Memorial Nature Preserve.

Mrs. Larsen, a former member of the Lagunitas and Tamalpais High School district boards, was "dedicated to the education of the children of this district and to the preservation of the natural environment," McCunniff said.

She was also active in education on acounty level, serving on the county Committee on School District Reorganization.

To insure maximum use of the area, the school district and the Audubon Society are sponsoring an education program "teaching the teachers how to use the outdoors as a classroom," McCunniff said. Each contributed $500.

Consultants from the Natural Science Resources Association, a team of Marin biologists who serve as consultants in natural science, have come to the school weekly this fall to work with teachers and will return next spring to work with children, he said.

Future plans include developing paths through the area, improving the stream, a tributary of Papermill Creek, so salmon and steelhead will come up, and eventually opening the area to groups from other schools, McCunniff said.

OUTDOOR LESSON — Gnarled old oak trees sprinkled throughout the Marietta Larsen Memorial Nature Preserve provided interesting lessons for the pupils. Here, teacher Judy Payton points to woodpecker holes as she explains why they peck.

GERONIMO BEAR? — Children use a path laid through the grassy area so they will not walk in the animal paths that abound in the nature preserve. Children, asked what kind of animals come to the area, mentioned deer, snakes, gophers and bear. "I don't think bear," corrected the teacher gently.

PLACE OF PEACE — Studying the creek, a tributary of the Papermill, pupils question teacher Judy Payton on animal activities in the water. The students are, from left, Elaina Glenn, Melanee Euless, Carla Gallager, Otto Buckenthal, David Kennedy and Mark Stommel.

NATURE LORE — Treasures collected in an afternoon nature walk — acorns, a mossy oak twig and a wild grass — go back to the classroom with Elaina Glenn for the rest of the second graders to study. The nature preserve will be used throughout the year to teach children how to use a natural area and see the inter-relationships of animals and plants.

BARK "PICTURES" — Pausing in their tour for a short course in art, pupils learn how to make "drawings" (rubbings) on a giant old tree. Teacher Judy Payton explains the process, which uses paper towels or cloth, chalk and bark.

Realty Convention Asked To Back Point Reyes Drive

A resolution adopted by the Marin County Real Estate Board calling for President Richard M. Nixon to authorize enough federal funds to complete land acquisition for the Point Reyes National Seashore will be presented this week at the National Association of Real Estate Board's convention in San Francisco.

The Marin County board's resolution notes only 22,540 acres have been acquired for the seashore and that 30,940 acres remain in private ownership.

The resolution says there is enough money available in the federal Land and Water Conservation fund to complete the Point Reyes park — a sum that has been placed at $38 million. The resolution says there is currently $164 million on deposit for park land acquisition.

Extra School Space On Agenda

The cost of providing portable classrooms at Adaline E. Kent School to avoid student busing to Greenbrae School, will be discussed by the Kentfield School District oBard of Trustees at 8 p.m. today at the Wolfe Grade School.

Paretns of 51 of the 57 students who were scheduled to be bused protested to the board at its Oct. 13 meetings. The board then turned to portable classrooms to solve the overcrowded conditions at Kent School.

Teacher aides were placed in the classified employee catagory on Oct. 27 by the board. The board will receive a report on the cost of fringe benefits these aides will receive under the new classification.

Burn Ban Will Be Discussed

An application to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District for a variance to the backyard burning ban which goes into effect Jan. 1 will be considered by the Ross Town Council at 8 p.m. Thursday in city hall.

The council is considering a variance because the town has no street sweeping machinery and must rely on residents for help in burning refuse. The council has said for months that a ban would have serious effect on the community.

Mrs. R. D. Norby of the League of Women Voters will speak in opposition to the proposed variance.

The council will also hear a report from Seymour, Kashin, general manager of the Marin County Transit District, on implementation of a countywide bus system and integration of the buses with the commuter ferry system under consideration.

New Jersey is also known as the "Garden State."

'Flat Oranges'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Tangerines, which are neither round nor oval, are known in many parts of the world as "flat oranges," according to Sunkist Growers.

Health Group Wants Major Policy Role

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Leaders of the American Public Health Association, with a slap at the American Medical Association, have launched a bid for their group to assume a major role as spokesman for national health policy.

The leaders of the 24,500-member organization of public health workers say the APHA should develop a leading voice in the establishment of the nation's health policies, "not for the narrow professional interests of anybody, but rather for the public interest."

The APHA's 127-member governing council will vote during its 97th annual meeting here on several resolutions designed to change the organization's traditional role as an adviser to health agencies to that of an "activist for social change."

Association officers indicate they expect the resolutions to pass.

If they are passed, and if the association develops the national voice speaking for the individual consumer that its leaders seek, the APHA will, medical people here say, be a clear rival to the AMA.

"Health conditions in this country are really in bad shape," said Dr. Paul B. Cornely, association president-elect and a professor of preventive medicine at Howard University College of Medicine.

Dr. Cornely and Dr. Lester Breslow, association president from the University of California School of Public Health, both said at a news conference yesterday that the AMA has failed to meet the health needs of the American people. The two men are not members of the AMA.

"We believe," Dr. Cornely said, "that the APHA can become an effective spokesman . . . for the country."

"The AMA," he told a news conference, "in the past has come out with approaches that were not to our liking . . . at their last meeting, for the first time, they became concerned about the poor.

"If they want to do something about the poor, and come up with plans that are acceptable to us, we'll be willing to join hands. But if they come up with something we oppose, we'll be critical of them."

Cornely and Breslow said the APHA hopes to increase its membership to perhaps double the present size. They said their organization is not trying to "take over" as a leader in the health field or to attack any other organization.

The doctors said one of their major efforts will be to join with individual Americans who are the health consumers, often the poor. They said they hope to work with health organizations in the ghettos and rural areas.

Israeli Jets In Reprisal Suez Attacks

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli planes attacked Egyptian targets yesterday and today in the wake of the first Egyptian naval strike against Israeli land forces since the 1967 war.

The Israeli planes hit military targets on the western shore of the Gulf of Suez today, south of the Suez Canal, and all planes returned safely, a spokesman said.

Yesterday, the Israeli planes attacked along the central section of the canal, and all planes reportedly came back.

There was no report of the damage done in either raid.

Israel denied that its forces suffered any damage in the naval bombardment Saturday night of an Israeli base in the Sinai Desert 20 miles east of the entrance to the Suez Canal. Newsmen taken to the area found shell fragments and shell marks in the sand but no other evidence of the shelling.

Egyptian military spokesmen reported that "a number of Egyptian destroyers" bombarded an Israeli command post, tanks, artillery, ammunition dumps and troops for about an hour Saturday night and left the area ablaze.

As the ships were sailing away, the Egyptians said, they shot down two Israeli jets trying to attack them.

The Israelis denied that the Egyptian bombardment caused any damage or casualties or that any planes were shot down.

Meanwhile, Al Ahram, the semiofficial Cairo newspaper that usually reflects the views of President Gamal Abdel Nasser, rejected the latest U.S. proposal for a peace settlement in the Middle East. It quoted an "official source" as saying: "A first look at the new American proposals shows at once a complete bias in favor of Israel and against the Arabs."

Al Ahram gave no details of the plan, which has not been made public, but Egyptian sources have indicated that it proposes a bilateral settlement between Israel and Egypt followed by an attempt to reach agreement between Israel and Jordan.

Egypt has rejected such an approach before. U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco submitted the proposed formula to Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin in Washington Oct. 30.

Arab political military leaders continued a meeting of the joint Arab Defense Council in Cairo to map military strategy against Israel.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad urged the delegates over the weekend to mobilize for "a battle of destiny." Riad told the council, which includes representatives of 13 nations and a delegation of Palestinian guerrillas, that the United States is "a partner of Israel" in the war.

Cycle Injuries

David L. Westcot, 21, of 141 Piper Court, Fairfax, was treated for face cuts today at Marin General Hospital after his motorcycle hit a tree at 2 a.m. at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Butterfield Road, San Anselmo police reported.

A Call For Dentists To Join Crime Fight

By London Express News Service.

LONDON — The image of the dentist as a rather dull creature with a workload of consistent boredom and surrounded by tearful patients is being quietly reshaped. There appears to be a bright future for him in crime detection.

The British Dental Association is shortly to receive a report from a special working party which has been looking at the forensic dental services available in Britain. When these findings have been mulled over, they will be handed to the Home Office.

There is little doubt that there is a shortage of sufficiently expert forensic dentists and no doubt that there is plenty of work waiting for the man — or woman — who decides to make forensic science an extra-surgery specialty. For a lead, they must look to Liverpool where the enlightened chief constable, James Houghton, saw the potential of the dentist in crime following evidence gathered by 40-year-old John Furness.

He is now one of Europe's most experienced forensic dentists, having evolved his own method for the identification of bite marks in victims of murder, rape, and general assault — similar to the finger printing technique, with its 16 points of similarity. And like fingerprints, no two sets of teeth make the same impressions, not even those of identical twins.

For skeptics who judge effort by results, Furness is well qualified to be taken note of when he adds his comments to the working party's report: To date he has helped to send six murderers to prison (two of them double murders) as well as an assortment of other assailants.

The saying among Liverpool detective these days that if a man bites when he commits crime, he bites his way into jail.

For Furness, the second prong of his career as a dentist began at approximately 4:30 one afternoon as he was drilling the tooth of a housewife in preparation for a routine filling. At that moment the body of a murdered man was being taken from a docked ship to a Liverpool mortuary.

Doctors spotted bite marks on the victim's face and shoulder and since one of them knew Furness, decided to call him in for an expert opinion.

"At first," said Furness, "I felt out of it, caught up among a lot of policemen all bustling about at the start of a murder inquiry. But on studying the tooth marks on the body I felt I might be of some use. The marks were, after all plain enough to identify the person who had done the biting."

There were several methods available for comparing the marks — from removing the section involved to making models of suspects' teeth for "biting" a mock-up of that part of the body concerned — but he was not entirely satisfied with any of them.

With the police holding three suspects, Furness devised his own method of identification which has now withstood the chill analysis of court-room cross examination and which is faster and more accurate than pervious methods.

After photographing the bite mark, casts are made of the suspect's teeth in artificial stone. The biting edges are marked with printer's ink and a photograph is taken of the cast from different angles.

Prints are made to match in size a previously enlarged picture of the victim's injuries and mounted on a single sheet of white card.

In looking at the victim's wounds in his first case, Furness decided the marks were those one would expect to be left by teeth with a regular pattern. A great deal of force had been applied (when chewing the jaw muscles operate with approximately 120 pounds pressure per square inch). The marks were similar meaning that the same person had made them all.

He examined and charted the mouths of the three suspects with their written consent. A model of each suspect's bite — made in artificial stone — was compared with marks on the dead man's face.

Two men were quickly eliminated because of obvious discrepancies. But it was equally obvious to Furness that the third suspect could have done the biting. His technique of identification was sufficient for the police to charge the third man with murder. He is still in prison.

Police forces throughout the world have followed Liverpool's lead and send their rightest young men and women to courses taught by Furness.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain.

In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Terra Linda Clinches Grid Title

Trojans Defeat Redwood

By GARY TISCHLER

"It's too bad anybody had to lose."

That feeling was expressed by Redwood High School football coach Bob Troppmann, whose team did lose, but it was a natural enough feeling and may have come close to describing a ballgame in which not very much happened but nobody noticed.

What did happen was that Terra Linda has another Marin County Athletic League football title cinched after turning back a game but doomed effort by Redwood, 14-8, before a fantastic crowd of some 4,500 fans who spilled and sprawled all over San Rafael High School's field Saturday night.

5-0 MARK

The victory gave Terra Linda a 5-0 league mark and the Trojans need only to get by San Rafael to capture their first outright league crown. As it is, they have at least four title ties in a row clinched. Redwood, its chances all but dimmed, has a crack at a title tie if the Giants beat San Marin and if the Trojans bow to San Rafael.

The huge crowd gave the game epic, mini-super bowl proportions even though the two teams played it so close to the vest that it hurt.

FUMBLES

Although both teams wound up fumbling the ball away twice, the big play was monster man Dewey Forry's interception of a Redwood screen pass at midfield. Forry, who went on to torture Redwood with his running, returned it to the Redwood 17-yard line to open the way for the first touchdown of the game, which came three plays later in the second period on a one-yard buck by John Scozzofava. Bob Daniele's kick made it 7-0.

Redwood threatened and drove all the way to 20-yard line but gutty quarterback Pete Cooney was run out of bounds at the seven-yard line at the halftime buzzer.

ON GROUND

Terra Linda surprised everybody, including coach Don Lucas, by not throwing the ball. Lucas, in fact, wasn't all that happy over the Trojans' performance on offense.

"We were sluggish, We didn't vary our offense enough," he said. "I thought we could have won by 21-0. But Redwood played a tough game. We just didn't let them get their ground game started."

In fact, it was a strange thing. Redwood, the running team, wound up passing 20 times, with little result, and Terra Linda, the passing team, threw only five times while Forry boosted a running Terra Linda ground attack by churning out 126 yards in 24 carries.

"I was surprised they didn't pass more," Troppmann said. "We were always aware of the pass. Of course, our problem was that we couldn't get our running game going. Without it, we couldn't do that much."

Redwood came back for its

Lamonica Fires Raider Victory

OAKLAND (AP)—Daryle Lamonica has thrown 25 touchdown passes this year. He was also decked illegally by the Denver Broncos three times yesterday.

Lamonica does not think those two facts are related.

"I don't really have any trouble with late shots," Lamonica said after leading the Oakland Raiders to a 41-10 victory over the Broncos. "I've got some studs protecting me."

FIVE CALLS

The Bronocs were called three times for roughing the passer and twice more for roughing Raider punters. Once, Lamonica was put out of the game, though only for less than a minute at the end of the first half.

Denver Coach Lou Saban was hard put to hide his displeasure at the calls. His club has dropped opposing passers 35 times legally this season.

"What do you tell your linemen about rushing the quarterback?" Saban asked rhetorically after the game. "I'd like to comment on the officiating, but you know I can't."

League rules forbid the criticism of referees.

Lamonica was unaffected by his rugged treatment. Although he completed only 11 of 21 passes, they were good for 268 yards and three touchdowns to Fred Biletnikoff of 53, 28 and 15 yards. Biletnikoff's league-leading scoring catch total is now 10.

And when Lamonica was out at the end of the half, George Blanda came in and promptly threw an 11-yard scoring strike to Charlie Smith. Blanda also kicked two field goals.

"I think we played real good football," said Raider Coach John Madden. "I thought our defense did an outstanding job. Steve Tensi (Denver's quarterback) had to scramble a lot. Their front four gets a lot of publicity but I think our pass rush is just as good as theirs."

Denver's inexperienced defensive backfield—it contains three rookies and a second-year man—just couldn't keep up with Biletnikoff or Warren Wells whose two receptions for a total of 96 yards set up Fred's last two scoring catches.

'WORST'

"This is the worst our secondary has looked," said Saban. "Against real pros, kids like ours are going to get hurt."

A Denver onside kick attempt that was recovered by the Raiders led to the touchdown that put Oakland ahead for good with 1:40 left in the half. The Raiders scored again with just four seconds left on Blanda's pass to Smith.

The victory kept the Raiders one-half game behind the Kansas City Chiefs in the American Football League's Western Division race with a 7-1-1 record. Denver is now 4-5.

The only Bronco touchdown came in the second period on an 88-yard drive that took 15 plays with Fran Lynch going over from the one. Bobby Howfield added a field goal in the third period.

Long Struggle For Crampton

HONOLULU (AP)—It was a long, tough struggle for Bruce Crampton, five years of frustration that came to an end with his victory in the $125,000 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

"It's been a long time since I've been here, in the winner's circle," the 34-year-old Australian said after a four-stroke victory over Jack Nicklaus for the top prize yesterday.

"I can't tell you how happy I am.

A LONG TIME

"It's been such a long time. I had a good year in 1965, won three tournaments. But I have not won since the passing of my father, very suddenly, late that year.

"It's been a long, hard thing to do to get things glued back together."

But Crampton, a tour regular since 1957, had it all glued together yesterday. He had come from eight strokes off the pace to establish a one-stroke lead over Nicklaus at the end of three rounds Saturday.

Then he birdied his first two and won it going away. It really wasn't close. Bruce had a final 67, five under par on the 7,020 yard, par 72 Waialae Country Club course, and finished with a 274 total.

JACK SECOND

Nicklaus closed with a 70—never really getting untracked—and finished second at 278. He was followed by rookie John Schroeder and Chi Chi Rodriguez, tied at 280, with Jack McGowan and Tom Weiskopf at 281.

Crampton, who pushed his earnings for the year to $118,527, hadn't won an official tour event since the 500 Festival in Indianapolis and has finished second six times in the last two years.

Lee Trevino, the 1968 Hawaiian Open champion, had a final 71 and was one of several at 283. Arnold Palmer closed with a 73 and was far back at 286.

Marin Ace Ties Big Sky Record

Karl Stein of San Anselmo, former Drake High School and College of Marin star, tied a Big Sky Conference record for pass interceptions Saturday during undefeated University of Montana's 14-0 victory over Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo in Missoula, Mont.

Stein recorded his 10th pass theft of the season to equal the conference record set by Bob Satterfield of Idaho State last season.

Rams Outscore The 49ers; Big Day For Quarterbacks

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—John Brodie and the San Francisco 49ers gave it a good shot but they couldn't quite make it against Roman Gabriel and the Los Angeles Rams.

After the Rams pulled out a 41-30 win before 73,975 yesterday at Memorial Coliseum, no one had any harsh words for Brodie, making a comeback after resting a "dead arm" for two games.

Brodie threw three touchdown passes and drew the 49ers to within four points 34-30 in the fourth period before Gabriel got the Rams out of danger by rolling around right end for nine yards and the final score with 1:53 to play.

MAKES IT TOUGH

"Brodie makes things tough," said Ram coach George Allen. "He's one of the great quarterbacks in the NFL. He never quits."

Brodie said his arm was okay and he proved it by throwing the long ball when he wanted to. He connected to Doug Cunningham for a 58-yard pass play before hitting Bill Tucker for a three-yarder and the final S.F. touchdown in the fourth quarter.

It looked like the game might be a breeze for the Rams when Gabriel connected to Wendell Tucker on the first scrimmage play of the game. Tucker got behind the 49er secondary, caught the ball on the Rams 40 and headed on a southwest tangent for the end zone. Jimmy Johnson was on his heels and made a dive at the 10 but it was no dice. The play was good for 93 yards.

35-YARDER

Gabriel threw two other TD passes—a 35-yarder to Les Josephson in the first quarter, and an eight-yarder to Jack Snow with just four seconds gone in the fourth quarter.

In addition to the pass to Bill Tucker, Brodie threw two others good for touchdowns—a 20-yarder to Ken Willard in the first period and a two-yarder to Bob Windsor in the fourth.

Eddie Meador intercepted a Brodie pass in the third quarter and ran the ball back 38 yards to a touchdown. Brodie had two interceptions, Gabriel none.

Brodie connected on 25 of 42 passes for 356 yards, Gabriel on 13 of 23 for 319 yards.

FIELD GOALS

The Rams got two field goals—15 yards and 39 yards—from Bruce Gossett. The Forty Niners got one field goal of 32 yards from Momacilo Gavric, a soccer player of Yugoslavian descent signed as a free agent last week. Tommy Davis, their former placekicker, was demoted to the taxi squad.

Gavric contributed three conversions but had his first attempt blocked by Ram Tackle Merlin Olsen.

Marin Tars Whipped By Contra Costans

"What happened?" Coach Dick Read was asked following his College of Marin Tars' 44-30 loss to Contra Costa College of San Pablo Saturday afternoon.

"You name it . . . we did just about everything wrong," he said trying to explain the Camino Norte Conference football game played before an estimated 200 fans at Marin Catholic High School in Kentfield.

The stunned coach added: "My staff has been in coaching for several years and we all agree that our performance in the first half was the worst football by any of our teams."

It was during that half that Contra Costa stormed off to a 36-8 lead, capitalizing on intercepted passes and a number of penalties that killed Marin drives and scoring threats.

"We gained some momentum in the second half," Read said, "but couldn't make it. We lost a fumble on about the one-yard line and had another touchdown called back by a penalty."

Marin's scores came on two touchdown passes, Jim Peters to Pete Carroll, a quarterback sneak by Peters and a run by Mike Fowler. The Tars also made three two-point conversions on passes from Peters to Jim Finnegan, Keith Stirling and Carroll.

The whip will really crack in practice this week, Read promised, as he prepares the Tars for their traditional game against the Santa Rosa Junior College Bear Cubs Friday night at Santa Rosa.

Marin now has a 1-3 won-lost record in conference. Contra Costa pushed its record to 2-2.

Sonoma State Dumps Chico State Javees

Playing the finest game in their short history, the Sonoma State College Cossacks remained unbeaten against Far Western Conference junior varsity opposition Saturday as they registered a lopsided 33-8 win over the Chico State JV's in Chico.

The Cossacks have now defeated four of the five FWC junior varsity teams in the initial year of the Sonoma State football program. They meet the fifth, unbeaten Sacramento State, in a battle for the "unofficial" league JV title next Saturday, 1 p.m., at Petaluma's Durst field.

QUICK

Sonoma State wasted no time jumping out front in last Saturday's game as it scored the first time the Cossack's gained possession of the ball. Defensive halfback Rich Lewandowski intercepted a Chico State pass in the game's first series of downs and returned it to the Chico 15-yard line. Cossack Bill Cox guided Sonoma State to the score, the touchdown coming on a 1-yard run by halfback Luther Nelson.

The Cossacks scored once more in the first quarter on a Cox-to-Chris Alvarado pass play covering 40 yards. That touchdown put Sonoma State ahead 13-0 and it was never headed.

Chico State scored its lone touchdown in the second quarter to close the margin to 13-8 at the half. But Sonoma State's Jack Trujillo returned the second half kickoff 85 yards to put Sonoma State ahead 19-8. The Cossacks scored twice more in the game.

The defensive secondary shined for Sonoma State as it intercepted four Chico passes.

It's Another Tough Loss For 'Cats

Marin Catholic High School's bid for a second straight winning football season is no more.

The Wildcats lost another tough game Saturday, bowing to St. Elizabeth's of Oakland, 16-12, in Oakland.

The loss left the Wildcats with a 2-4-2 season record, with one game left to play.

Marin Catholic held a brief 6-0 lead in the first period when Pat Parnow climaxed a 33-yard drive with a one-yard scoring run. But St. Elizabeth's scored on a 40-yard run, a two-point conversion and a two-point safety to take a 10-6 half-time lead and upped it to 16-6 in the third period on a 52-yard pass play.

Dianne Wayda of Novato, housewife and mother of four, is the new Queen of Marin County Bowling.

Mrs. Wayda, losing only one out of seven matches, yesterday won the fifth annual Marin County Queens Tournament at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

In addition to the title, Mrs. Wayda had the highest game of the tournament, 243. Pat Weddell finished second and Varena Helbing third. Defending champ was Dorreen Puccinelli.

Tomales Nears Football Title

Tomales High School's football team is only an inch away from its third straight North Central II grid crown, but the inch may turn out to be a mile.

Tomales, which upped its league mark to 3-0 by whipping Upper Lake, 38-6, at Upper Lake Saturday, will go after the crown this Saturday when its hosts Calistoga, also unbeaten and owner of a 7-1 record, in the first and only game of the season at Tomales' new field.

Ron Petroni went over the hill Saturday, getting above the 1,000-yard plateau in rushing with 160 yards in 20 carries to boost his total for the season to 1,054 yards.

Warriors Vs. Rockets In TV Game

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—San Francisco's Warriors will be playing without guard and assistant coach Al Attles tonight when they meet the San Diego Rockets here in National Basketball Association action.

Attles broke a right hand bone Friday while the Warriors were trimming the Celtics in Boston. His loss was apparent the next night when the San Franciscans lost to Atlanta by 106-93.

The Warriors have a 6-4 record, good enough for second place in the association's western division.

San Diego is at the bottom of the division with a 1-9 record but its only victory was over the Warriors.

In beating the Warriors, the Atlanta Hawks were led by the defensive play of Joe Caldwell who held San Francisco's Jeff Mullins to 10 points, only four of those coming from the floor. Until then Mullins had been connecting for an average of nearly 29 points a game.

High man for the Hawks was Bill Bridges with 24 points. Nate Thurmond led the Warriors with 21.

Windward Passage Leads Yacht Race

COMBINED AP & UPI

LONG BEACH — The ketch Windward Passage remained the apparent leader today in the Long Beach to La Paz yacht race but race officials said there may be some deep sea gamesmanship going on.

Blackfin, archrival to Hawaii's Windward Passage, did not answer roll call, officials reported yesterday, but that caused no alarm.

In last July's Transpacific Yacht race, Blackfin skipper Ken DeMeuse accused the Windward Passage of radioing phony position reports to give the Blackfin a false sense of security that enabled Windward Passage to cross the finish line first by one hour. The Blackfin was pronounced the winner after the Windward Passage was disqualified.

Now, officials theorize DeMeuse is purposely keeping mum.

FOOTBALL

SEATTLE — University of Washington football coach Jim Owens last night announced the reinstatement of three of the four black athletes he had suspended Oct. 30.

He said the fourth black player, Harvey Blanks, will be suspended permanently.

"I have concluded to terminate the suspensions of Greg Alex, Ralph Bayard and Lamar Mills," Owens said.

The Husky coach said all three will have a normal opportunity to earn their respective places on the Washington team.

In reference to Blanks' permanent suspension, Owens said his problems with Blanks have been more extensive than he has experienced with almost any other player. He did, not elaborate on this statement.

St. Vincent's '11' Loses To Menlo

St. Vincent's High School of Petaluma turned in an outstanding effort just a little late Saturday night as it dropped a 12-6 contest to the Menlo High School Acorns of Petaluma.

After a scoreless first half, Menlo's powerful running game worked for two long touchdown drives, the first one late in the third quarter and the other early in the fourth quarter, good for a 12-0 Acorn lead.

St. Vincent's came storming back to score its lone touchdown with only 38 seconds left in the game. Quarterback Herm Benedetti tossed a nine-yard scoring pass to halfback Bernie Lowell.

An onside kick attempt failed, however and the Mustangs fell to defeat for the sixth time in eight outings this season.

St. Vincent's wraps up its season next Saturday when it meets Mendocino in an 8 p.m. game at Petaluma's Durst field.

Seals Tie Flyers; Oakland Vs. Bruins Tonight

BOSTON (AP) — The Oakland Seals will be looking for their first National Hockey League victory in four games when they take on the Boston Bruins tonight.

Thanks to a 50-foot shot by Wayne Muloin at Philadelphia yesterday, the Seals emerged with a 2-2 tie instead of a defeat to add to consecutive setbacks incurred against Detroit, Toronto and New York.

The tie game left Oakland and the Philadelphia Flyers tied for third place in the West Division, each with 10 points, one behind Minnesota.

An Oakland shot hit Flyer captain Ed Van Impe in the face, knocking out two teeth and causing tongue and lip wounds requiring 30 stitches, but Van Impe returned to play in the third period.

THE END GAME — Redwood end Steve Fleischman tucks in a pass from quarterback Pete Cooney while Terra Linda's Mike Bridges moves in to attempt the tackle.

only serious drive after Terra Linda had scored its second touchdown. Forry, who had sparked the Trojans with a blistering 37-yard run, had gone over from the three for a 14-0 lead.

The Giants countered with a halting, long, stuttering drive that took up six precious minutes into the final period, with sophomore fullback Jay Lehman going over from the five, and Cooney taking it in for a two-point conversion.

Novato Wins; Long Drake Season Over

The long season is finally over for Drake High School's football team.

The Pirates ended it on a typical note, losing to a punchless Novato team by one point, 7-6, in the last four minutes of the game before some 1,000 fans at Novato High School Saturday.

The loss, Drake's fifth in a row and seventh of the season against one win, assured the Pirates, who are used to better things, at least a share of last place in Marin County Athletic League play with a 1-5 record.

Novato, which has now won three games on the season, took its first league win of the year when sophomore quarterback Marti Moroski connected with Neal Given on a 55-yard scoring pass and Doug Chandler booted the extra point with four minutes left in the game.

Drake had clung to a 6-0 lead after Mark Silverman had scored from six yards out as the Pirates took advantage of a fumble recovery on the Novato 10-yard line near the end of the first half.

The Pirates led for most of the game despite coughing up the ball four times on fumbles and twice on pass interceptions.

"I'm kind of glad it's over," Drake coach Bob Franceschini said. "It's been a long season. We were just too inexperienced and had too many injuries."

Drake had an open date next week and chose not to fill it with a non-league game.

NFL ROUNDUP

Kapp, Vikings Bury Browns

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Minnesota Vikings can only hope that Joe Kapp never learns how you're supposed to play the quarterback position in the National Football League these days.

Kapp, the unorthodox scrambler who played Canadian ball before joining the Vikings three years ago, dusted off an old relic from football's past—the jump pass—as the Vikings crushed the Cleveland Browns, 51-3, for their seventh straight victory.

Kapp threw three touchdown passes to Gene Washington and the first two were tosses of 16 and 10 yards when the 6-foot-3 quarterback leaped in the air before floating the ball into the end zone, where Washington made excellent catches.

The victory moved the Central Division Vikings two games in front of the Green Bay Packers, who were beaten by the Baltimore Colts, 14-6. The Packers and the Vikings meet in Milwaukee next Sunday.

The Los Angeles Rams remained the only unbeaten team in pro football and stretched their record to 8-0 by edging San Francisco, 41-30. The Rams are three games ahead of Baltimore in the Coastal Division.

The Dallas Cowboys moved two games in front of Washington (Dallas is at Washington this Sunday) in the Capitol Division by beating New Orleans, 33-17, while Washington was held to a 28-28 tie by Philadelphia.

St. Louis moved within two games of Cleveland in the Century Division by blitzing New York, 42-17.

In other games, Detroit topped Atlanta, 27-21, and Chicago won its first game by dropping Pittsburgh, 38-7.

Johnny Unitas passed for two TDs to give Baltimore the victory over Green Bay. The Baltimore defense finally showed some of its form of last year and both Tom Maxwell and oft-maligned Bubba Smith blocked field goal attempts.

TIE

Philadelphia, trailing 28-14 with 10 minutes left, rallied to tie Washington. Norm Snead bucked over from the one with 55 seconds left after the officials called a pass interference penalty on the one-yard line on Mike Bass. Bass and Hawkins had jumped for a Snead pass on a fourth-and-25 play on the Washington 42.

Calvin Hill romped 30 yards for one TD and set up another with a 55-yard run as Dallas beat New Orleans and Johnny Roland scored three TDs in the first half to give St. Louis the victory over New York.

Detroit scored the first three times it had the ball—including a 96-yard kickoff return by Bobby Williams—to beat Atlanta and Gale Sayers rushed for 109 yards as Chicago blasted the Steelers.

Another Tough Time For Jets

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

What's wrong with the New York Jets?

"Not a thing," replied quarterback Joe Namath. "We're 7-2, aren't we?"

True, yesterday's 16-6 conquest of Buffalo was a club-record sixth straight triumph for the New Yorkers, boosting them into a comfortable 2½-game lead in the American Football League's Eastern Division.

But, in five of those victories, the Jets didn't even display a shadow of last year's explosive ability that carried them to the Super Bowl championship. And, in their last four triumphs, the Jets really weren't assured of victory until the closing minutes.

SAYS RAUCH

"They're not functioning as well as they were at this stage last season," commented losing Coach John Rauch.

Meanwhile, while the Jets were struggling to hand the Bills their seventh loss in nine games, Kansas City maintained its half-game edge in the Western Division by dumping San Diego 27-3; second-place Oakland ripped Denver 41-10; Cincinnati tied Houston 31-31 on Horse Muhlamnn's 18-yard field goal with 22 seconds left, and Miami nipped Boston 17-16.

Bill Mathis bulled one-yard for the Jets' only touchdown in the second quarter, while reliable Jim Turner, the AFL scoring leader, kicked three field goals—from 37, 25 and 47 yards—the last with 23 seconds to go.

The Bills' super-rookie, O. J. Simpson, who picked up 70 yards in 14 carries, had a three-yard first period TD called back because he was in motion before the snap. Bruce Alford's 13-yard field goal try then was blocked by Paul Crane.

SURPRISE

Halfback Warren McVea surprised San Diego with a left-handed 50-yard scoring strike to Frank Pitts in the third quarter, then scored on a two-yard plunge early in the final period to break open a tight game as the Chiefs, 8-1, all but eliminated San Diego, 4-5, from the Western Division race.

Cincinnati's sensational quarterback, Greg Cook, fired four touchdown passes, two 70-yarders, then guided the Bengals 69 yards in 10 plays to set Muhlmann's tying boot.

Rookie Roy Gerela, who had kicked a 50-yard field goal with three minutes left to give Houston a 31-28 lead, missed a desperation 60-yarder with only two seconds left.

Don Trull, making his first start at quarterback for the Oilers, fired TD passes of 34 and 38 yards to Jim Beirne and ran one and four yards for two more in the offensive battle.

Larry Csonka's 54-yard touchdown run with 2½ minutes left and Karl Kremser's conversion earned Miami a rain-soaked victory over Boston when a Patriots' two-point conversion attempt failed in the last minute.

Also-Rans Shooting For Pacific-8 Upsets

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two also-rans in the Pacific-8 football race could spoil a future Rose Bowl showdown with an upset this week.

Undefeated UCLA and Southern Cal. who meet the following weekend, play Oregon and Washington respectively.

In other games this weekend, Air Force will be at Stanford, California entertains San Jose State, and Washington State is at Oregon State.

The Trojans upped their conference mark to 4-0 and their over-all record to 7-0-1 Saturday by handing Washington State a 28-7 licking. USC scored all its touchdowns on the ground with quarterback Jimmy Jones getting two of them on runs of one and nine yards.

UCLA, 7-0-1 and 4-0-1 in the conference, was idle.

Stanford, third in the conference at 4-1-1 and 5-2-1 overall, dumped Washington 21-7 as quarterback Jim Plunkett scored on a one-yard plunge and passed 26 yards to Randy Vataha for another TD.

At Berkeley, Oregon State finally beat a California team, upsetting California 35-3. Fullback Dave Schilling scored twice on runs of three and six yards and quarterback Steve Endicott passed for three touchdowns.

Oregon State, 4-4 for the year, had lost to Stanford, UCLA and USC.

Oregon, now 4-3-1, tied Army 17-17 as Army's Arden Jensen booted a 43-yard field goal with eight seconds left. Oregon, which came from behind twice, had gone ahead on Ken Woody's 21-yard field goal.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Nov. 10, the 314th day of 1969, with 51 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1871 newspaperman Henry Stanley found explorer David Livingstone in a small settlement in Africa.

In 1917 a total of 41 women from 15 states were arrested for suffragette demonstrations outside the White House.

In 1957 the U. S. Office of Education reported a two-year study showed Russia was ahead of the United States in the emphasis on technical and scientific teaching.

In 1965 the aluminum industry bowed to administration pressure and rescinded price increases.

Ohio's Aerial Contribution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Ohio claims the honor of being the birthplace of three pioneers in the air and beyond.

Orville and Wilbur Wright conducted pioneer experiments in aviation in their Dayton, Ohio, bicycle shop before making the first successful powered glideplane flight at Kitty Hawk, N.C., in 1903.

Neil Armstrong, the first human to set foot on the moon, was born in Wapakoneta, Ohio.

Plain Play Is Good, But Fancy Play Even Better

"I'm a plain man," South declared. "I don't make any fancy bids or any fancy plays. In the long run, you'll find, I'm a very substantial winner." It's a reasonable way to play the game, and I couldn't complain — especially since South was one of my opponents.

Opening lead — ♡ Q

HIGH HEART

West opened the queen of hearts and our plain man won with the ace. He drew trumps and led a diamond from dummy, losing the king to West's ace.

West led a low heart to the king, and I cashed the queen of diamonds before leading another heart. South ruffed the third round of hearts, and eventually tried a finesse with the jack of clubs. West won with the queen of clubs, and South was down one.

"The odds were in my favor," South commented. "I would make four spades if the ace of diamonds or the queen of clubs were in favorable position. Who can ask for better than 3 to 1 odds?"

NO ANSWER

Nobody answered his question. South's contract was unbeatable, but not by plain play.

To begin with, South should refuse the first heart trick. Nothing very fancy in that. South merely wants to keep East out of the lead, and he therefore makes sure of giving the inevitable heart loser to West.

South wins the next heart, leads a trump to dummy, ruffs a heart, and leads another trump to dummy. Then he leads a diamond from dummy.

If East plays low, South tries a deep finesse with the ten. If East plays the queen of diamonds, South covers with the king.

Not very plain, perhaps, but 100 per cent sure.

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

This is a borderline opening bid, but most experts firmly believe in bidding this sort of hand.

A Unique Hobby: Corkscrew Collection

MALMOE, Sweden (UPI)—Egnineer Jan Ekman in Malmoe has a unique hobby—he collects corkscrews.

His collection consists of 600 different types of corkscrews from the 17th Century to present days. At a recent visit to Hamburg he discovered a giant corkscrew drilled into a bar. To get the rarity he had to buy the entire bar and fly it in pieces to his home in southern Sweden.

New Jersey Retailer Expanding Rapidly

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We have been looking for a promising low-priced issue. What do you think of Wyle Laboratories? — J.L.

A. The long-term prospects of this company appear excellent but for several reasons I would postpone purchases. Earnings in fiscal 1970 are expected to be well below the 80 cents reported in the year ended January. A flood at one plant and strike at three others held back production. Engineering problems, increased costs and sizable interest expenses will continue to hold down earnings.

In a low-priced issue, I prefer New Jersey-based Channel Companies, a chain of 19 retail building materials and hardware stores. Although founded in 1908, the company went public only last January when 200,000 shares were offered at $5.50. About 64 per cent of the 850,000 outstanding shares are family-owned.

Three new stores, scheduled to open before spring, will increase store space by 74 per cent. In the year ended January, sales were up 6 per cent to $12.5 million while net gained 33 per cent to 37 cents a share on present capitalization. In the first half of the current fiscal year margins improved and net was equal to 31 cents a share. Full-year results should exceed 60 cents including contributions from the new Home Centers. This unseasoned issue is suited only for risk capital.

Q. I have 100 shares of Bio-Dynamics at an average price of 50½. Why is it currently so depressed? — L.S.

A. Disappointing earnings for fiscal 1969 coming in a declining market exaggerated the downside action in these shares. Lower second-quarter net resulted in 40 cents a share versus 42 cents for the six months through Aug. 31. Bio-Dynamic's, "United System," a portable blood-testing laboratory, has excellent potential not only from initial sales but from replacement sales of the required chemicals. These highly volatile shares could react to good news as dynamically as they have to bad.

Fish Exports Up

THE HAGUE (UPI)—Dutch exports of fish products last year rose from 173,000 tons to 181,000 tons, from $76 million worth to $83 million worth. Imports of fish products rose last year from 63,500 to 68,000 tons, from $27 million to $31.8 million worth.

Pacific Coast Stocks

Yacht, Cruiser Shipment Due Concorde Yacht Sales Outlet

A fleet of Concorde fiberglass yachts and Owens cruisers is scheduled to be delivered this week to Clipper Yacht Harbor, Sausalito, for a newly established business — Concorde Yacht Sales.

This is a facrory-owned and operated dealership of Concorde-Owens (a division of Brunswick Corp.) and its entry into Marin signals the end of an Owens dealership of many years standing for B. R. (Bud) Lowrie in San Rafael.

Concorde-Owners, headquartered in Baltimore, already has two other factory-owned dealerships in Essex, Conn. and Houston, Texas — and it is expected that more will appear in a number of other areas. Bruce Barndt, manager in Sausalito reports that the cost of maintaining individual dealership and necessary boat inventories has increased to the point where it is difficult for local firms to continue handling them — so Concorde-Owens is following other boat manufacturers in setting up company-owned facilities.

Barndt, a resident of Danville, has been with Concorde-Owens since 1957 and will continue representing the firm from San Diego to Seattle. A full sales force will be set up in Sausalito and a grand opening will be held Nov. 14, 15 and 16, with hours from noon to 5 p.m. on Friday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Lowrie said he will probably change the name of his boat sales operation from Owens-Marin Yacht Sales to Marin Yacht Sales and continue his Lowrie Yacht Harbor at 40 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael. He will still carry his Islander line of sailboats and sell used boats. Later he may take on another powercraft line.

NOW MOVED from 1200 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, to new offices at 117 Paul Drive Northgate Industrial Park is the Redwood Empire agency of California Western States Life Insurance Co. and Cal-Western Securities Co., under the management of Paul B. Lucas.

Associated in this office are David R. St. Johnson and Stryker Warren, registered representatives, and David A. Pekonen. Mrs. I. Louise Brehm is office secretary.

Louis Davis, assistant manager, has been transferred to the Napa area, where Cal-Western will open a new branch Nov. 15. Both this office and the Santa Rosa office under assistant manager William Bursten are directed by Lucas from the Northgate office.

Gereghty Flood

JOSEPH A. GEREGHTY JR. of Kentfield has joined the Charles J. Francis Co., San Rafael investment securities firm, as an account executive. He is a director of McPhail's, Inc. and of College of Marin's Alumnae Association and a principle in the recently announced new Marin firm, Centrol Systems, Inc. He will give special attention to investors clubs and to organizing groups of small investors.

JERROL L. FLOOD of Ross has been elected assistant vice president of Industrial Indemnity Co. He joined the company in 1955 as an underwriting trainee at San Francisco. A year later he moved to the property insurance department. Since last year he has been personnel manager at the San Francisco home office where he will continue in companywide personnel administration.

To Build Plant

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI) Dupont Co. will build a plant at Burnside, La., to make 150 million pounds of Hydroflouric acid annually. The plant ultimately will employ 50.

Market On Mixed Side At Closing

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished mixed today in moderately active trading.

Volume was around 12 million shares, slightly below Friday's pace.

The market gained support early in the session from a carryover of last week's demand.

Among the most active issues on the big board were Benguet, Skyline Corp., Computer Sciences, and American Smelting.

Electronics swung rather sharply, but in both directions. IBM closed up 1 3-4 to 366 3-4, and AT&T was off 3-8 to 53 1-2. Oils showed scattered strength, while most chemicals fell from their best levels. Dupont closed at 122 1-8, up 1-8, and Texaco also gained 1-8 to 30 7-8.

Steels traded narrowly. The American Iron & Steel institute reported a drop of almost 3 per cent in steel output for the weekended Nov. 8. U.S. Steel closed up 1-2 to 38 and Bethlehem was up 3-4 to 29 7-8.

Memorex, down more than 2 in mid-session, continued to attract selling pressure after last week's big loss. It reported a sharply lower third quarter net.

Computer Ready For Airborne Use

NEW YORK (UPI)—RCA Corp. has announced development of a computer it said is capable of handling data management tasks aboard an airborne command post.

RCA also said it is studying such an airborne command post, from which missiles and aircraft could be directed in the event ground control centers are destroyed, under an air Force contract.

The computer, Model 215, is no larger than an office desk, yet has a speed of 400,000 operations per second possessed only by commercial systems several times its size, RCA said.

RCA said it plans to have the 215 available for initial operation and demonstration in the first half of 1970.

Over-Age Outsiders Deny College To Resident Youth

Should Marin high school graduates be forced to seek higher education elsewhere because out-of-county youth and older students fill the classrooms of their community junior college?

Almost anyone would answer "no," but such a situation is developing at College of Marin.

The college has outgrown its facilities. It has not outgrown them solely through increasing numbers of high school graduates in the county. It has outgrown them to large extent because increasing share of its enrollment consists of persons over 21 and from outside Marin County.

Solving the problem is not simple. But there may be ways.

SO FAR, college district trustees have proceeded on the sssumption that it is the community college's responsibility to offer a free education for all. This may be its goal, but its responsibility must first be to those graduating from high schools within its own district who want additional vocational or academic education.

It was for this latter purpose that the junior colleges came into existence as district colleges. This differentiates them from the state colleges and state university, which are empowered to make their own admission rules, and which charge additional fees to those from out of state — and may, if they wish, deny such students admission.

The California Education Code says the junior colleges must admit all high school graduates. Elsewhere in the code, however, are sections which provide for special treatment, through inter-district agreements or fees, for those from outside the junior college district.

THE PRINCIPAL problem arises with those over 21 years old.

Until the age of 21, a youth is — unless married or wholly self-supporting — a resident wherever his parents reside. If the family moves, he must be admitted to school in the new place of residence.

On attaining 21, however, the youth may move wherever he wishes and that becomes his legal residence. The U.S. Supreme Court last year ruled that wefare assistance could not be denied on the basis of insufficient residence. Some lawyers think that might apply also to education — even to education beyond high school.

Thus, a person who has reached his 21st birthday may move into Marin County, rent a room, and register as a resident at College of Marin.

More than half the college's regular enrollment — not counting the adult school courses — this year is made up of persons over 21. An undertermined number of these are residents only in that they have moved here to attend the school.

Perhaps special law on junior college age limits is needed. In the meantime, however, there are things the college district itself can do to keep its educational facilities available to those for whom they are intended: Marin's own high school graduates.

BECAUSE IT DOES NOT have unlimited facilities, the board may set up priorities on admissions. These can include that no student over the age of 21 will be accepted until applicants who graduated from high schools within the past two years have been registered.

If this were done, at least our own high school graduates for whom the college was established would not be forced out while its facilities are used for outsiders and "perpetual students."

No Stunning Victory For GOP, But Proof It Can Win, If . . .

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Republican National Chairman Rogers Morton is so dizzily pleased with the latest elections that he is instantly predicting that next year the GOP will take it all — a total of the Senate, of the House and more governorships.

Discount this about 50 per cent and you will be nearer to the meaning of the voting last week.

Morton's exaggeration is not necessary to see that President Nixon and the Republican Party got a significant boost. They needed it. Because Richard Nixon is a minority President, leader of a minority party with a minority in both houses of Congress, it is crucial for him to show forward momentum and to demonstrate that presidential coattails are to grasp, not to shun.

MR. NIXON has good reason to feel encouraged by what happened.

1—The GOP added to its political strength where it counts most. It is dominant in the governor ships throughout the country. By winning in New Jersey and Virginia, there are now 32 Republican governors to 18 Democrats, and these include every big industrial state except Texas. Republican governors now rule in states comprising 65 per cent of the American people. It show that the Republican Party is eminently acceptable to the voters.

2—By winning the governorship of Virginia, the GOP turned the long-time political status quo upside down. If the Nixon administration is to have a southern strategy, this is the best kind of southern strategy because it opens the South to genuine two-party politics. There are already two other southern Republican governors — Winthrop Rockefeller in Arkansas and Claude Kirk in Florida.

3—There are lessons for the Republican Party nationally in the three most important victories — New York City, New Jersey and Virginia. In each it was a moderate-to-liberal Republican who won, and this underlined the realistic political fact that only as the GOP continues to moce somewhat to the left of its own center can it become a majority party in the nation capable of electing a majority President.

MAYOR JOHN LINDSAY'S victory in New York City shows that while conservative Republican voters in New York have enough strength to deny the nomination to a GOP liberal, they can do no better than a poor third when it comes to the election itself. Lindsay defeated both a Democratic conservative and a Republican conservative by a larger plurality than he got four years ago.

The same happened in New Jersey — only in reverse. Conservative Republicans tried to deny the nomination for governor to Rep. William Cahill, who has a moderate-to-liberal voting record in the House of Representatives. They failed in the primary, and Cahill won the election overwhelmingly, ending 16 years of Democratic rule.

In the Republican victory in Virginia, Gov. -Elect A. Linwood Holton is no conventional southern conservative. He won the endorsement of union leaders of the state AFL-CIO and a Negro organization, Crusade for Victor Voters.

IF SOME NIXON strategists thought that the best way to lift the Republican Party out of its minority status was to be soft on civil rights in the South, they are not likely to be persuasive with the President. Holton wasn't soft on civil rights. And the Republican governorship victories in the populous industrial states prove that the GOP is capable of winning where most of the voters are.

President Nixon contributed importantly to these victories. He campaigned personally in behalf of the Republican candidates in Virginia and New Jersey. You can't measure how much he helped, but if his candidates had lost you can just picture the headlines: "Stunning Defeat for Nixon."

It may not be exactly a stunning Nixon victory, but it may well be a clue of the shape of things to come.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Silent American Finds Frustration

This is the second time in my life that I have ever publicly expressed my opinion.

The first time was an hour ago when I tried to answer President Nixon's plea for the silent Americans to speak up.

I called Western Union to send my telegram. After telling the girl I wanted to send it to President Nixon, I was kept waiting on the phone for almost a full 15 minutes, first she needed a pencil and then a piece of paper. My growing anger was the only thing that kept me waiting on the phone.

I thought that all these activists want you to speak out? Perhaps so; but only if you're going to express support in their behalf.

Report Card Issue Unity Is Urged

Regarding the report card issue in the Reed School District, I appeal to all parents and teachers in the district: Let us work with reason to resolve our differences.

Having expressed our attitudes to the school board, let us now give our board, superintendent, and staff a chance to best serve our children's educational needs. We cannot resolve our differences in philosophy of education in a school library, at a school board meeting. We can, however, urge our administrator, board and staff to take the best ideas from differing points of view in seeking ways to implement a report card program — and then agree to abide by their suggestions.

Let us become an example to other school districts by showing that we are able to come to a meeting of the minds — to live in harmony with our differences. Isn't this after all the best example we can offer our children in educating and preparing them for adult life?

Telegrams Count, But Not People

After saying that he would not be swayed by group pressures regarding his decisions on Vietnam, President Nixon is reported as elated by a stack of telegrams favoring his views.

The counting of pieces of paper is to him a more reliable measure of public opinion than the counting of marching heads, no matter how impressive the number. If the pieces of paper were critical of his position and the marchers in favor, would he not be just as elated by the marchers?

Smog Secrecy Facing Court Test

I have taken notice of your Oct. 7 editorial retarding the records policy of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

As you have probably heard, a San Jose group, Citizens Against Air Pollution, will be taking the case to court within a few days attempting to gain the release of the information under the Open Records Act.

We have very little to go on in the way of case law at this point, so I will be as interested as you to see how the court will decide this one.

I have been somewhat distressed by the ever-changing excuses for non-disclosure given by the district's CAO, D.J. Callaghan He seems to have made his decision and then run to the law books in order to find a reason — any reason to justify his action. This kind of response to a public inquiry is typical.

As I understand it, the district's position is currently that certain sections of the Evidence Code relating to trade secrets and privileged communications prevent the release of the data. The court seems to indicate in cases similar to this one, involving the release of the formulas of pesticides which had been sprayed on farm workers, that the trade secret exemption is not absolute. In fact, a temporary order to release pesticide formulas, was granted despite the trade secret argument.

Really then, the whole issue is up in "the air." I doubt whether any statute could ever solve the problem and I remain confident that the basic instructions that the Open Records Act gives the court will stand us in good stead. Let's hope so!

Long Beach Spends $32 Million Of Oil Funds On Queen Mary

By HENRY C. MACARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) —It was nearly two years ago when the great Long Beach move began to finance the Cunard liner Queen Mary as a municipal project financed with state tidelands funds.

The city with a fanfare that received international publicity, purchased the old, outdated and broken down "queen of the seas" from the Cunard line in England for nearly $3.5 million, with the expectation of moving it to Long Beach in one last glorious trip, which would defray the transportation.

But even with the revenue from the trip, it still cost the taxpayers of the state $197,431 of tidelands oil money, which is financing the entire operation, according to a report of the auditor general.

ORIGINALLY, the city of Long Beach planned to have the Queen Mary ready for sightseeing and revenue producing for around 8 million, including the purchase price.

However the time that has elapsed since the rat-infested vessel limped into the Port of Long Beach has caused the original estimate to multiply again and again as was predicted when the state let the city's lobbyists get the state laws relating to tidelands changed so as to make the moves to resuscitate the Queen Mary legal.

Th auditor general of California now estimates that it will cost "at least" $32 million to convert the vessel into a hotel, convention center, tourist attraction and museum. The "at least" assumption presages the theory that the costs of conversion wil be much, much more before the city is done spending oil revenues which many people feel belong rightfully to all the people of the state, rather than the City of Long Beach.

HOWEVER, a million here and a million there apparently makes no difference where the Queen is concerned, for the simple reason that the inflow of money from the rich tideland oil lands off Long Beach apparently is inexhaustible. Also, the state legislature apparently has no compunctions about legalizing expenditures from the fund to cover matters far removed from the functions of harbor development.

Conversion of the vessel alone, the auditor-general's report indicated, has cost more than four times the price of the vessel itself, or a $14,734,563 total against a cost of $3.5 million.

Land-fill costing $1,768,377, to accommodate parking for employees, visitors, and hotel guests is no minor item in the development. The total for site development, the auditor general's report indicates, will be more than four million dollars.

LONG BEACH, bloated with public money, has no intention of stopping with the development of the Queen Mary as a convention center. The auditor-general say "other projects are in the planning stages. Other projects include bridges, some boat marinas, a swimming plaza, fishing pier, arena, auditorium remodeling, redevelopment of certain subsidence-damaged land, and the creation of many acres of filled ocean-front land."

Small wonder that some of the state's heavy taxpayers look askance at the affluence displayed by Long Beach on what many believe is money that rightfully belongs to all the state!

Lawmaker Feathers Own Nest By Defending OEO

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — For Rep. Carl Perkins, D-Ky., chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, vigorously defending the anti-poverty program a case of self-interest and feathering his political nest.

Many more millions in anti-poverty funds have been bestowed on his congressional district than on any other in Kentucky.

In the five years the program has been in operation, Perkins' district, the seventh in eastern Kentucky, has gotten more than $72 million out of a total of upwards of $251 million for the whole state.

Closest to this remarkable record is the fifth District, which has two Job Corps centers, it has received only $41,361,000.

IT IS A legitimate assumption that Perkin's being head of the Education and Labor Committee, which handles anti-poverty legislation, has a lot to do with his largely rural district being favored so signally

For weeks, Gov. Louis Nunn of Kentucky has been trying to get a hearihg before the Education and Labor Committee to air complaints against OEO. Following is an illustration:

"Before OEO," the Kentucky state executive told a bipartisan group of commiteemen, "one of our counties had 3,160 on relief. In the last several years, OEO has put around $10 million into that county — to 'eliminate poverty,' so they said. That county now has 6,500 on public welfare. I contend we cannot afford that kind of 'poverty elimination'."

Nunn's efforts to appear before Perkin's committee have been supported by influential committeemen — Reps. William Scherle, R-Iowa; Edith Green, Ore., second-ranking Democrat, and Albert Quie, Minn., second-ranking Republican.

PERKINS FLATLY balked. Finally, Scherle raised the issue on the floor of the full House.

"There are governors, state attorneys general and state auditors who have repeatedly said they want an opportunity to be heard by the committee," he said. "There have been hearings, but all the testimony was from officials of OEO. Naturally it was all favorable. There was not a single witness invited to testify against OEO, or anyone outside of the 'establishment'."

Under this public prodding, Perkins finally made a concession— of sorts. He indicated willingness to allow critics and opponents to testify — after the pending multi-billion dollar bill to continue OEO unchanged for two more years is reported to the House for consideration.

"That's comparable," retorted Scherle acidly, "to locking the barn door after the horse is gone."

PERKINS' SEVENTH district is largely rural with no big cities. Ashland, the largest, is around 40,000. Its main industry is a sizable oil plant.

Yet the adjoining sixth District, with a slightly larger population, got only one-tenth the anti-poverty funds of the Seventh. The sixth with 266,427 poor, got only $53 per capita as against $294 for the seventh with 238,120 poor.

Supervisors In Secret Meetings Flout Law And Public Interest

County supervisors told us they needed a series of secret meetings to discuss hiring and firing in Mental Health Land.

We believed them and went along with the unprecedented series of almost 10 secret meetings in four weeks.

Before and after each private session, Chairman John McInnis would assure us in sonorous tones that they would touch on nothing but hiring, firing, and charges against Doctors Miller and Wilson. County Counsel Doug Maloney and Administrator Alan Bruce likewise assured us they wouldn't think of condoning any discussion other than hiring, firing and hearing charges.

SO 10 SECRET meetings later, supervisors finally come up with several public pronouncements, and the evidence is astounding. They'd been discussing hiring and firing all right, but they'd also been making major policy decisions and agreed on drastic changes in the structure of the mental health program, all behind closed doors.

Their private, hush-hush meetings so routine and so comfortable that they forgot or ignored their responsibility to the public. They began by hearing charges against Dr. Clyde Miller and Dr. Donald Wilson but got sidetracked into policy issues. They got personalities mixed up with structure and wound up discussing the entire field of mental health — division of authority, chain of command, where outpatients should go, who should handle inpatients, the county's jurisdiction, etc.

From carelessness, a "public be damned" attitude, or from an exaggerated sense of their own importance, the supervisors (at least four of them) decided to restructure mental health services, taking outpatient services away from the hospital and bringing it under county control, all in secret. They assumed the roles of judge, jury and executioner, not only over public officials, but also over policy matters that have nothing to do with hiring, firing or charges.

EVERY WEEK, supervisors go through the tedious formality of public hearings — to raise a homeowner's tax by $10, or to abate an old barn, or to put in a stop sign — all in the name of the public's right to participate in the decision making.

Then with virtually no public hearing and not even advance notice, they decide that the county's $2 million mental health program should be split up under two separate bosses — mental health center on the one hand and the County of Marin on the other.

True, that decision is not final, but through no fault of the supervisors. It is not final only because the hospital board refused to go along. If the hospital board, meeting in secret with the supervisors, had agreed to split inpatient from outpatient, the retsructuring would have been a fait accompli, with not a voice raised in support or opposition from members of the public, mental health agencies, or the patients who use the services.

NO BOARD of supervisors, not even one that's chaired by the "father of ABAG," can consider itself so wise and omnipotent that it can discuss major policy changes such as reconstructing the mental health program, or reapportioning the county fire department cost, or allowing offshore oil drilling, all in secret with no public participation.

Why didn't the county counsel or the county administrator remind supervisors they were going beyond hiring and firing and wandering into policy? Maybe they tried, who knows? But county counsel and the county administrator are both hired by the supervisors. It's easier for them to keep quiet and acquiesce. Then, only if questioned as to legality, will they begin looking for legal and technical excuses why their bosses can restructure a mental health program in secret because it's all related to hiring and firing.

THAT WOULD BE like saying: "Well, we started out to hear charges against a disgruntled fire warden. But in the process we discovered he was unhappy because it's cold and isolated in the lookout tower. So we decided to restructure the fire department under one department for all cities and the county, and to build a heated $100,000 lookout tower for the warden, and a "copter to take him back and forth.

"Why did we do all that in secret? Well, it was all related to charges against the fire warden, wasn't it? And that is none of the public's business."

ANY BOARD which thinks it can make policy decisions in secret and then palm them off as legal by-products of hiring and firing is selling the taxpaying public short.

In this instance, the public has a right to some voice in shaping the future structure of the mental health program. If the supervisors want to split inpatient from outpatient, let them. But let them do so in open discussion, instead of by stealth and deception behind doors closed ostensibly for "hiring, firing, and hearing charges."

Will Four Horsemen Ride Again As Result Of 'Numbers Game'?

First there was a flurry, then quickly a blizzard of literature telling us of the dramatic population explosion. In the days of Christ there were estimated to be 300 million people on earth, in 1850 there were one billion, by 1925 the count reached two billion, by 1962 three billion and by 1975, it is said there'll be four billion and a mere seven years after that, five billion!

Graphs and statistics tell us of rising crime rates, of poverty and hunger, of air and water pollution and a host of other problems associated with the people boom.

AS MEDIEVAL alchemists sought to convert base metal into gold, today's scientists busy themselves seeking to convert algae into "gag-proof" edibles, or converting crude oil into tasty protein and other interesting, if not, distracting excercises—distracting, I say, because these do not serve as solutions but to postpone the inevitable. But where is the Solomon to provide us with acceptable alternatives, with liveable solutions?

We are facing a crisis. We are in a head-on collision course with brutal reality. To avert catastrophe we must first recognize it as a very real danger. The time is now, right now, for all thoughtful people to ask the impolite questions, the hard questions that snap at us like naked fangs.

IT'S A NUMBERS game we're in and it's being played with people. Playing this game is deceptive for it makes us think in terms of numbers which leads us to counting our resources, measuring space and calculating our food production, etc.—all vitally important, but not solutions for, as I've said, they are a holding action and distracting from the more cogent issues.

Masses of humanity tiered, layered and packaged in clusters of mega-cities may be brilliant examples of engineering, efficiency and organization, but that's not enough. Beehives are also models of engineering, efficiency and organization. The devastating and demoralizing effect of "high density living" (the social planners' euphemism for crammed existence) has been found in laboratory experiments with rats. Already our mushrooming crime rates, psychotic and neurotic problems indicate that man's capacity to live with dignity under high density conditions is in grave doubt.

The effect of such an existence upon the individual would be to reverse the direction and the goals that man has worked for down through the centuries. Increased governmental control would evolve into governmental tyranny. The preservation of the individual, his opportunity, his personal freedom, his need and right to privacy, his right to pursue happiness, would be smothered in a world that would tolerate nothing other than complete conformity and strict adherence to the morals and ethics of the hive.

WHEN THERE'S standing room only, quality of living loses all meaning. Ethics, morality, religion, philosophy and art as we know them will decay and the anathematic beliefs of today will be the holy creeds of tomorrow.

Nowhere in the human experience do we find the problems that come with the population densities facing us. And as the density increases the shorter will become the distance to a universal Auschwitz, a Buchenwald on every street corner of our Brave New World.

This then is the numbers game. And this is the countdown. Will man find the solution? Or will nature do its lively and deadly work? Will the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse ride again to the rescue?

Don't Write For Yearbook

WASHINGTON (UPI) —If you want a copy of the Agriculture Department's 1969 Yearbook, "Food for Us All," please don't write to the department, officials said.

Accounts of the new book's publication last week brought a "large number" of requests for the volume, but officials said they have no copies available for public distribution.

A spokesman pointed out that the 1969 yearbook, as in the case of past annuals, will be distributed through Congress and the Government Printing Office.

Each senator gets 550 copies and each House member gets 400 for free distribution to constituents. The book may also be purchased for $3.50 per copy from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Garrison In Race Again

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Flamboyant Jim Garrison, who became a center of controversy for his handling of a John F. Kennedy assassination probe, appears headed for his third four-year term as district attorney.

The 6-foot-7 Garrison easily won the Democratic nomination Saturday with 84,992 votes and will face Republican Phil Trice in the April 1970 general election.

His nearest rival, former Asst. U.S. Atty. Harry F. Connick, received 60,385 votes. Two former Garrison aides ran third and fourth, Charles R. Ward getting 7,587 votes and Ross T. Scaccia 4,523.

Connick said the Kennedy investigation might have been a major factor in Garrison's victory.

Since 1935, the cost of living has gone up 183% but typical PG&E gas and electric rates are down 13.9%. Even with the gas rate increase we've had to request, a typical gas and electric customer would get more for his money than he would have 34 years ago.

Naturally your PG&E bill is higher now than it used to be, simply because you use more gas and electricity. More energy to run freezers, dryers, washers, TV, better heating and lighting... all the comforts of modern living. PG&E

Cost of living, up 183%. PG&E rates, down 13.9%. That says it.
